Convention

KAPPA ALPHA THETA's biennial convention will open June 25, 1938, at The Essex and Sussex hotel, Spring Lake Beach, New Jersey.

New York alumnæ chapter, with the clubs of the Metropolitan region assisting, graciously has accepted the responsibilities of the executive committee, which will lead the activities of District VII as convention hostesses.

This is written while Grand Council in session after National Panhellenic congress, is deep in formulating plans to make this a grand, grand convention. Watch future issues, as today is the dead line for November copy.

Let every Theta mark the dates, June 25 to July 1 on her calendar as set aside for Theta's continental house party on the sands of the Atlantic ocean!

Fifth and Sixty-fifth!

FOR THE second time in 1937 Kappa Alpha Theta welcomes a new chapter, as Gamma Epsilon joins the ranks, standing sixty-fifth in line. Installation of Pi Sigma at the University of Western Ontario as Kappa Alpha Theta's fifth Canadian chapter took place during the week-end of September 17-19 in London, Ontario.

September 17, the members of Pi Sigma entered their chapter house as timid guests, and emerged as pledges of Kappa Alpha Theta. College members were pledged in the afternoon, alumnae in the evening, with Mrs Sinclair, Grand vice-president, presiding. After pledging, a squad of Theta workers prepared the living room for next day's initiations, and late in the evening everyone gathered at the Y.W.C.A. for an informal supper, Pi Sigmas acting as hostesses.

Next day, September 18, was crowded with history-making events; first, the initiation of 43 charter members, 21 in the morning, 22 in the afternoon, and second, the brief but impressive installation service at the Hotel London before the evening's banquet. Mrs Grasett, Grand president, presided at both initiation and installation.

Sunday was devoted to model college and alumnae chapter meetings, a spontaneous gathering of the clan at a luxurious barbecue "joint" outside town for dinner, and the tea given by Gamma Epsilon to receive its friends of college and faculty.

University of Western Ontario

WESTERN university was founded in London, Ontario, under the direction of the Church of England in Canada. It received its charter from the legislature of the province of Ontario in 1878 with its first classes in arts and medicine graduating in 1883. The Faculty of medicine has maintained an unbroken existence, but for financial reasons the Faculty of arts was closed from 1885 to 1895. In 1908 it became un-denominational and received financial assistance from the London city council. With the increase in the number of students, the province assumed part responsibility for expenses.

posed of three units: the college of arts, the medical school, and the institute of public health; and in addition has five affiliated colleges, of which three teach full four-year arts courses; viz. Assumption college, Sandwich; Ursuline college, London; Waterloo college, Waterloo; one junior college, teaching the first two years in arts only, Alma college, St. Thomas; one theological college, Huron college, London. The Institute of public health was opened in 1912 in a building erected and equipped by the government of the province of Ontario and turned over to the university to "aid medical education and promote instructional and practical work in public health." It became the first independent Faculty of public health in the British Empire in 1917.

The name was changed from Western university to the University of Western Ontario by act of the provincial legislature in 1923. The present campus, in use since 1924, is an all-year beauty spot of about 260 acres; and the college buildings are imposing.—Γ Φ Β Crescent, Feb. '37.

From Pi Sigma to Kappa Alpha Theta

EARLY IN January, 1927, Florence Brener (now Mrs Gerald Jordan of Texas) met with Miss Ruby Mason, then Dean of women, and Alpha chapter of Pi Sigma was officially organized. The first initiation meeting was May 28, 1927, at Alpha house, a girls' residence. The president, Florence Brener Jordan, presided.

The following October Pi Sigma gave its first rushing party in the girls' room at the university. Twenty-eight guests were present at this party, which took the form of a dinner-bridge.

The first Pi Sigma dance was held in April, 1929, at the home of one of the members. Yellow and white decorations, sorority colors, were used throughout the house. As the sorority increased in numbers a larger place had to be found for this annual function and now the dance is held just after mid-year examinations at the London Hunt and country club. In addition to rushing parties and formal dance, the group has a Christmas dance at the house, a graduation dinner-dance, a mother and daughter tea, open house after one of the rugby games, tea for the faculty every other year, and several smaller informal teas, given for the most part, on Sunday afternoons.

Until 1932 Pi Sigma did not have a house of its own, although most of the out-of-town girls did board together at one place. By the fall of that year it was deemed advisable and necessary that a house be run exclusively by Pi Sigma for its members. In November a formal reception was held in honor of the opening of this house.

By the following March the group had enlarged so much that a separate alumnæ chapter was formed. In the fall of 1934 the group was forced to move because of growing numbers and at this time too its four patronesses were invited to become honorary members.

This fall (1937) a third move was necessary to a still larger house on Central avenue where Pi Sigma members were initiated and installed as Gamma Epsilon chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta.

Although we are the baby chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta we hope that our ten years of experience as a local will be a real help to us in our new and larger sisterhood.

Impressions of the Week-end

By a College Delegate

WHEN Greek met Greek at London, Ontario, there was considerable and prolonged hilarity. That is, between sessions. As always the first few hours were spent squeaking joyously at old friends and greeting new ones. Everyone ran around being business-like with the all-important preparations. The first day we pledged the 43, and Saturday—I'm still dizzy—we initiated 43. But when Mrs Grasett remarked casually that she had seen 187 initiated in a day-and-a-half once, we reflected that we should feel fresh as the proverbial daisies—even if we didn't.

Impressionistic pictures flash through my head: That beautiful clanking structure, the national chain—how phenomenally those Gamma Epsilons learned to sing—the flashy flash bulbs the funny man with the camera had—thinking we would NEVER eat—wishing we had paper napkins so I could calm my Special Pre-speech jitters—not being able to smoke before we toasted the King—and later entertaining about forty in one hotel room.

Sunday morning was spent at a model meeting, where it was discovered that District IV chapters certainly prove imaginative when it comes to meetings at their respective colleges. The rest of the day we ate—the Gamma Epsilons had endless brownies. Also rugby men to offer tea-time conversation.

The whole week-end was wonderful, new and old Thetas grand as ever, and we're all glad that Gamma Epsilon has been added to our band of sisters under the pin.

BARBARA SUSSDORFF, Lambda

By a London Alumna

Gamma Epsilon has been installed. Such a thrill it gave to one old-time Theta that she is hardly down from the clouds yet. It is good to know that the initiation ceremony has power to awe and inspire even after twenty years of mature life. It is a moving experience to watch forty-three new sisters pledge their allegiance to Kappa Alpha Theta and to feel that one can commend her ideals proudly without an atom of reserve. They are charming girls. You will like them, I know. It warms my heart to see them ready and eager to carry on Theta traditions; and I feel very much like saying, "God bless them, every one!"

It was great fun to have so many Theta visitors in London. I don't need to tell you what marvelous people the Grand president and vice-president are. We had a satisfying feast of fellowship with them and the district representatives and many from Toronto.

Everything seems propitious for the future. The university has just opened with crowded classes. The authorities are friendly—the pledges promising—the new house pleasant and comfortable; and I think we may quite reasonably look for a happy and successful chapter here at Western.

MARJORIE ROSS HART, Sigma

By a Gamma Epsilon Undergraduate

One's most impressionable years are those of early childhood. Which fact, no doubt, accounts for the writing of this little message being left to the baby of Gamma Epsilon chapter. So, with my bib (a present from Iota) around my neck and my arms resting comfortably on the tray of my highchair, I begin recording my views and impressions of the proceedings which ultimately gave to the fraternity world Gamma Epsilon of Kappa Alpha Theta.

Waiting to be pledged is closely akin to waiting to be introduced to one's future in-laws. One is never quite sure what lies in store and there is always the possibility (in both cases) that the wrong thing will be said at the wrong time. Once past the grand marshal and from darkness into light, the future looked bright again—that is, bright to the extent of two lighted candles and a score of sparkling pledge pins. The feeling of strangeness and inadequacy fell away like a cloak once the pledge was taken and the pin received. No one in the circle round the pledge table seemed strange any more.

Things hidden away behind the walls of secrecy excite the imagination. But even the most fertile imagination could never have pictured the beautiful and solemn service that took place within the curtained walls of the initiation room.

Numerous instances in the initiation ceremony satisfied that universal longing for recognition of one's individuality, and offered enduring and unchanging proof that one was really a part of Theta. This feeling of durability and everlastingness was for me the most outstanding feature.

Every word had its significance; every action its purpose. When it had all ended and the charter lay safely within our walls, I knew I should never forget even the tiniest detail.

PATRICIA DUFF, Gamma Epsilon

By a Gamma Epsilon Alumna

A timid graduate of four months' standing, I was solemnly ushered into the midst of the august alumnae and told to await my turn to go through the sacred rites of pledging. A few minutes later, I felt a hand on my shoulder and a familiar voice said "Your turn now," and a little more softly, "Buck up, it isn't as bad as all that."

Suddenly there came to me the clear realization that Theta, like the dying Pi Sigma, stands, in essence, for the highest ideals of womanhood. With a new assurance, born of familiarity, I pledged myself anew to the ageless quest for those ideals, and glancing down, saw over my heart the tiny black and gold pledge emblem of Kappa Alpha Theta.

Initiation, following soon after, was a blur of white dresses, excited whispering, serious promises, curious undergraduates and a sense of comradeship with thousands of unseen friends. Then came the drop from the sublime to the ridiculous, when, as I was rapturously sending a telegram to tell an old friend all about it, a hand grasped the telephone, and a hushed voice scolded. "How in the world did you get central? The national officers had that thing put out of order for the day."

A Theta for only five minutes, and already offending national discipline! What a beginning!

Installation, the final ceremony, was for me a proud inspection of our college chapter, mixed with an intense longing to be in their midst again, to help carry the Theta badge to the front ranks of university prominence. However . . .

On with the celebrations! How important we feel when telegrams of congratulations from all over the continent are read. Hush! there is one from Reno—I wonder if any of us will ever visit there.

There is a mob in the hotel lobby waiting to greet us as we come from the banquet hall. How these Western men go for our fair visitors. Perhaps they are trying to prove just how the new chapter will be welcomed on the campus.

We hope you liked us, one and all. We think you are grand, and we are proud to be sister Thetas. To all of you, our hearty welcome whenever you can visit Gamma Epsilon.

RUTH DAVIS, Gamma Epsilon

GAMMA EPSILON'S BANQUET

This libellous picture, taken by the aid of the loudest and brightest flash ever used by a photographer, shows the new chapter and its friends waiting for food on banquet night. The bright light, not hunger, however, is responsible for that look of dreamy somnolence.

MORE AND MORE BANQUET

At top, the alumnae of Gamma Epsilon. At bottom, the college chapter. They are not nearly as tired as they look; it's that flash bulb again. They are really a wide-awake bunch, and good-looking, too. You'd shut your eyes too if somebody fired a large cannon at you. Notice the charter held by the chapter president.

The chapter house of Gamma Epsilon at 293 Central avenue is comfortable and homey. Normally it holds about seventeen girls, but for this week-end it took in loads of seventy or thereabouts (for pledging and initiation) without undue creaking at the seams. It calmly surrendered itself to the rearrangement necessary for the ceremonies, and emerged unruffled for the tea on Sunday, looking beautiful with the flowers sent by Gamma Epsilon's friends.

Everyone agreed that one of the major thrills of the week-end was the appearance of the plaque lettered "K A Θ" above the doorbell. Nobody seemed to see it arrive; it just "grewed." A similar thrill was caused by the cheerful "Theta house!" with which one of Friday's pledges answered the telephone.

* * *

Gamma Epsilon's first act on taking its place among Theta chapters was to lend its 43 voices to the singing of Fraternity, with inspiring unanimity. Then the initiates stepped from their own circle into the circle of Thetas, and the Theta Hymn rose up. It was astonishing the difference those 43 voices made in the effect of the song, and the climax they created when they sang "For thine is the service, the love and the honor; yea, thine, Kappa Alpha Theta."

* * *

The Ithaca contingent walked placidly into the Pi Sigma house late Thursday night, although they weren't expected till Friday. The inspired way in which the Pi Sigmas rose to the occasion endeared them forever to their visitors. Quicker than you could say "Gamma Epsilon of Kappa Alpha Theta" a room was engaged at the hotel for two of the guests (the delegate already having a room) and the fourth was billeted with a town member. This is only one example of the occasion-rising which Gamma Epsilon was continually and beautifully doing.

Although District IV's convention was only three months in the background, reunions were already in order. Nine or more Thetas who had been at Burlington in June staged a get-together in London, which was the occasion for many of the squeaks mentioned by the Lambda delegate in her account of the week-end. These old-timers, when last interviewed, were optimistically planning another reunion at national convention next summer, and hoped to make it an occasion for squeaking at quantities of Londonites too.

* * *

At one fell swoop the town of London, Ontario, has acquired a Theta alumnae population of about fourteen, in addition to the one Theta already living there. This calls for a club, and a club is being formed; one which will grow steadily as the London girls in the chapter graduate. An advisory board for Gamma Epsilon has also sprung into being overnight, headed by Florence McDonagh. With such strong alumnae backing the chapter should prosper, and the alumnae should have fun with such a strong chapter to back.

A Call to Colors

It is a pleasure to announce that Doris Hudson Moss has accepted appointment as Chairman of the Library project, a position vacant since Mrs Stults' resignation a year ago.

We are looking to Mrs Moss to develop Theta libraries, to continue their service so ably originated by Mrs Stults. May all Thetas, both college and alumnae, cooperate in providing a real Browsing library in every chapter house! Mrs Moss will welcome suggestions, questions, from all interested Thetas.

A letter to YOU

WHETHER your pin is brightly new, or dimmed a bit by long wearing, the spirit of Theta burns ardently in your heart. "Once a Theta, always a Theta" has become an inter-fraternity proverb, as our loyalty has become a lovable, indisputable and well known fact. This small letter is a three-alarm, extra urgent, all important call to the colors, Theta, wherever you may be, and this is why!

If we might all assemble for a round-table discussion and if the question arose—"How may the girls in the chapter houses best develop into exemplary Thetas, both mentally and spiritually?"—there would be a tremendous answer "Give them books." And oh, oh, oh, how they would love it if they could be given books.

Do you know that many chapter houses possess no books, no reference library, or library for general reading, and no adequate or comfortable place in which to read?

Wouldn't it be grand if every house had a library, student study tables equipped with student lamps and surrounded with the mellow and inviting atmosphere of books?

Do you know that many fraternities, both the men's and the women's have surpassed our own on this subject?

Do you realize that without cultural environment the members of chapters are handicapped in their desire to stress the importance of culture within their own lives?

Isn't it true that co-ed pennies jingle in the cash registers of the movies or in the Co-op for endless "Cokes"—perhaps because the house lacks interest? And what could be more helpful in developing a charming house atmosphere than a really good library? And a really good library should be a delight to many tastes and to many persons in many ways. There should be a fine dictionary, an encyclopedia (Americana or Britannica, or both) standard reference books, philosophy, psychology and religion, sociology, economics, political science, education, language, science and the useful arts, art and music, general literature, essays, poetry, drama, history, travel, biography, fiction, short story collections, and plenty of magazines. Then surround the books with good chairs, excellent light, and girls busily reading, and you have a proper Theta chapter house picture. Sounds marvelous, doesn't it? But what can I do, you ask?

Please turn this question over in your mind—"How can Theta achieve a library in every chapter house?"

A great deal of fine work has previously been done for this cause by Mrs Stultz and by Julia Merrill, Anne M. Mulheron, Eva L. Bascom, Rose Mather, Sabra W. Vought and others. Very soon a second list of books chosen by a professional librarian who is a Theta will be published. Meanwhile, how can we place these books in the chapter houses?

Will you show your Theta loyalty by writing to L. Pearle Green or to me, care of the KAPPA ALPHA THETA, and suggesting ways and means of making this worthy project possible?

Alumnae and college girls, rise to the need of Mother Theta—send in your ideas. They will be published in the next issue of KAPPA ALPHA THETA. Don't let your chapter, be it alumnae or college, be unrepresented in this friendly contest. Write today all of you.

"A library in every chapter house." Forward! Ho! Loyal! yours,

DORIS HUDSON MOSS

NPC

NATIONAL Panhellenic congress joined the ranks of alphabet organizations before the vogue for four letter titles. Did it pioneer in popularizing this new nomenclature?

Be that as it may, NPC has just completed successfully its twenty-fifth session at Beekman tower (Panhellenic house) in New York city. Not that NPC is either 25 or 50 years old; it is a "betweenner," as in pioneering years it met annually, and now for some years only biennially.

This gathering, of an official delegate and an alternate delegate from each of the twenty-three member fraternities, and, as welcome visitors, national officers of these member groups, brought together 116 fraternity workers.

Three busy, strenuous days did they spend at regularly scheduled sessions; at before, in-between, and after hours committee meetings; at conferences on problems of specific college campuses; in exchanging ideas, technique, forms; and discussing the countless details where the experience of one group is more valuable than a dozen books, the services of a score of efficiency experts, and the advice of all the office equipment firms.

Every fraternity profits by this chance for its leaders to exchange information, to become acquainted, to establish contacts that will further intelligent handling of problems as they arise. The frankness, cooperation, and camaraderie thus engendered are, though intangible, NPC's greatest contribution to fraternity progress.

High lights of the formal sessions were round table presentations of—City Panhellenic affairs, College Panhellenic affairs, General fraternity affairs. From these round tables came recommendations and suggestions which undoubtedly mean progress in all fraternity interests.

From the reports of committees which had been working for two years on specific topics came further recommendations of value. The executive committee's compilation of a pamphlet containing all these reports will prove a welcomed reference book.

Meeting at Beekman tower brought to all an appreciation of the significance of this Panhellenic house for the fraternity women of the New York area, and of its service to fraternity women from afar, while studying, working, or sight seeing in the Metropolitan district. Also, it gave all a deep appreciation of the labor, enthusiasm, and money New York Panhellenic devoted to the development of Panhellenic house. All of us are grateful to them, and wish great good luck to their refinancing plans.

Congress achieved further distinction through the splendid program at the banquet, for which the house was sold out. Many disappointed ticket applicants were unable to satisfy their curiosity to "see Grand council personalities" and lost the opportunity to hear, and see, the distinguished speakers and musicians on that program.

Thetas present were especially proud of its banquet speakers: Genevieve Jackson Earle, Alpha Kappa, speaking on women in public life, and Mary Margaret McBride, Alpha Mu, on women in radio work.

Mrs Earle was on the commission that gave New York city its new, modern charter—and, when this is read, will be, we hope, a member of the city's new council, for which position she interrupted a strenuous election campaign—six speeches already made that day, and two more to be made that night—to come to the Panhellenic banquet.

Mary Margaret McBride is the popular radio voice, known by us all as "Martha Dean."

A Magazine Agency Report

ALTHOUGH the Agency, our latest national means of aiding our Loan and fellowship fund, is celebrating only its fifth birthday this fall, you will all agree that it has proved its usefulness, and justified its brief existence by earning and sending to the fund a grand total of $4,000 since September, 1932.

Publishers predict record-breaking sales this fall, and we urge every Theta to let us enter her renewals, gift orders, or new subscriptions, any of which will mean a donation by her to the fund. We can accept all special money-saving offers made by publishers, but the offer must accompany your order. We will furnish prices on any periodicals upon request. An order blank will be found elsewhere in this issue.

We have served Thetas scattered from Florida to Washington, Hongkong to Johannesburg, but if we have not served you, won't you give us an opportunity this month? The interest of Thetas who have consistently ordered the Theta way is appreciated, and may I express our gratitude to each of them. And together, let's make 1937-1938 our banner year.

LUCILE PRITCHARD ROGERS

When President Lotus D. Coffman spoke before a far sighted Interfraternity Council at the University of Minnesota last June he urged that fraternities realize the importance of their responsibilities in promoting the purposes of the university. "The surest way for fraternities to gain the confidence of the public," he said "is to help advance constructive programs in university life and to help maintain stability of thought."—Σ Φ Ε Journal.

Recently I heard a panel discussion on "Security for women and how best obtained."

This discussion was taken part in by ten outstanding business and professional women. A doctor spoke on the health as conducive to securing the above; a woman educator on education; a lawyer on legislation; a governor's wife on public policies; a business executive on organization; an insurance woman on insurance; a newspaper woman on publicity; a government official on public position; and a personnel director on personality. This discussion was very interesting, each one bringing out the outstanding phases of their own particular subject. I was particularly interested in the personnel director's talk. She said personality was the leading thing needed for the security of women. She gave as her point: personality is physical fitness, mental alertness, emotional control, and sartorial smartness. She said the funny look was passing out, and that a good executive had 1 per cent ability and 99 per cent power to get along with other people. It certainly gave one real food for thought. It showed among a class of high business executives and professional women the difference of opinion in how we are to arrive at this economic security.

An outstanding professional woman has laid down the following three rules which she would prescribe for young women interested in a career. (1) Give full time to your profession; do one job and do it well. (2) Play as hard as you work and find fun in both. (3) Most important of all—retain your sense of humor.

Kipling has sung his prophecy of the ideal state in the lines, "and no one shall work for money and no one shall work for fame, but each for the joy of working." Since, however, the prophecy is still unfulfilled and most of us work for various reasons other than the joy of working, it behooves us to find what joy we can out of our wage earning hours.

Philosophers have told us that true culture began when one has acquired a hunger for knowledge, not for the sake of acquiring facts, but to add to the joy of understanding. —Miss Forsht at A Σ T Convention.

Two Theta Fellowship Awards for 1937-38

IT'S HARD to realize that our committee of "earnest, faithful and enthusiastic workers" has at last disbanded. For several months we have been meeting almost every week—at first to consider the new applicants as they appeared and to pick the best from each week's new ones—and, at the end, to discuss the pros and cons of each favorable applicant. It has been a difficult undertaking, and the committee has sincerely tried to pick the best qualified Thetas. I say Thetas, because towards the end when we were wondering how we could ever pick one, the Loan and fellowship committee sent word that since there were so many qualified candidates, and since money was available, two fellowships could be awarded this year!

The Fellowship committee of ten was a representative group of New York Thetas, graduates of colleges representing all parts of the country, and presenting a wide range of age, and business and professional activities. Its members were Gipsy Robinson Kimball, Pi; Marjorie Barberie, Iota; Harriette Oliver Forbes, Alpha Phi; Elisabeth McDonald, Alpha Kappa; Miriam Slocum, Alpha Epsilon; Elizabeth Clack McCaul, Alpha Beta; Mary Tracy, Lambda; Dorothy McDonald Fouquet, Alpha Kappa; Marjorie Webb, Iota; and Aileen Trimble, Alpha, chairman. It met once a week from the first of February until May 14 when the final choice was made, so you may know that serious thought and careful deliberation was given to each of the 54 applications.

Of the 54 applicants, 14 had a master's degree or its equivalent. There were 36 colleges represented. The subjects in which the candidates proposed to do further work included history, English, folklore, speech, music, business administration, education, social service, law, Bible history, art, child guidance, stage design, physical education, archeology, dramatics, personnel work physiology, obstetrics, psychiatry, economics and adult education.

The committee is happy to introduce the two Thetas selected as the recipients of these fellowships.

Mary Tom Osborne, B B & A Θ

Mary Tom Osborne, winner of the Hannah Fitch Shaw fellowship, became a Theta at Randolph-Macon, transferring to the University of Texas where she received her B.A. and M.A. degrees. She helped organize the San Antonio Theta alumnae club and was its first president. Recommendations from professors, with whom she studied, spoke of Miss Osborne's conscientiousness, enthusiasm in research, and keen analytical powers, saying she possesses to a marked degree intelligence, initiative, judgment, imagination and common-sense, backed by an alert, attractive and pleasing personality.

Mary Tom plans to continue work on the study to which she has already devoted several years, hoping to complete a volume of literary, historical and social interest—Advice to a painter: a poetic genre.

In the late 1650's an English poet brought from Italy the idea of giving advice to artists through poetry. This fad spread widely and became an important, recognized literary type, twenty such poems being known. Since beginning her work, Mary Tom has discovered 17 more such poems, and will doubtless discover many more in further research. The value of the study lies in the fact that the poems, brought together, give a vivid, detailed, and eminently human picture of historical events, religious controversies, political alignments, private scandals, and social activities of the period. Mary Tom will do work at Washington, New York, Harvard and Yale libraries, enroll at Oxford and possibly go to Italy for research.

It is practically impossible to write a staid biographical sketch about such a person as Mary Tom Osborne. She's a vivacious, red-haired young woman with sparkling blue eyes. She loves life and people. Enthusiasm has always been the keynote of her life.

Blessed with a yen for literature, Mary Tom has been constantly supplied with first hand inspiration, for such proclivities run in the Osborne family. Her father was an inveterate reader. Mary Tom, having spent many hours reading to an invalid mother, was, therefore, familiar with adult books earlier than the average child. One sister in particular, Gussie Osborne, with her notable accomplishment in poetry, served as Mary Tom's greatest inspiration. Mary Tom's published thesis for her doctor's degree will be dedicated to this deceased sister.

Mary Tom had a full high school life. Besides curriculum studies, she went in for art, expression, piano and violin. When she graduated she received her first car. "I learned to drive," she said, "by reading the directions in the book of instructions I found in the pocket of the car." In the face of such an accomplishment, this present matter of Mary Tom's delving into the mazes of early European literature, and publishing an annotated edition of sixteenth and seventeenth century poems, fades into insignificance! In the summer of 1919, at the end of her sophomore year in college, began one of the most interesting experiences of Mary Tom's life. She was invited to teach English and Math to returned, war-disabled men at Ft. Sam Houston.

"My students," said Mary Tom, "were chiefly arm and leg cases. The main idea was to keep the student's mind occupied and his spirits up. I put all of the enthusiasm of my nineteen years into it. I loved it all and kept putting off resigning to go back to college. Finally, when my students began to be post-war soldiers who had let themselves get stepped on by a horse, or something, I lost interest and entered the University of Texas for my junior and senior years, receiving my B.A. in 1923." At Texas she belonged to Pierian literary society, mandolin club, Cap and gown, Alpha Phi Epsilon, public speaking group, and Kappa Delta Pi, education society.

Since graduation, Mary Tom has been an instructor in Mark Twain junior school of San Antonio. Her principal says of her: "I consider Miss Osborne one of the most outstanding teacher personalities I have ever had under my supervision."

Her M.A. is the result of work in summer sessions, and the summers not accounted for in college have been spent in educational travel. And now Mary Tom Osborne, loyal Theta, accomplished woman, is off to win her doctorate!

Rosa Parsons, A H

Rosa Parsons, winner of the Jane Spaulding fellowship, was initiated into Theta at Vanderbilt university where she obtained her A.B. degree. Her master's degree was obtained at Peabody college for teachers. She is a Phi Beta Kappa, and was president of her chapter and delegate to the convention at Toronto.

Reflex Studios

Faculty recommendations of Miss Parsons state: "Her work was brilliant, thoughtful, meticulously accurate. She has tact, poise, grace and an honesty of purpose that is most unusual." In our opinion "no young woman had more real ability and a finer professional attitude toward her work." She is "energetic and willing to tackle difficult problems."

Rosa proposes to spend a year at Stanford university, doing psychological research work in the field of public education of school children.

Rosa entered Vanderbilt university in the fall of 1927, following in the footsteps of her aunts, Sophie and Rosa Ambrose, who were chapter members of Alpha Eta, and her sister, Sophie.

She was active in almost every group on campus, holding offices in most of them. She was also president of Alpha Eta and delegate to the 1930 convention at Toronto. She is an all-round athlete, playing on the chapter basketball team for four years.

In January, 1932, Rosa entered Peabody college, working as assistant psychologist at Peabody demonstration school while taking work for the master's degree in educational psychology, which she received in 1933.

After working at Peabody in the psychology department four years, Rosa accepted a position in Louisville, Kentucky, as assistant to the director of research for the Louisville public schools. It was during the famous flood in Louisville in January, 1937, that Rosa read of the fellowships offered by Kappa Alpha Theta and decided to try for one to enable her to study further in the fields of education and psychology.

And now a word about the other candidates. We sincerely appreciated the thought and effort spent on their applications. We hope that they will not be discouraged, and that they will make application when other Fellowships are available.

Theta's Service Project

Memorial Gifts

WHAT alumnae chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta has not been enriched by the loyalty and devotion of certain fine women? What chapter has not known the corresponding loss when death takes such members? Grief releases the bonds of worldliness and seeks to express itself in some altruistic manifestation. What finer outlet than to aid the young Theta student for whom the temporary loan of a small amount of money may mean the continuance of an otherwise interrupted college career, with all that a college career promises of increased earning ability and a more philosophic attitude towards life? What more fitting memorial than a named contribution to the Kappa Alpha Theta loan and fellowship fund?

As a lasting expression of appreciation for a splendid Theta who has passed on, no gift is too small to endure indefinitely, as periodically it is loaned again and again to generations of students who need the helping hand. If the gift is large, it may be used outright as a fellowship to a promising graduate student.

Such gifts have lately been made to the Theta loan and fellowship fund. The family of Jane Spaulding, one of the early members of Los Angeles alumnae and a member of the Loan and fellowship committee from its inception, contributed fifty dollars to be applied on the fifth Kappa Alpha Theta fellowship, known as the Jane Spaulding fellowship, which has been awarded to Rosa Parsons, Alpha Eta. Miss Spaulding's family feel deeply the honor conferred upon the memory of their dear one by the entire fraternity as they include the name of Jane Spaulding with the names of the four Founders in designating the five fellowships awarded so far by the Kappa Alpha Theta loan and fellowship fund.

Providence alumnae sent to the Loan and fellowship fund a gift of twenty-five dollars in memory of a beloved member, Harriett Warner Viall. And Ithaca alumnae instead of spending money upon the fragile loveliness of flowers contributed fifty-eight dollars to the fund in memory of Sara Bailey Sailor. Flowers? Or the fulfillment of an eager student's longing for an education? The fragrance from such a memorial far outlasts the momentary satisfaction of blossoms.

And here is another form of gratitude to Kappa Alpha Theta, a bequest from Elizabeth Whitcomb, long an active and devoted member of Los Angeles alumnae. In her will, she included the Kappa Alpha Theta Loan and fellowship fund among her heirs, and the fund was eventually enriched by $782.92, their one-eighth share of the sale of her home.

Can anyone doubt that such gifts or such bequests are a sincere eulogy and a noble memorial?

Tau—Interfraternity “Sing” Champions

‘W<sup>AY</sup> BACK in February when May is just a forlorn hope, Tau starts practicing for the “sing.” Song practices are scheduled twice a week at first and twice a day later. We learn the song phrase by phrase, and make our voices fuller and more easily controlled by a rigid vocal training. Perhaps one of the reasons we sing so much as a unit is the fact that we are treated almost as individual soloists; when one voice rasps or sings off key, it is immediately toned down and corrected.

Tau has had the good fortune of having such talented music directors that most of its songs are original in tune, words and arrangement. This factor might bear considerable weight with the judges, who are all of the music school. The biggest factor, I believe, in our “success story” is the enthusiasm and cooperation of the entire chapter. Peg Loomis this year, and Shirley Larson for two years before her, instilled confidence and the will to win into the whole group. We work for Theta and Tau, not for individual laurels; and we are very proud of the cup, which is now ours, due to our having won the “sing” for three consecutive years.

PEG McMEEKIN, Tau

A Theta Family

THE McMaster family has hung up some sort of a record in kite-flying, with five sisters, all Thetas, representing three chapters.

in Olympia, Washington.

Frances, fourth in line, went to the University of Washington, and Alpha Lambda initiated her in 1925. Frankie was secretary

Mildred and Dorothy McMaster were initiated by Alpha Sigma in 1916. In college Mildred was an athletic star, winning many laurels. She is now Mrs Louis Schaefer of Vancouver, Washington, and mother of a son and daughter. Dorothy was a member of Mu Phi Epsilon, the Y.W.C.A. cabinet, and Gamma Tau (later Mortar board). She was married in 1919, the year of her graduation, to Earle McCroskey. They are living in Tacoma and have two children.

Jessie, the third McMaster to wear the kite, was initiated by Alpha Sigma in 1923. By the time of her graduation in 1927 she had won election to Mortar board, Phi Kappa Phi, and Pi Lambda Theta. Jessie is employed in the department of public service of the Women's federation, a member of the W club, and took part in Washington's dance dramas. After graduation in 1929 she became supervisor of physical education in Vancouver, and is now Mrs Ernest Livermore, and mother of Joseph McMaster Livermore, born in February this year.

Latest of the McMaster tribe is Peggy, who went to Oregon State and was initiated by Beta Epsilon in 1930. Peggy finished at Ellensburg Normal, and is now teaching physical education and dancing in Vancouver.

The McMasters all vacationed together this summer at Ocean Park, Washington, where the picture was taken.

Early Co-ed of DePauw Recalls Opposition From Male Students

"This 100th anniversary celebration of DePauw university has been a grand affair but it just seems to me that coeducation hasn't been given all the credit due it in the program," said eighty-seven-year-old Bettie Locke Hamilton, one of DePauw's first co-eds and the Founder of Kappa Alpha Theta, yesterday as the centennial program closed here.

"Back in the fall of 1867 when I enrolled in DePauw, or rather Indiana Asbury as it was called then, with three other young women, the men were opposed to having 'females,' as they called us, sign up in their classes. We four girls were watched all through our university days, and we didn't know it, but educators throughout the country watched our progress, for we were laying the groundwork of coeducation on a widespread scale."

She recounted the approach made by herself and the late Alice Allen Brant, Mary Simmons Crawford and Laura Beswick McKaig in becoming the "first co-eds."

"There were eight boys who stood by in that fall along with the editor of the Greencastle Banner, George J. Langsdale. They fought for us, and the next term seven more girls matriculated and the succeeding year there were twenty. Soon after this other schools admitted girls."

Mrs Hamilton originated the idea of an organization of girls molded along similar lines to the young men's fraternities. In 1870, after intensive planning and work, the new girls' group—Kappa Alpha Theta—appeared in public wearing the kite-like pin.

"I still get a lot of fun out of the sorority, going to conventions in all parts of the country. I hope I'll be able to continue 'gadding about' with the girls from other chapters. It helps keep me young."

Mrs Hamilton was graduated from DePauw in 1871 and has lived most of the time since in Greencastle. She said it was the encouragement she received from her father, the late Dr John W. Locke, who held the chair of mathematics in old Asbury for many years, that led to her becoming the first "female" graduate of DePauw.—Indianapolis News, June 15.

NBC Personalities— Helen Stewart, Beta Iota Chapter

The devious route which brought Helen Stewart to her present position of assistant and secretary to Arthur Garbett, Educational director of NBC's Western division, includes a wide variety of artistic and educational enterprises. It is not only her cultural attainments, however, that makes Miss Stewart such a valuable person in her field, her highly developed capacity for organization and the efficient manner in which she directs her volatile energy toward executive undertakings are the characteristics which enable her to assist in the coordinating of a vast amount of material into the valuable series of broadcasts that represent NBC's Educational department. . . .

Helen Stewart graduated from the University of Colorado with the intention of filling a diplomatic post, which had been secured for her with the assistance of local Congressmen. Upon her graduation, however,

Helen changed her plans and entered Columbia university school of journalism.

After two years at Columbia an opportunity came to experiment with a theory of teaching creative dancing to children. For three years Helen conducted three separate schools of dancing in New York and Philadelphia. From then on things moved rapidly, beginning with a New York vacation in which she went on the stage as substitute for an actress and made such an impression on visiting producers that three contracts were offered her before she could even catch her breath.

Her success on the stage was a matter of continuous surprise to Miss Stewart, since acting was a profession in which she had neither training nor experience. Refusing an offer with Eva LeGallienne to play Ibsen in the Civic repertory theater she signed a double contract with Kenneth McGowan and Guthrie McClintock, with whom she played in J. P. McEvoy's play God loves us on Broadway, which is no mean achievement for a girl who had failed to make the grade in her college dramatic club.

While she was still on the stage in New York she was offered a position in Hollywood as a writer of special publicity for Hal Roach. Feeling that her Broadway experience might still turn out to be all a dream, she accepted the Roach proposition and came to the West Coast, where she has remained ever since.

In 1932 Miss Stewart joined the San Francisco NBC staff as an assistant in the music library. This was not her first contact with the National broadcasting company, however, for during the years she was in New York she had prepared for the Continuity department a number of plays for radio production, including Emperor Jones and The ladder.

Not all her activities are confined to her office, as she is often called upon to do field work for the Education department. She has addressed more than 6,000 women at club meetings, and made curtain speeches at the War memorial opera house in San Francisco on Mr Garbett's musical education projects. She also serves on child welfare committees and is a tennis fan, although her principal interest outside of her work is the question of women's rights.

One of her favorite programs, and one in which her unusual executive ability and talent for organizing has had full play, is Your Government at your service, heard over the Pacific coast NBC-Red network. Helen has had a large part in the development of this broadcast, and takes justifiable pride in its growing popularity and the service it renders to listeners.—NBC Educ. & Agric. advance prog. serv. ## Martha Jane Dawson Grows Plants with Freak Water Culture System

Imagine growing giant tomato plants in a shallow pan of water! Not a "Jack and the bean stalk" fairy legend but the latest gift of science—

A freak gardening formula which took Martha Jane Dawson all the way to the University of California to get tips from an expert.

Now Prof F. W. Gericke, plant physiologist, is referring his numerous inquiries from the middle west to this clever Tulsa miss, who has recently installed her own greenhouse at Forty-seventh street and Peoria avenue.

Just inside the glass inclosure spreads a double row of what might be mere plant boxes. But lift the frame and there are shiny pools of water to supply the needed food values. Plant roots dangle from mesh wire supported at the stalk base by loose excelsior, peat moss, and a bit of sawdust.

"We just planted those about 10 days ago," Miss Dawson declared, pointing to the small sprigs entwined about strings suspended from the roof. "The average time required for maturity is 120 days. They grow clear up to the roof and back down again."

Whereas, the common tomato plant bears from three to five pounds, the water variety as Miss Dawson is growing it will yield up to 15 pounds. Of course, she will tear out the plants during the summer months because the temperature will be too high, but in September will come another planting with a nine months' yield.

And Miss Dawson looks so handy about the greenhouse—just seems she has a natural knack for handling plants. In her gay garden frock she moves about the boxes, adding her personal touches or directing the caretaker.

"No, I never studied this kind of work in college except for one class in greenhouse work, but I liked it very much," she explained. It has developed into a cross between a hobby and a business enterprise. She doesn't expect to make any money this spring—it's more of an experiment this season, but next fall it will be "strictly business."

Maybe you can have your own little truck garden right in the basement—just step down and pick a few greens and fresh vegetables.

Not fantastic when you consider today there are tomato plants 25 feet high, with fruit from one end to the other, or 20-foot potatoes with hundreds of white tubers. Professor Gericke got such results and created a furore in the plant world.

Compared to the 120 bushels per acre on the average farm, Gericke potatoes made an acre crop of 2,465 bushels.—Tulsa Daily World, Apr. 4, 1937.

Martha Jane Dawson is an alumna of Beta Zeta chapter.

Carnival

The lodge at South View Farm, the summer home of Mr and Mrs Clarence N. Greer, was gay Saturday afternoon with the festivities of the Kappa Alpha Theta carnival.

Major features of entertainment were created within and around the lodge. Attractions were the penny arcade, gypsy fortune teller, fish pond, trick photography and dart games.

For the final merriment the sideshow held many weird and uncanny freaks such as the heads of Bluebeard's seven wives, the Oriental snake-charmer, the two-headed lady, fat lady, bearded woman, and others which were introduced by Jane Clark who was master of ceremonies in the person of a clown.

Usual carnival feasting of peanuts, hot dogs, ice cream and pink lemonade were dispensed from booths appropriately decorated and intermingled with the other attractions.

Colorful posters, balloons, flowers and banners contributed to the gaiety of the occasion. Mary Ann Turner attired as a barker aided in promoting the sideshow and other events.

Kappa Alpha Theta's guests at the carnival were girls who are entering college this fall.—Dayton, Ohio, News.

Thetas, Phi Gams Win Sing-Song

Before a good-natured audience that signalized true interfraternity spirit with generous applause, Kappa Alpha Theta and Phi Gamma Delta took first places for sororities and fraternities, respectively, in the Interfraternity sing-song at Hogg memorial auditorium last night.

Second places went to Chi Omega, for sororities, and Beta Theta Pi, for fraternities. Loving cups were awarded each of the four organizations by Dean V. I. Moore, dean of student life and master of ceremonies.

The first-place winners have been invited to participate in the first two programs of a series of broadcasts to be known as the "Night club of the air" over KNOW. The Phi Gams will appear on the first program Wednesday, March 10, and the Thetas, on March 17. A twenty-five-piece band, composed of members recruited from local orchestras will furnish accompaniment for the singers.

Winning songs were: Kappa Alpha Theta, Theta Who and Theta Spirit; Phi Gamma Delta, Here's to good old Delta, and Sing me a song of college.—Austin, Texas.

Professor's Wife Wins Degree, With Honors

The most unusual co-ed on the University of Iowa campus is Mrs Lee Travis, mother of three husky boys. She and her husband celebrated their nineteenth wedding anniversary a week ago.

Mrs Travis is more than a married woman who went back to school. She made such an outstanding record scholastically that even her brilliant scientist-husband, Prof Lee D. Travis who heads the university's psychology department, sat up and took notice.

"And that's just what I wanted Dr Travis and the boys to do," Mrs Travis confided. "I made up my mind that I wouldn't be the only one in the family without degrees or honors, so when the youngest boy, Duane who is 10, started to school, I found time to complete my college work."

Sitting in the drawing room of her home, Mrs Travis smilingly related how she completed the regulation college course in three and one-half years, earned Phi Beta Kappa honors and at the same time mothered her family and kept her large home immaculately clean.

She also has found time to become one of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority's most active members. She is a member of Zeta Phi Eta, honorary speech fraternity and last week was elected to Purple Mask, honorary theatrical organization at the university.

Charming and with a schoolgirl complexion that belies her prematurely silvered hair, Mrs Travis was one of the most sought after girls on the campus when rushed by sororities in the 1933 fall rushing season.

"I had more fun," she said. "After I was pledged I went through everything the freshmen did and had a wonderful time."

Mrs Travis received her degree in February and is now doing graduate work in dramatic arts. She laughs gaily while picturing herself in cap and gown at the convocation last winter.

"There in the front row were Dr Travis and the three boys. Every time I moved they would nudge each other and wink. It was quite a show for them to see mother at last getting her degree."—Des Moines Daily Register.

Beta Omicron chapter is proud to claim Mrs Travis as a member.

Travel

A foreign country for me has great appeal. I enjoy observing the customs of other people, their mode of living, the expression of their culture and history.

Texas has at its door a foreign land of romance and charm. To experience its equal in contrast to our American standardizations it is necessary to take an ocean voyage which, to many, is a serious drawback. . . . Jump in your car. Drive a few hours, cross a short bridge over the Rio Grande, and before you lies a country and people of which we know less than we have learned of far off Europe, and slightly more than of China or Japan. A civilization of mysterious origin and great antiquity—impressive and stirring history—magnificent scenery enriched by picturesque costumes—a life partly Spanish, but firmly rooted in the Indian traditions of the capable Aztecs and touched by intriguing suggestive traces of an oriental influence in the distant past.

Silver is the symbol of the struggle of the Spanish and the Indians in the New World. Silver lured Cortez over the seas, through the jungles of the tropics, up the steep mountains to battle with Montezuma. It is quite fitting, therefore, that the first fifty or one hundred miles of the Pan-American highway, as it leaves the Rio Grande, are paved with silver, a poor grade of silver ore being used in the road. After the usual asphalt topping the silver still glistens in the brilliant sunshine.

If you wish a complete change, a whiff of fresh mountain air, a gorgeous view at night of the thousands of lights of a large city below you several thousand feet, stop at Chipinque, eight miles from Monterrey and just a short way from the top of one of the rugged mountains. Nestled in a beautiful forest, the rock cottages with tile floors, large fireplaces to take the chill from the night air, are a joy after leaving the summer heat of Houston earlier the same day.

Those who have been to Monterey, California, founded by the Spaniards early in the seventeenth century, may wonder at the difference in spelling. If they have been so fortunate as to visit the exquisite Spanish courthouse in Santa Barbara—said to be one of the finest public buildings in the United States—they will recall the striking painting of the Count of Monterrey covering one of the walls. The artist spelled the name like the town in California, then evidently discovering his mistake went back and inserted the second "r" above the first one. Thus, although both towns were named for the same man, Californians through the years have evidently lost one of the "r's" while their leisurely Latin brothers continue to take the time to spell it as did the original Count.

Enroute a part of a day should be spent browsing around the Indian village of Tamazunchale. Life here has changed but slightly in the past three hundred years. It is fascinating to skip back through so many centuries even for a brief few hours.

The section around Tamazunchale is colorful. The mountains are cultivated in irregular squares and patches almost to the very top. The luxuriant tropical growths are cut and burned. On this rich soil the Indians drop corn in holes made by a stick poked into the ground. These small plots alternate up and down the mountains with the natural vegetation. A great variety of color results.

This section reminds one of Switzerland and the small cultivated fields along the sides of its mountains. For many miles it is difficult to believe that this is not some of the finest scenery of Europe. Other portions of these mountains take on other aspects. These fascinating vistas follow in quick succession which makes this seventy miles and these few hours a lasting memory.

In contrast with the primitive Indian civilization, Mexico City offers the sophistication and cultural advantages of a great world city. A colony of most of the important nations are resident and each has its distinctive club such as the English, the German, the American and the Spanish clubs.

Mexico, with its beauty, its historical background, its antiquity, and best of all its proximity, offers everything to Texans who would travel. And so my desire for foreign travel is thoroughly satisfied by a trip to Mexico.—River Oaks Magazine, July, 1937.

Dorothy Haugh, Tau, on Bowes' Hour

Dorothy Lee Haugh of Omaha will be on Major Bowes' radio amateur hour tonight when the major salutes this city over the CBS chain.

Miss Haugh, a soprano, is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Jesse L. Haugh, and an Ak-Sar-Ben princess of 1935. Her father is a vice-president of the Union Pacific.

One hundred and six stations will carry the program which will be heard locally over KFAB.

Miss Haugh, a graduate of Northwestern school of music, is in New York studying voice at the Juilliard school of music, under Lucia Dunken. Unless she receives a radio contract through her appearance on tonight's program, she will continue to study at the New York school, her parents said. She is particularly interested in going into radio work.

Miss Haugh will be heard at the city hall tonight when the city celebrates 25 years of commission government.—Omaha paper.

Unique: Two Thetas make the August 30 issue of Time! Mrs Ferguson, A O, Helen Jacobs, Ω.

Son's Retort

Mrs Walter Ferguson learned about the newspaper business when she went, as a bride, to Cherokee, Oklahoma, where she helped her young husband run the weekly Republican. She learned about the home when three rapidly growing children came to the Fergusons. She combined the fruits of both experiences to write a column, "From a Woman's Viewpoint," which has been a successful feature in the Scripps-Howard dailies for more than a decade. Her column is a spirited, folksy discussion of anything that pops into her mind, from jelly-making to the problems of business girls.

Last week Mrs Ferguson learned how a son feels about having a columnist in the family. Benton Ferguson, now 27, in the advertising department of Scripps-Howard's Fort Worth Press, wrote for his paper an intimate sketch of his mother which ran alongside her column:

"She owes me $10,000, at least, for acting as a guinea pig for her column for the past 15 years. First I got the brunt of her theories on how to raise children; next, I was the wild younger generation; then I was a youth caught in the clutches of a depression; then I was a young married man, and now that I'm a father I suppose the cycle will start all over again.

"Just to get even, here's some of the things she doesn't write about. She's 49. She plays bridge, and draws to inside straights in poker games. She reads all the time, even at the table.

"She used to spank her children entirely too much, and in spite of all she's written about raising children, her daughter, 20, and youngest son, 14, are ornery as the dickens.

"The only thing she can cook worth a darn is slaw with bacon grease on it, and they tell me that's fairly simple. Her kind of car driving makes Tulsa mothers keep their children in, and pedestrians slink up back alleys. She can't sew very well. . . .

"But she has one great redeeming feature, and that one is her oldest and boldest son."

Tennis

Wightman Cup. The only thing that could be said in favor of a weak British team's chances against a strong U. S. team was that none of this year's British players was married and they would therefore, presumably, have no worries about absent husbands. True, two of the U. S. tennis players—Alice Marble and Carolin Babcock—had sore backs and Helen Jacobs, in the year since she lost the U. S. singles championship to Alice Marble, had dislocated her thumb, torn a shoulder ligament and banged her knee with a racket. But pretty Kay Stammers was not feeling in top form either and she was the mainstay of the British (Wimbledon Champion Dorothy Round stayed at home). In the first day's play at Forest Hills last week, Alice Marble beat Ruth Mary Hardwick, Helen Jacobs beat Kay Stammers and Sarah Palfrey Fabyan and Alice Marble won a doubles match from Evelyn Dearman and Joan Ingram. With seven matches scheduled and the U. S. leading 3-to-0, the U. S. had a chance to clinch the Cup in the second day's first match, in which Miss Jacobs was to play Miss Hardwick.

For one set it looked as though someone else would have to do the clinching. Miss Hardwick hit the ball harder than Miss Jacobs. She had also an excellent backhand but a bad tendency to wait for a dropping ball on her forehand. She kept Miss Jacobs so busy chasing fast, net-skimming drives close to the lines in the first set that she won it in spite of her unorthodox forehand style, 6-2. Then Helen Jacobs got her famous chop working, sent her opponent an endless procession of floating teasers, worried the second set away from her, 6-4, ran out the third, 6-2, for the match and the seventh U. S. Wightman Cup victory in a row.

Reunion of Nine Thetas

All Members of 1917 M.U. Class Back to Meet Old Friends

Columbia, Mo. June 26.—Tomorrow will bring to a close a three-day house party which includes nine Kappa Alpha Thetas who walked from the sorority house to the graduation ceremonies twenty years ago this month.

Other members of the sorority who knew this group well joined them at the Tiger hotel to celebrate the reunion. Of the group, all but one are married. Among the nine there are no widows either by divorce or death.

The attendance of the nine who have kept in touch by a round-robin letter is 100 per cent. The entire three days has been one of joyous meetings as many friends who neither graduated in this class of 1917 nor were members of the sorority have dropped in to see these loyal Missourians. Tomorrow is open house for the group.

Ethelyn Neff is the chairman of the reunion, and for six weeks she sent out circular letters and clever cards urging all to keep the dates of June 24 to 27 free. The last letter gave instructions as to what they should wear. No pets, such as children and husbands, were to be allowed. At the party each of the nine was asked to bring one dinner dress, and all the old and new pictures that could be found of self and family.

The first meeting was a luncheon Thursday noon and the final roundup will be a breakfast tomorrow morning.

The Thetas of the class of 1917: Ethelyn Strodman Neff, Kate Child Bain, Jane Quayle Stewart, Helena Wilbur Frank, Anne Stewart, Leonore Woodward McPheeters, Dera Dulaney Bridges, Dorothy Blanks Miller, Winifred Limmerick Totel.—K. C. Star.

Alumnæ Group News

Appleton alumnæ has started an annual fifty dollar fund to be given at the end of the freshman year, equally divided, to the freshman of Alpha Psi having the best scholastic record, and the one making the biggest improvement in her scholarship.

Lincoln alumnæ had a luncheon in September where the mortgage on Rho's chapter house was burned. Clearing this chapter house of debt in twelve years, it was built in 1925, is a triumph for intelligent planning and good management.

April 17 Kappa Kappa Gamma alumnae in Wenatchee, Washington, sponsored a Panhellenic luncheon for all fraternity women in that neighborhood. Attendance was more than 100, including all the Thetas in the district: Alpha, Della Delvin; Iota, Carrie Warner Flood; Alpha Lambda, Ruth Field Kerns, Sara Buchanan Bolinger, Marjorie Paton Miller, Harriett Field Beaulieu, Jean Vermilya, Frances Field, Ruth Hine; Alpha Sigma, Kathleen Dawson Foster, Carolyn Krollpfeiffer; Alpha Omega, Sally Sanderson. Mrs Foster sang and Miss Delvin won the prize for having been a fraternity member the longest time. Miss Delvin was initiated by Alpha in 1882.

Evanston alumnae entertained in October for Tau pledges and their Mothers, and also had a benefit bridge tea for the Loan and fellowship fund.

A new Theta club was organized last spring by the Thetas living in Chicago suburbs to the west, there being 86 Thetas in those towns. At the second meeting they had both the Grand president and the District president as guests, and planned for a delegate to the District convention. Any Theta wishing to join this group is urged to get in touch with Kay Kelly, 534 S. Kensington ave. La Grange, Ill.

St Louis alumnae reports giving a successful rushing party for Alpha Iota, and that the corporation has redecorated and refurbished the furniture of that chapter's rooms in the Women's building of Washington university.

Seattle alumnae reports missing the charm and efficiency of Mrs Cochran, District president, resigned because family moved to Chicago. The alumnae chapter invited all Thetas of the region to a farewell tea honoring Mrs Cochran. The chapter has established an annual scholarship award of $100 for a partially self-supporting senior in the Home economics school of the University of Washington.

Berkeley alumnae treated itself to an Italian dinner, similar to the ones it has been contributing to Omega rush seasons in recent years. And then it gave a lovely tea for Omega's sixteen pledges.

Washington alumnae is starting its twentieth year with plans developed at an October tea for eight meetings—a concert, a picnic, a dance, and teas and suppers with well-known speakers to discuss books, travel, current events.

New Orleans alumnae saw its adopted high school girl graduate in June in a dress the chapter provided, as well as making her other gifts. Then it celebrated by entertaining the children of alumnae, and in the fall served refreshments for an Alpha Phi chapter rush party.

Sacramento Valley club reports an opening meeting with seventeen enthusiastic members present, and summer vacation talks that took them up in the air, to other states, on auto trips, and to South America. The chapter regrets the loss of Stockton members, who are this fall forming their own separate club.

Birmingham, Michigan, club "thinks it has a grand club," to which it is continually adding new members.

Cincinnati alumnae has had an exciting summer, for it has formed a house corporation, bought a home for Alpha Tau, redecorated this house, and saw to its furnishings. Funds for all this development came from the college and alumnae chapters and Alpha Tau's generous Mothers' club. In addition the alumnae gave a formal progressive rushing dinner for Alpha Tau, then started their own club year with a luncheon and bridge at the new chapter house with June graduates of Alpha Tau as guests.

WILLIAM O. HOTCHKISS, president of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, and a member of  $\Sigma N$ , says of fraternities: "In the preparation for living which the four years devoted to college should give, one of the most important things is the ability to live understandingly with others, to be able to meet all kinds of people pleasantly and effectively, and to influence them in a way that wins their high regard and confidence. A man who gets great satisfaction out of his life must be able to meet the laboring man and his wife with understanding and appreciation of their problems, and he must be able to meet, with the same understanding and appreciation, the chairman of the board of directors and his wife.

"In the fraternity, the student has the opportunity to meet, under the most favorable circumstances, other students from all kinds of homes, those of high culture and those of little cultural background, those with the advantages and disadvantages of wealth, and with the advantages and disadvantages of poor homes. My ideal for the fraternities is that they should consciously stress the value of this opportunity to know a wide variety of men and take full advantage of this opportunity to learn to 'give and take' as they must do in their years after college."—Reprinted from the "Rainbow" of Delta Tau Delta.

A HIGHLIGHT at the 15th National and Fourth International convention of  $Z T A$  held June 26-30 at the New Ocean house, Swampscott, Massachusetts, was the initiation of Faith Baldwin, noted novelist and short story writer, and Judge Ellen K. Raedy of Washington, D.C. The custom of honor initiation dates back to 1912. Miss Baldwin who lived in New Canaan, Connecticut, is one of the best known literary figures of today, and Judge Raedy is the third woman to be appointed to a federal judgeship in the Court of Records—and the second to be so appointed in the District of Columbia.

MARY WRIGHT BROGAN, from the University of Texas is the thirteenth member of her family to belong to  $A \Delta II$ . Her mother, four aunts, and seven cousins are all members. One of her aunts, Mrs Martha Sperry, at Houston, Texas, is a former national president of  $A \Delta II$ .

SIGMA ALPHA IOTA is offering a choral composition award contest for American Women composers. Four classes of work will be considered including larger choral work with orchestra accompaniment; a cappella work for women's voices; shorter work with accompaniment, for women, and a Sigma Alpha Iota song or hymn. The contest is open to all American women composers with the exception of the Sigma Alpha Iota song. The prizes range from $100 to $350 each.

THE National Council of Kappa Delta is a very interesting one. Thelma Chisholm, National president, has recently been appointed to a position in the Seattle, Washington high school system; Frances Jones, newly elected national vice-president, is a faculty member at Ohio State university and is the only woman in the United States to have held the Carnegie Fellowship in Alumni relations; Edna Sommerfeld, former province president at large and newly elected national secretary is connected with the extension service at the University of Vermont; and Clementine Newman, national editor, has been appointed social director at Raymond hall at the University of Nebraska.

THE EARLY days of  $A \Xi \Delta$  were told to those attending the national convention at Old Faithful inn, in Yellowstone Park, for the first time by two founders—Mrs Louise Block and Mrs O. C. Evans. Both founders made the trip aboard the convention special and remained throughout the week. The theme of the fraternity centered around fraternity problems, the ideals of the fraternity, its future as a whole, and through Panhellenic eyes. This theme was carried throughout the program in informal talks, convention addresses, round table and individual conferences.

FROM THE Delta Upsilon Quarterly come some very interesting statements by Marsh W. White, former director of scholarships. He says, "Fraternities which are alert to changing conditions in the administration of chapter life are increasingly following the lead of Delta Chi in recommending the use of a tutorial adviser system. It is recognized that if the fraternity system is to survive our chapters must offer prospective pledges (and their parents) much in addition to room and board, even more than the lasting friendships based on fraternal bonds. The social prestige which was once a reason for coveting fraternity membership is now a minor factor. Consequently, fraternities are finding that a cultural atmosphere in their chapter homes is now one of the chief advantages which they can offer prospective members and one which cannot be found elsewhere. The tutorial adviser is a great help in developing and maintaining such an atmosphere. . . .

He is not presumed to act primarily as a tutor (save possibly in a few subjects) to individual students, except as he may be called upon incidentally to straighten out difficulties met by various members in their attack upon their work. He is by no means to be confused with the conventional "cramming tutor," although he may find it desirable to arrange for tutoring classes, led by older members of the chapter or selected outsiders. His duties are not, in general, directed toward individuals, as much as in the direction of stimulating a generally high scholastic morale throughout the chapter. The mere adoption of the plan will, of course, have a high psychological tendency toward the establishment of finer ideals of scholarship among individual members and the chapter as a whole. In no case is he to act as a "policeman" in the administration of his duties. The adviser must be selected with extraordinary care, as the success or failure of the plan depends almost entirely upon the qualities of the person obtained. Frequently the fraternity recommends that the adviser be preferably not an alumnus of the chapter—indeed, he need not be a member of any fraternity. He should certainly be an individual of unquestioned moral character, with the ability to inspire, of cultural background, with physical virility and interested in the varied activities of college students. It is desirable that he should be old enough to secure respect; but not too old to understand the present day student point of view. He must have an enormous amount of tact and a real enthusiasm for and confidence in his work. He must be vested with sufficient authority so that his position in the chapter is recognized, but should not exercise his authority arbitrarily."

SIGMA ALPHA MU has undertaken a German refugee project, whereby it has selected seven German Jewish students, secured their admission to American universities, housed them in its chapter houses, and raised funds to pay for their expenses as students here.

At the 1935 convention, proposals for alumnae reorganization were adopted for a two year trial period. These plans having proved successful during this time, were made a permanent part of Alpha Gamma Delta's organization at this year's meeting. The reorganization

IN A setting of pine covered mountains, two hundred and sixty Alpha Gamma Deltas convened in July for their 15th biennial convention at Troutdale-in-the-Pines in Colorado. For the first time the new International award to the chapter showing the greatest improvement in scholarship within a year was presented. The chapter at the University of Oregon was the recipient. This convention resulted in the adoption of several new plans.

changes included the elimination, for alumnae chapters and clubs, of all international and province dues; the discontinuation of dues paid by an alumna to an original chapter after affiliation with a sister chapter; the payment of international life membership dues at the time of initiation into the fraternity; and the establishment of an international reunion date held each spring in localities geographically convenient.

Theta's Rising Sculptor

THE HAPPY gift of making from a lump of lifeless clay a form of beauty and living radiance belongs to Mary Savacool, a young sculptor, an alumna of Alpha Kappa. Long having had a desire to model things from clay, she determined, upon graduating from college, to try out her urge to become a sculptor. Mary knew that she possessed the urge, and she and her teachers soon found that she had what is much rarer—a marked ability.

Mary received her A.B. in French at Adelphi college in 1932. The following winter she entered the college of architecture at Cornell university and from the moment she began to work there with clay she knew that she had found her true field. She received her B.F.A. in 1936 and soon opened a studio at 107 Seventh street, Garden City, New York, where she pursues the work she has so long wanted to do. Her studio is a delightful place, set about with a fascinating array of statues, busts and plaques, and furnished with a studio couch (the first time this Philistine has ever seen a studio couch in a studio) and a book-case cabinet with available tea-things. Adjoining is the work room where Mary keeps armatures, clay and tools. Here she models her figure and may make a plaster cast of it. If it is to be finished in bronze, however, she sends it away to be cast.

The most imposing piece in the studio is called The three Graces. In this group three lifesize female figures stand back to back, in a natural and charming pose. In their easy stance they recall the caryatids of the Porch of the Maidens. The Graces are not forced to support a roof on their heads, however; they are designed to be the central group for a fountain in a formal garden. Another fountain figure is the little Pool baby, so appealing that she goes to one's heart at once. With one toe dipped courageously into the water and a hand held up to feel the spray, her face registers profound dismay at the icy temperature of the water, and its surprising wetness. Of a very different sort, but no less skillfully done, is the small figure of a Russian dancer, Prince Igor. The sculptor has caught the "moment of rest" that precedes action; the dancer stands on one foot; in his hands a bow stretches taut and an arrow is ready in the next moment to be loosed. The figure is the epitome of rhythm, action and life. A contrast to this in their relaxed, restful poses are a male torso and a female nude, Dawn, which show as do The three Graces Mary's ability to reproduce the human form with life and feeling.

Though she spends most of her time on "impersonal" statues, Mary likes to do portraits, and she does them well. A head of her father is at once a fine likeness and a splendid piece of modelling. At present Mary is working on a head of her mother, and to hurt none of her family's feelings she has made a captivating portrait of her dog, Victor. Dogs are, by the way, favorite subjects with this young sculptor, and the visitor to the studio comes upon several delightful bronze or plaster pups.

Mary's first chance to exhibit in a large art show came this fall. She was represented in the annual exhibit of Southern Vermont Artists, held at Manchester. The exhibit lasts ten days, and is visited by thousands of summer people, "natives," and critics from the larger city newspapers of the East. Her entries consisted of three pieces, the Pool baby, a fetching bronze group of Irish setter pups, and a pair of book-ends with the profile of a horse's head in relief. Her showing was admirable and received laudatory comment from many.

Thetas in and about New York can get a glimpse of Mary's work at the Ferargil Galleries, 63 East Fifty-seventh street where the Pool baby is on display. They are welcome, too, to make the trip to Garden City to see Mary's sculpture or to watch her at work. They will find her hospitality itself.

Though thoroughly devoted to her work, Mary has plenty of time to be interested in other things. She is recording secretary of the Theta Long Island alumnae club and a member of the alumnae advisory committee of the Adelphi College placement bureau, where she helps young women with a bent towards the fine arts. As an undergraduate member of Alpha Kappa, she was adopted by Iota, and we all feel particularly proud of her. As the critics say of promising first novelists, "She will bear watching."

Conventions

District III

THRILLED we District III Thetas were, partly by these reports, much more by attending our own convention, held June 23 to 25 at Catawba Cliffs Beach club on Lake Erie. Under the guidance of Mrs Sinclair, Grand council's representative, and Mrs Brown, District president, customary discussions and routine business loomed second in importance to the friendly, congenial spirit of the eighty-four Thetas present. If our discussions failed to completely cover the convention keynote, "Theta ideals in modern living," our attitude truly evidenced its real meaning.

Most of us arrived via auto Wednesday afternoon. We registered, and had one of those brain teasing exams before they'd give us our identification badges—captivating black and gold kites (good for rush party favors) with one's name and chapter on the chevron.

Hurriedly surveying our rooms, we dabbed on a bit of powder and stepped down to the lobby for tea, hostessed by Toledo alumnæ. General impression: proverbial MacDonald's farm—"with a buzz buzz here and a buzz buzz there." We adjourned with just enough time to dress for dinner. And did we dress! In our bestest best of days gone by. A bee-u-t-full creation—no doubt by Vionnet—won the prize.

Of course, meetings were always on time! Take Thursday morning, for instance. Gamma deuteron members (probably thinking there would be a fine for lateness) arrived an hour before schedule to put on a model meeting, found only a few brave souls taking a morning dip, and waited an hour and a half for the rest of us Thetas to arise and fill our hungry selves. A general discussion of Theta values followed, and before adjournment for college and alumnæ round tables, two former District presidents, Jessamine DeHaven Lewis of Pittsburgh and Gladys Lynch of Detroit were introduced.

The alumnæ—on one side of the room at luncheon—really showed up the college girls—on the other side—in singing. But then (a poor excuse is better than none) they had the song chairman for a leader!

Discussion in the afternoon centered around life membership. Later we co-eds compared notes on ritual, finances, and rushing; while the alumnæ discussed ways and means of helping us. Some free minutes before dinner provided time for a dip, boat ride, or that much-needed nap.

Meals were masterpieces. A thick sirloin steak covering the plate, or a whole half fried spring chicken will lure even Thetas from business sessions, and when you get any number of side dishes, too—well, words can't express it. A meagre vote of thanks to the French chef is about the best we can do.

Stunts, in charge of Detroit alumnæ, went off with a bang—literally. (Any in doubt see Margaret Carlin, Columbus alumna.) Variety prevailed. St Peter (in the person of the Beta Pi prexy) indicted our popular district prexy for an affair with a Phi Delt several years ago. The claim was uncontested. In Cleveland alumnæ's Vox Pop program, Mrs Sinclair likewise disclosed some of her private affairs. Alpha Gamma presented its rushing skit, and now must make copies for other District III chapters. Beta Tau justly won first place, however, with an excellent original dramatization of Kappa Alpha Theta's founding.

We Thetas are an unusual lot. We didn't

District III Thetas assembled on the boardwalk in front of the dining room to display their formals. Some apparently had no old trunk in the attic at home from which to resurrect some ancient model, so they cast a contrasting modern light on the group. For the most part, however, shades of an earlier day came hustling down the walk along the lake. The picturesque gowns which many of our mothers wore for their debuts or weddings mingled with the horrible creations of the 1929 jazz days. A fashion parade was held in order that the judges might award a prize to the one with the funniest costume. Emily Wheaton's bridesmaid's won for her a bottle of sunburn cream. It was a kneeview pink satin creation with the flattering low waistline and ruffles following the dip of the hem in back. It was set off to advantage by a tight fitting pink velvet chapeau which outlined her face completely and had little gatherings on one side.

have pennies from heaven, but the Pittsburgh alumnae practically duplicated the five loaves and two fishes miracle. It all began when they wished to have a little private party (they really shouldn't have been so snooty in the first place) for the Pittsburgh actives. The chef must have been on our side—he sent up enough sandwiches, club size, mind you, for the whole convention and then some! So they entertained with an impromptu reception—quite complete, however, even to gifts for the guests of honor. We might ask Mrs Peden if Mrs Brown returned her pickle jar. Judging from noise complaints, the party was a success.

That night it rained. It also thundered. And it also lightened. Friday morning it was still raining, and thundering, and lightning. But did we go without breakfast for the sake of a few steps in the rain? We did not! Modernizing Cinderella, we left our size six and seven clodhoppers in the lobby, tripped gaily down the boardwalk, and breakfasted sans civilized footgear. Not to be outdone, our song leader came down for an early dip—so we thought—but instead walked calmly in to dine.

We were every bit as uproarious during the closing session when some—shall we say unexpected and very serious (?)—queries popped up in the question box. However, we did sober up enough to unanimously elect Mrs Russell Williams new president of District III before convention was adjourned.

BETTY SCROGGS, Gamma deuteron

Districts II, V and X

The three districts in the middle west met at the Inn on Lake Okoboji, Iowa, June 21-24. Frances Griggs, Tau '37, was our most efficient and entertaining convention manager. Naturally enough with so many weighty problems to consider she practically missed her train, and with only thirty seconds "to go" Porter (Nancy) and Griggs arrived hatless and breathless, were literally shoved on the train by the Evanston delegation, and we were "on our way to convention."

What fun it was arriving in Spencer in the morning; wondering how to transport six women and sixteen pieces of baggage to Okoboji, twenty-three miles away; being rescued by a native, whom we finally prevailed upon to take us by bus (the bus being a station wagon—1912 model, with red plush seats, which was undoubtedly used only on state occasions; only because of our Grand president's illustrious presence were we permitted to occupy it).

Many a word might be written on "My first impression of the inn." Quoting from one letter—"it was a blistering hot day—our faces were caked with mud—for two endless days we had driven through coca-cola deserts (occasionally stopping at a Standard Oil) going without rest—just driving, driving, endlessly it seemed, waving to farmer after farmer, little tot after big tot, and so far, far into the night—and our destination? Ah, none other than Okoboji. (If they had only picked another name—still, Red's Place wasn't so bad.) At any rate, we arrived about 4:30 in the afternoon at the inn (of all the forsaken looking places at first glimpse). We were pictures of hunger, thirst, and bewilderment." And then the crushing blow of finding the credentials committee (comfortable and cool in beach clothes) reclining on the porch overlooking the lake, just waiting for another victim.

Other impressions—girls from the Dakotas and Colorado arriving in the very wee hours of the morning, finding only members of the dance band in evidence, and being escorted to the Inn in grand style.

Wonderful days, moonlight nights—swimming—sunbathing—and then sunburn! Bicycling over rocky roads—Jo Grant trying to arrange a tennis tournament, finding the courts overrun with weeds—golf instead. Shorts and slacks during the day—sport dresses and autographed beer jackets at night. Thetas taking over the amusement park (second only to Coney Island). Interesting meetings—inspiring talks by Jeanette Grasett, and Roxy Bremner. Pat Lahr making excellent reports—Alpha Iota making us wonder if there are any other fraternities on the Washington university campus—Thetas having taken all honors. Martha Nicholson ably taking charge of alumnæ round tables, every one hating to have the meetings adjourn, but enjoying the call to meals because of the wonderful food and clever table decorations.

DISTRICTS II, V, AND X

Sorry, they didn't tell us who they are, so we can't tell you! But they're at convention, having fun.

And last but not least—thanks to Roxy—a slam banquet—every toast a slam and every slam a delight. Presenting of awards—a stale box of candy to our Grand president (later replaced by a very nice gift) a wooden horse to Beta Omicron for sending the greatest number of delegates the shortest distance, and, more seriously, the scholarship cup to Beta Kappa.

Our one regret was Lois Carroll's absence. Our good wishes to the new president of District V!

District IV

Take me out to convention,
Take me out to Vermont;
Give me a kite and I'll go to town.
I don't care if I never come down; for it's Chi, Mu, Lambda, Iota, Sigma and Beta Psi;
District IV at convention will fly sky-high!
(Iota)

Burlington greeted the Thetas of District IV with cold rain and wind on June 18, but gradually relented next day. However, Burlington Thetas dispensed enough warm hospitality to counteract any amount of shivers. Delegates were ushered to the spacious Delta Psi house, loaned for the occasion. After a suitable interval for registration, unpacking, getting acquainted, and eating lunch, convention surged into the elegant Southwick Memorial building for its first business session. Welcomed by Mrs French, District president, and inspiringly addressed by the Grand vice-president, Mrs Sinclair, the meeting transacted its business with crisp efficiency, and adjourned to splash out to Mrs French's delectable farm. There Thetas spent a pleasant tea hour introducing themselves to vast quantities of other Thetas, admiring and planning to steal Mrs French's new steel engravings, and coveting her blue door.

The picnic scheduled for that evening was drowned out, and the committee blithely changed it to a buffet supper at the Delta Psi house. Tablesful of nursery rhyme characters found each other by comparing their little typed slips, or by standing and shouting "LITTLE MISS MUFFET" until other Muffets came and helped shout. Stunt night was then held in the Southwick building, with Lambda's Sukey Newton doing the Vermont drama department proud as stage manager. Chi's and Beta Psi's stunts ran the gamut of melodrama, with the audience co-operatively hissing and cheering. Iota and Mu collaborated on Iota's traditional Theta Girl skit; Lambda presented a lively series of shadow pictures illustrating life at Vermont; and Mary Chadwick of Beta Psi gave an instructive skiing lesson in the form of a monologue.

Saturday morning's business included two helpful round tables, one for college girls, one for alumnæ; also a second business session which brought forth many ideas on Panhellenics and rushing. After lunch the convention adjourned to the great outdoors. Some took the sightseeing tours planned for the afternoon, others attended the circus, for which the hostesses had thoughtfully secured tickets during one of those damp hours when it was believed that sightseers would drown. However, just to show them, the weather cleared up and remained clear.

The banquet at the Lake Champlain club, with the hearty cooperation of the bankers' convention in the adjoining room, was a riot from start to finish. (See Lambda's chapter letter.) The food was grand, the decorations fascinating, and the Theta speakers were not only without nervousness, but were frequently overcome with the giggles. All of which lent a certain freedom and felicity to the proceedings.

Immortal moments: two Theta travellers parading grandly, although accidentally, down the slanting dock into Lake Champlain; Mrs Sinclair innocently hitting the bell while trying to turn on her light, and nobody knowing how to turn said bell off; a bunch of early arrivals starting up the hill on Thursday night and landing some miles off in Winooski out of sheer ignorance; Sigma getting up en masse at the banquet and springing an original song with a weird and felicitous rhyme scheme; a young banker replying to the Theta request for peace with the gallant remark "We'd do anything for the lovely Thetas!" the Delta Psis coming to call, and being asked to repair their phonograph, which the Thetas had somehow persuaded to run backwards.

Addenda: Important Business transacted at convention;

We re-elected French;
She's just our kind of wench.
To part with her, you must admit,
Would really be a wrench.

(Contributed by a lady from Toronto who shall remain anonymous.)

Altogether, you can guess what kind of a time we had.

DISTRICT IV IN CONVENTION

The birdie seems to have made some of them very sad. But we assure you it didn't last long. Contrariwise, the cheerful expressions on the other faces were continuous throughout the weekend.

District VIII

District VIII's convention met at the Galvez hotel, Galveston, Tex. June 8-10. The first afternoon was spent for the most part in greeting arriving delegates, old friends from other chapters, and friends met at other conventions. There was also time for a cool dip in the Gulf of Mexico (Chamber of Commerce please note!) and there were conferences for delegates with Miss L. Pearle Green whom it was our pleasure to have present. That evening at dinner the traditional song contest was held. Beta Sigma gate of Beta Zeta, talked on "Pledge-training." At the end of the second general session Laura Eleanor Fisher was unanimously re-elected president of District VIII, a sincere tribute to her wisdom and patience in dealing with us, her errant children, for lo! these six long years.

The banquet on the second night of convention was certainly one of the high points of festivities. Beautiful tropical flowers were used to decorate the tables and each girl was presented with a flower corsage. Theta delegates, who had practiced their songs all the night before on the train, much to the discomfiture of the other passengers, were rewarded for their efforts by winning first prize, a lovely silver platter.

The next two days were spent in general sessions and round table discussions. Methods of rush, handling of pledges, contacts with the faculty, and other fraternity interests and problems were discussed. Eleanor Burton, delegate from Alpha Omicron, gave a constructive talk on "The purpose of the fraternity," an old subject, but one of vital interest in the constantly changing fraternity world. Patricia Harrison, president and delegates were sung and everyone laughed good-naturedly when discords occurred. It seems that each chapter has its own rendition of a song which is just a little different from the way another chapter sings it.

After the banquet Thetas could be seen everywhere along the Boardwalk enjoying the amusements. The roller-coaster, "which everyone said had been condemned since 1924" (these convention rumors!) was the most popular form of diversion with "Bingo" running it a close second.

Much credit goes to Houston alumnae, our hostesses, and to Frances Wells Stuart, convention manager, for the grand time we all had at convention.

"Funniest shot at convention": Kathryn Shimer, Beta Sigma's mathematics shark, was automatically made treasurer of the trip by the Dallas girls. She it was who arranged for tickets, collected money to tip porters, budgeted meals, etc. However when the party arrived in Houston and the "red cap" had carried eight suitcases into the station, Kathryn was not there to tip him. One of the other girls, looking at the exhausted man, thought twenty-five cents would not be too much to tip him. (Eight bags, mind you!) She gave it to him. When Kathryn came back she asked the girl how much she had tipped. Upon being told she exclaimed, "twenty-five cents? Why in the world did you tip that much? After this you let me handle the tipping!"

MARY BOREN

Convention registration showed 50 from Alpha Theta, 11 from Beta Sigma, 20 from Alpha Omicron, 17 from Beta Zeta, two each from Alpha Phi and Phi, and one each from Beta Rho, Alpha Omega, Beta Iota, Beta Beta, Alpha Gamma, Alpha Epsilon, Alpha Mu, Upsilon, and Psi. Total, 111, with fifteen chapters represented.

District IX

Fifty-six Thetas from Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana and British Columbia gathered at Hotel Gearhart, Gearhart, Oregon for the biennial District convention June 18-20. Although Jupiter Pluvius and Father Neptune conspired in every way possible to keep us indoors and out of the ocean, the convention was a wonderful success. The very fact that the rain held us indoors made it possible for us to get acquainted with each and every Theta there, as we gathered around the huge open fireplace to discuss our problems long after the business sessions and round tables had been adjourned.

But it took more than an Oregon mist or a big blow to keep our Montana sisters out of the ocean. They loved the breakers and surf and rain or shine, they appeared at breakfast each morning with faces glowing and hair damp—fresh from an early morning dip!

The convention was one of enthusiasm and cooperation from the opening business session Friday afternoon until the final meeting Sunday morning, and as hands were tightly clasped and Chain Song sung, there was a real feeling of accomplishment and time well spent at our district house party.

Convention was opened with a welcome from Enid Clifford, Beta Epsilon, and a clever response from Virginia Flanagan, Alpha Nu. A serious note was sounded in the beautifully inspirational talk, "Our precious heritage" by retiring District president Jessie-Lee Cochran. With the admonition that fraternities must make themselves indispensable factors in the academic scheme of our changing world, and with a stirring plea not to dissipate our inheritance from our Founders—the inheritance of the purpose and ideals of Kappa Alpha Theta—Mrs Cochran closed with:

"Equality in education, service to your college and community, privilege of congenial companionship, loyalty to our fraternity, and bonds of lasting friendship—that is our heritage, keep it precious!"

We were fortunate to have as honor guest, our charming Grand treasurer, Mrs Athearn. Mrs Athearn has visited the district's chapters this year and it was like meeting an old friend to have her with us again for three days. Her talks and discussion throughout the convention were outstanding. Life membership, which had been something vague and confusing, was revealed as an easy, workable plan as she presented it in her clear, logical, and enthusiastic manner. College delegates were shown ways of putting the plan into effect in the fall, and alumnae delegates filled pages of notebooks as schemes for enrolling alumnae as Life members were presented and discussed with Mrs Athearn.

Mr Karl Onthank, Dean of personnel of the University of Oregon, was the guest speaker at the luncheon on Saturday. Dean Onthank, Theta husband and father and prominent Alpha Tau Omega in his own right, is doing some interesting work in the personnel division of the university in offering to juniors and seniors courses which prepare them as fraternity officers and leaders. In the senior year this work is extended to the larger field of industrial personnel work. Dean Onthank spoke on "What a fraternity can mean to a university."

The banquet on Saturday night used the setting of a book shop as its motif. Louise Corbin Grondahl, Alpha Lambda, of Portland alumnae was toastmistress. Each response represented a title of some best seller in our Theta book shop. Brandon Young, Alpha Xi, spoke to Flame in the wind. Virginia Weiner, Alpha Lambda, chose Something of myself as her toast. The alumnae toasts were given by Anita Greenlaw Parrott, Alpha Sigma on Cards on the table, and Maurine McAdam Temple, Alpha Xi and Rho, on Gone with the wind; and Betty Robb, Alpha Lambda, National supervisor of chapter finance, gave the final toast on We are not alone, cleverly done, using only titles of books.

One of the most important things done at convention was the election of a District president to fill the vacancy left by Mrs Cochran, who will be making her home in Chicago after July 1. Maurine McAdam Temple, Alpha Xi and Rho, was unanimously elected to take Mrs Cochran's place. We were very fortunate to have an opportunity of knowing Mrs Temple at convention. She is a charming person and we are looking forward to having her with us next year.

Convention closed Sunday morning, and fifty-six enthusiastic Thetas left for their homes with a feeling that District conventions were indeed pleasant and profitable experiences, and with a resolve in the heart of each delegate to give to her chapter the wealth of ideas and suggestions which she had gathered in her close contact with other chapters, national officers and District president during the grand house party at Gearhart.

VIRGINIA WEINER, Alpha Nu

Do You Know

That the Kappa Alpha Theta magazine agency has contributed more than $4,000 to the Kappa Alpha Theta Loan and fellowship fund?

That loans are now available for graduate students who can show a definite plan whereby a year's additional study will fit them for more lucrative or otherwise satisfactory jobs? That two of our married Thetas, out of college a number of years, have been granted such loans for a year of graduate work leading to such goals?

That last year a loan was made to a junior who thereupon spent a year in a German university as an exchange student? A story of her experiences will be found elsewhere in the magazine. After reading it, we think you will agree that her horizons have been broadened in sundry ways.

That during the past year $7,747.28 has been added to the Theta Loan and fellowship fund from chapters, clubs, individuals, and the magazine agency?

That Mary Tom Osborne, holder of the Hannah Fitch Shaw fellowship award, is now doing her research work in the libraries of England?

That Rosa Parsons, holder of the Jane Spaulding Theta fellowship award will spend this year at Stanford studying in the field of educational psychology?

That Austin alumnae donated to the Theta Loan and fellowship fund three hundred dollars in paid up Theta house bonds?

New District Presidents

We are delighted to welcome to the official staff, Mrs Williams, Mrs Moore, Mrs Temple, whom we confidently expect to carry on the fine work of their predecessors.

Hail to those predecessors, Mrs Grace Cockins Brown, Mrs Lois Luckhardt Carroll, Mrs Jessie Lee Wyatt Cochran, whose charm and ability have made them essential to Theta. May we greet them all as visitors at next convention.

District III

Dorothy McCann Williams

BACK IN 1915 at Denison university there graduated a tall, quiet, unassuming and lovely girl. She had been most popular on campus, active in Y.W.C.A. and athletics, besides president of her local fraternity, Chi Psi Delta. In her senior year she had been May Queen, and was loved by all the student body, faculty and townspeople. Rather than have her leave the town of Granville after winning her home economics degree, Dame Fortune returned Dot McCann to Granville as the wife of Dr Russel H. Williams. College and townspeople alike were happy to have so cherished a friend in their midst.

Since 1929 when Kappa Alpha Theta was installed at Denison, Dot Williams has been a most loyal untiring worker for Theta. She became chairman of Beta Tau's advisory board at that time, and attended the 1934 convention at Asheville as alumnae delegate and sponsor for Beta Tau. She has always made her own home, with its four lovely children and busy husband, the "town home" of Beta Taus. This year her oldest daughter Betty will be a member of Beta Tau, transferring from Beta Beta at Randolph-Macon.

Dot says her hobbies are "assisting my doctor husband, who has charge of the Whisler Memorial hospital at Denison university; raising one family of three daughters and one small son; assisting Beta Tau; collecting unusual cactus; and riding a bicycle as a diversion."

Those who know her are happy that her Theta horizon broadens as she becomes president of District III, and believe all who come to know her will know as true and loyal a Theta as there ever was. Hail to Dot, District III and Theta!

JEAN LINDSTROM OSMOND, Beta Tau

* * *

To write a few words about Dot Williams is a joy! When Denison university was applying for a charter I happened to be vice-president and Granville was my destination.

Dot met me in Columbus and before we had finished breakfast we were staunch friends and had found that we were exactly the same age. One doesn't exchange age information with just anyone!

Dot had me completely won over before I ever reached Granville and with every good thing she had told me materializing at each step, my reaction was more than favorable.

Whenever the girls at Granville get into any complexities they just automatically seek Dot. She has vision, understanding, humor, and sees eye to eye with youth.

Above all, I admire Dot Williams' enthusiasm and loyalty where Theta is concerned. I know that in the final analysis she would do things for her wonderful family first, but all the time she was doing it she would be worrying over Theta problems or rejoicing over Theta triumphs!

MARGARET K. BANTA

District V

Pauline Brannock Moore

Needless to say those of us who have known P. B. since her pledge days in Theta feel that the leadership of District V is in very capable hands. After her graduation from Stephens college in 1923 Pauline Brannock entered the University of Missouri, pledged Theta and proceeded to make a fine record on campus. In addition to being president of Alpha Mu chapter and delegate to West Baden convention she was elected to Mortar board, L.S.V. (four most outstanding women on campus) and vocational guidance chairman.

Since receiving her A.B. degree in 1925 she has continued her interest in the fraternity: president of the Omaha alumnae in 1933, Parliamentarian at the Estes Park convention and Nebraska State chairman.

Her efficient work the past ten years as treasurer of Alpha Mu Alumnae association leaves the chapter free of debt with a $14,000 cash balance.

Her supervision of the rushing at Alpha Mu chapter for a number of years has given her experience which will be of value to other chapters in District V during rushing season.

With her Phi Delta Theta banker husband and son Jimmie, Jr. age ten, Pauline makes her home in Omaha. Her activities there range from assisting in the community chest drive, being an active member of Omaha Theta alumnae, attending a church group, to playing her harp at many social functions.

District V and Kappa Alpha Theta are indeed fortunate to be represented by so charming and capable a person as Pauline Brannock Moore.

ALLINE SMITH WRIGHT

District IX

Maurine McAdam Temple

It is with great pride that District IX welcomes its new president, Maurine McAdam Temple. We all love her charm and friendliness.

Maurine was born in Oregon, and spent her early childhood in various parts of the United States. She attended a preparatory school for girls in Portland, after which she went to the University of Oregon, where she was pledged and initiated by Alpha Xi. Two years later she became affiliated with Rho at the University of Nebraska. After three years she returned to Portland and married Harold L. Temple, a native Nebraskan. Since her marriage, Theta and her lovely home on Portland Heights have been Maurine Temple's chief interests. District IX will surely grow under her guidance.

A Chapter Birthday Book

(Extracted from a story by the Minnesota chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma in the Key for April 1937)

A chapter birthday gift was a birthday book, with each member, from charter members to last initiate, recorded under her own birthday. This covered 656 names of initiates, plus 21 affiliates.

The book was a square 5-year diary, bound in blue leather with a tiny lock for trimming. With a Belgium parchment fly-leaf, hand lettered, the cost was three dollars. Yet, a book of the same measurements, 4 by 5 inches, may be bought for ten cents at Kresge's for similar records. The pages must be as wide as four inches, or there is not room for the length of names, especially with two middle names.

Each entry gave—

1. The member's maiden name in full, middle name not initials

2. Her formal married name (in parentheses)

3. If death had occurred the date of death. This entry in red ink.

No dates either of birth or initiation were entered, for the placement of names showed the month and day of birth.

"This gives a book which can be used while planning the month's birthday parties at the chapter house, or when planning the seating of large numbers of actives and alumnae at banquets. . . . It also acquaints each active girl with the name of at least one alumna, sometimes four or five, whose birthdays are the same as her own. It will become an incentive to any catalog committee, if started, to complete its chapter's records of birthdays by month and day. . . .

"The registrar of the active chapter is to enter the names of the next initiates, and a few simple reminders were entered at the back of the book for the help of this chapter officer."

We quote also from the book's Foreword:

"This little book contains the names of all members of Chi chapter, each recorded on the page of her birthday. . . .

"For the first time in the history of the chapter, all names, in full, of our more than six hundred initiates, the birthday of each, and the formal married names have been set down. The three lines of record are grouped here as one. It will be a miracle if no error is found, but I have done my best to be correct in all dates and spelling. The complete set of names, now grouped by months, is given to the chapter with the hope that it may be of continuous use in many ways. It is my thesis after happy years of membership in Kappa Kappa Gamma, and is given on the birthday of our chapter. CLEORA WHEELER."

An Exchange Student Year in Germany

I FELT I was the luckiest girl in the world when in August 1936 all plans were completed for my going to Germany as an exchange student. Northwestern university agreed to give a German girl free tuition in exchange for my tuition in Germany, and Tau chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta voted to give this German girl free room and board in the chapter house. The university of my choice was Munich.

In September Theta's Loan and fellow-student fund committee voted to loan me sufficient money to complete the amount necessary for me to accept the scholarship. To this committee, to Tau chapter, and to Northwestern university I am grateful for this glorious year.

I resigned as secretary to the Personnel manager of a large company in Chicago, and left in October for Hamburg. From the magic moment when the boat pulled out of New York harbor life, for me, was one round of pleasure and interesting experiences. I spent two days in Hamburg and one in Berlin, arriving at Munich in good spirits. So many Germans speak English that it wasn't at all difficult to find my way anywhere.

I loved Munich, a charming city with parks, fountains, stately monuments, imposing churches, historical palaces, famous art galleries, instructive museums, and a wealth of music.

Wandering its narrow streets, past quaint old houses and small stores, and visiting the churches, I tried to learn something of Baroque and German Gothic architecture. I spent much time in the Deutsches museum and Alte Pinakothek, sat in the Hofbrauhaus, and learned to like the famous beer.

I arose at five o'clock in the morning to take a ski-train to the Alps; had the exhausting experience of climbing a mountain, and the wonderful compensation of arriving at the top and eating "erbsensuppe" (pea soup, which I never liked at home) and buttered bread. I learned some of the beginning techniques of skiing and gloried in the warm sunshine and fresh, clear, mountain air. I bicycled to surrounding environs of Munich, sat drinking afternoon coffee in its many cafes, danced to such old American jazz tunes as, The music goes round and round, and learned to turn to a German waltz. I made friends, and what was most thrilling—heard beautiful music. Richard Strauss is one of my favorite composers, so to be able to see him and hear him conduct was, perhaps, the most exciting moment of my year. I also had the great privilege of hearing Edwin Fischer, Kochalski—the Polish musician who plays only Chopin, Gieseking—the best interpreter of modern music, Hoehn—who specializes on Beethoven, and the Hungarian philharmonic orchestra. Every Tuesday morning I stood in line before the university "Office of reduction," where students get half-rate tickets to all theaters, operas, and concerts. For only fifty or seventy-five cents, I heard gorgeous opera performances, including practically all of Wagner, Strauss, Mozart, and Verdi.

With such inexhaustible possibilities for entertainment, one was tempted not to attend classes. But the university is also fun, and I enjoyed working there. At first, I was astonished when students pounded on the desks and scraped their feet on the floor as a professor entered or left the room, but soon I greeted him in this manner too, although it never ceased to amuse me.

The German course for foreigners is well managed at the University of Munich. Each member of the class—made up of Italians, French, Chinese, Japanese, English, and Americans—tried to translate every word into his own language. The result was a babel, but soon we understood the German and even tried to speak it among ourselves. An American girl, a Kappa Kappa Gamma from Duke, was in the class. Once a week the course extended into the afternoon, when a trip was made to a nearby town or to some industry. On Friday evenings a dance for students of all nationalities was given in one of the city's largest hotels.

The second semester I listened in on beginning courses in Italian and Spanish. One becomes language conscious in Europe when so close to other nations and in contact with so many foreigners. It was amusing to hear a Spanish lecture in German, and then try to get what it meant in English.

One of my most interesting courses was given in four art museums. The pictures were explained, the history of painting being covered by the excellent collections in these four Munich museums.

I lived just a few steps from the university, in the only dormitory for girls. This Studentinnenheim housed eighty girls of many nationalities. Rooms were small, with plain wooden furniture, but what was most important, and a luxury in Germany, they had running hot and cold water and central heating. In the dormitory we paid fifty pfennigs for a bath. We also paid ten or twenty pfennigs when arriving after midnight or 2 a.m. respectively. There was a large living room with a grand piano and a radio, a gym room, and a wash room where one could pay ten pfennigs to use an electric iron. However, I became quite adept in using the free gas iron in the kitchen, where one might also cook one's own meals. The Japanese and Chinese girls used the kitchen more than did any others. They were always making a chop-suey meal. The sausage, kraut, roast pork, boiled potatoes, and beer (the average student diet) did not compare with their own Sukiyaki dinner. Most of the girls bought milk, fruit, eggs, and rolls, and ate breakfast in their rooms.

Contrary to what I had heard, I found German boys extremely polite. In fact, American girls remarked that they were ashamed of the manners of American boys who were abroad. We liked the clicking of heels and the hand-kissing, but we noticed especially the German boys' courtesy. The girls paid their own way on dates. After all, the boys were no richer than the girls, and most students lived on minimum allowances.

There were many more boys than girls in the university. In the library (strictly for study—and the German students took their studying seriously) one seldom saw a girl. Since today the girl's place in Germany is to raise a family, and to be well informed on the care of babies, how to sew and to cook, the greater number of girls who were able to attend any school beyond high school, went to "Finishing schools," and learned home-making.

The number of vacations at the university was amazing: a national holiday, a State day, the beginning or the end of a carnival, a religious holiday, or a legitimate Christmas or Spring vacation, was always approaching. Mid-semester vacation lasted all of March and I took that opportunity to travel in Italy.

I got my railroad ticket with a seventy percent reduction and joined the International student club (to get cheap rates in museums). March 2 I left for Italy with some German and American students. We went as far south as Sicily, where we saw the Greek ruins, swam in the Mediterranean, and tanned in the hot sun at Taormina, then went north through Naples, Rome, Perugia, Florence, Bologna, and Venice. It was a perfect month, except for the cold pensions at night and the terrible seasickness when crossing to Sicily. A month was not enough time in which to see Italy, but did give me an everlasting picture of beautiful scenery, mountains, rambling villas, yellowish-green landscapes, glimpse of the short, vivacious, crafty people, an appreciation of Italian art, and memories galore. I shall never forget the horses and buggies, and the organ grinders.

In May I went on a two weeks' trip through Germany, free of charge, with the other exchange students. We started at Nurnberg and went north to Dusseldorf and Koln.

Before returning to America, I visited Vienna and Budapest, took a boat trip up the Danube to Passau and from there back to Munich. I was in Salzburg for the opening night of the music festival, heard the first week of the Wagner, Mozart, Strauss festival in Munich, and spent a week seeing the exposition, and places of interest in Paris.

For me no more thrilling adventures could be squeezed into one year. It was a year of everlasting benefit. I hope to help make it possible for other Thetas to have similar pleasures, education, and experiences.

OLIVE DYER, Tau

A Message to Undergraduates

UNDERGRADUATES! Do you need money this year to help pay your college expenses? You do? Well, how are you going to get it, earn or borrow?

There is much to be said for the valuable lessons gained in earning money. It certainly intensifies one's respect for the value of a dollar to translate it into terms of hours and muscle, whether the muscle be brain or brawn. It develops self-respect to be a paid worker, giving service for pay. It establishes a reputation for dependability if work is faithfully done.

But do these advantages offset the definite ill effects of overcrowding one's time and overworking one's physical strength? College programs are planned not for the double duties of study and working for hire, but for the concentrated business of study. That in itself is a full time job. If you add to it the hours and labors that must be spent in earning money, the great percentage of students overtax their physical strength, often handicapping themselves for life, and they retard the progress they could make otherwise in their classroom work.

In return for this dissipation of their resources, what do they earn? A meager wage, the wage of unskilled labor.

Consider the other way of obtaining money. By borrowing. There are just as definite lessons learned in borrowing money as in earning it. The sense of responsibility molds the quality of dependability. It forces upon the student the decision of a material goal; before she can borrow she must be able to state clearly how she expects to repay. Who is not steadier for the keel of a fixed plan? And once she repays a loan, a student has established a reputation which is a business asset: her credit is good.

Will this sense of debt be a burden? Not if one sets her course and sticks to it; not if she establishes the good habit of making clear and sensible plans to fit herself for the business life and then does not fritter away her energies in worrying. A college student earns only the wage of unskilled labor, but a college graduate forces the world's consideration of herself as a person of trained mental powers. There are jobs with good pay awaiting the girl who has taken her education seriously enough to borrow money to obtain it. Payments made at steady intervals out of fair or good salary will never hurt like the hours of overwork, when every hour and every ounce of energy is needed to accomplish the most during those four brief years of intensive study.

And where shall you borrow? Kappa Alpha Theta offers you the opportunity to borrow from your own college family: from a loan fund set up for this purpose more than thirty-five years ago and steadily built up by every single member of the fraternity, for not only do the alumnæ groups and individual alumnæ send yearly contributions, but out of the initiation fee of every Theta a certain amount is paid into the Kappa Alpha Theta Loan and fellowship fund.

If you need money to finish college, consider this plan. Write for information to—Miss Helen Pratt, 1257 4th avenue, Los Angeles, California.

Fiftieth Birthday for Tau

TAU CHARTER MEMBERS AND FIRST GROUP INITIATED, 1888

ONE HUNDRED and fifty Tau members gathered to celebrate the golden anniversary of their chapter at luncheon on June 11 in the ballroom of the Orrington hotel, Evanston.

Fifty lighted candles sparkled on each of three huge birthday cakes. Gold covered programs, golden flowers, low bowls of pansies and individual candy boutonnieres decorated the long U-shaped table.

Dorothy Martin Nichols, president of Tau association, welcomed the gathering and introduced the toastmistress, Genevieve Forbes Herrick, who had come from her home in Alexandria, Virginia, especially for the occasion. And with "Geno" at the helm a rare spirit of comradeship and excitement made the day one long to be remembered.

Old and new Theta songs were sung. Eva R. Hall, faithful Founder who has lent her gentle charm to so many Tau gatherings, cut the birthday cake. Letters and telegrams were read from five other founders, Mae Earle Sterling, Anna Adams, Clara Shellabarger Macferran, Marguerite Mulvane Morgan, and Mary Knox Melton.

Girls from the college chapter presented a stunt The evolution of Tau planned by Lucille Mitten, who read verses while Jeanne Grasett (daughter of the Grand president) Virginia Burnhan and Mary Alsted (1936 and 1937 chapter presidents) Jean Davidson (house president) Nancy Porter (Northwestern's May Queen) and other girls paraded between tables dressed in authentic and amusing costumes depicting the history of the chapter.

After introducing various alumnae by telling many an anecdote, the toastmistress called upon Grand president Jeanette Gemmill Grasett, whose inspiring talk made a fitting close to a brilliant occasion.

The committee in charge of the celebration was headed by Elinor Foster McLaughlin, with Victoria Ervin Welty, ticket chairman, Gertrude Schuchardt Goettsch, invitations, and Gertrude Kenning Henning, decorations.

Among out of town alumnae at the luncheon, many of whom attended open house the following afternoon at the chapter house, were: Lora Hunt Bell, Beulah Merville Spoford, Marie Benton Jennings, Mildred Jones Miller, Mable Kelsey De Vore, Ruth Ward Boswell, Marjorie Benton Haviland, Zelda

Henson Ferguson, Helen Ryan Long, Louise Chandler Gilman, Edith Shelby Alexander, Peggy Wilcox Richards, Mary Katherine Voorhees, Margaret Hingeley Blake, Gladys Young Nessler, Alice Knight Stevens, Aneta Donkle Cornish, Gladys Bell Megran, Edna Moser Weeks, Helen Coleman Merrill, Grace Gridley Neumiller.

WASTE

Waste of muscle, waste of brain,
Waste of patience, waste of pain,
Waste of manhood, waste of health,
Waste of beauty, waste of wealth,
Waste of blood, and waste of tears,
Waste of youth's most precious years,
Waste of ways the saints have trod,
Waste of glory, waste of God—

War!

From The Sorrows of God, G. A. Studdert-Kennedy

"The things that make an institution great are the traditions that surround it. Fraternities are great not because of expensive buildings and illustrious alumni but because of the ideas underlying each group, and a fraternity will live as long as those ideas survive. If you pledges will listen to your ritual and know the meaning of your badge, you will learn a philosophy of life, a design for living. If you can be a living interpretation of your ritual, you will be a better man for it."—Φ Σ K Signet.

ALPHA—DePauw

Fall rushing brought Alpha nineteen pledges: Jo Anne Clippinger, Hammond; Mary Lynn Jessop, Evansville; Martha Emison, Scarborough, New York; Eleanor Bintz, Greencastle; Anne M. Holmes, Jane Rottger, Indianapolis; Margaret Lou Colson, Paris, Illinois; Geraldine Thiele, Chicago, Illinois; Suzanne Wilkinson, Marion; Elizabeth Horine, Louisville, Kentucky; Peggy Ketcham, Kenilworth, Illinois; Joan Cravens, Martinsville; Genevieve Hartley, Arcadia; Jean Buchanan, South Bend; Sarah Hogate, Scarsdale, New York; Kate Bonnie Idema, Grand Rapids, Michigan; Nancy Raub, Winnetka, Illinois; Betty Gridley, Libertyville, Illinois; and Julia Minninger, Topeka, Kansas.

Genevieve Hartley is the grand-daughter of Bettie Locke Hamilton and the daughter of Eulalie Hamilton Hartley. Other Theta daughters are Mary Lynn Jessop, Sarah Hogate, and Martha Emison. Eleanor Bintz, Jo Anne Clippinger, Anne Holmes, and Suzanne Wilkinson have both Theta mothers and sisters. Betty Gridley and Elizabeth Horine are also Theta sisters.

Informal pledging was September 20. Bettie Locke Hamilton was present to meet the pledges and say a few words about Theta.

Parties during rush—a deep sea party, a circus party, a southern plantation tea, and a farmers' frolic. Under new rushing regulations two days were devoted to informal calling, during which all freshmen women called in shifts at each chapter house. Calling by fraternity women at dormitories was limited to one afternoon.

Alpha has a new house mother, Mrs Mary Cox, who formerly served in a similar capacity for Delta Gamma at Butler university. She came last spring to fill the vacancy left by Mrs Ross and returned for this year by popular request.

During the summer the house was painted and the bedrooms redecorated. New runners in the halls add much to the improved appearance.

At present we are looking forward to Open House, at which time our pledges will meet every man on campus.

Our major objectives for the year are to keep our place as first in scholarship among women on the campus and to be as enthusiastic and energetic as possible in extra-curricular activities. Journalism, dramatics, and sports are the fields in which we hope to score.

The Spirit of Halloween will reign amid masks, pumpkins, and corn stalks at the annual pledge dance, Saturday, October 23.

Fall initiation will be held Sunday afternoon, October 24, for Yvonne DeBruton and Margaret Foley.

Mary Elizabeth Ulen was recently presented with a scholarship pin for making fifteen hours of A and three hours of B-plus, highest grades in the chapter.

Ruth Smith has recently been elected president of Le Cercle Français, secretary of Y.W.C.A. and social chairman of A.W.S.

Betty Hazeltine has been appointed coed sponsor for R.O.T.C.

Rosemary Treanor has been elected treasurer of Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman honorary society.

Mary Suzan Stull, pledge, has a part in the first university play, Broken dishes.

GAMMA—Butler

There are so many important things to tell, after being separated from Theta for three long months this summer, that we shall dispense with formal openings and proceed with our annual autumnal announcements.

We have 18 pledges: Jane Ford, Barbara Phelps, Barbara Keiser (daughter of Helen Reed Keiser) Shelbyville; Helen Ruth Berry (daughter of Edith Shelby Alexander) Rushville, Indiana; Helen Holman, Jane Owens, Jean Wilkenson (daughter of Anna Hughes Wilkenson) Lucille Barry, Ruby Bingman, Betty Boettcher, Judy Diddle, Mary Fink, Ruth Hair (sister of Margaret Hair Lane) Mary Jane Hodge, Margaret McDowell, Shirley Sarsfield, Lois Jean Nicolai, and Mildred Thiesing.

Butler had a regular Freshman week on the campus this year, which included such activities as mass meetings, entrance exams, course advising, a tour of the campus and fraternity row, and vesper services. The activities, which were participated in by freshmen only, were topped off with a dance and steak fry. All incoming students were exceedingly enthusiastic about this innovation.

We have, to our delight, three Thetas on the Student council this year. Ellen Hamilton represents the senior class, Ann Burger, the junior class, and Jeanette Barnette represents the sophomores.

Aline Bailey and Marjorie Zechiel were elected to Scarlet Quill, senior women's honorary. Betty Wanglin and Elizabeth Henderson were selected for Chimes, junior honorary, and Helen Ellis, Jeanette Barnette, Virginia Blackley, and Ann Bowman have been made members of Spurs, honorary for sophomore women.

Elizabeth Henderson, Barbara Ballinger, and Jeanette Barnette were chosen to the Y.W.C.A. cabinet and Ellen Hamilton was elected Panhellenic president.

Marjorie Zechiel and Ann Bowman are president and vice-president respectively of the Y.W.C.A. Marjorie was also elected, September 28, to be area representative on the Geneva council, which plans the Geneva conference for next year.

At present we are beginning to make plans for our annual Home-coming celebration October 23. It's a big day for us. We have open house for alumnae and out of town guests and in the afternoon go en masse to the Butler-Washington and Jefferson football game. Another important part of Home-coming is the decorating of the Theta house. The sorority with the most original decorating idea gets a silver cup. We hope it will be ours.

Word was just received that for the third consecutive semester Theta has been higher in scholarship than any other Greek letter fraternity on the Butler campus. We won this year with an average of 1.964.

JANE PFEIFFER

30 September 1937

Married: Alice Marie Woolling to Ralph A. Coble,  $\Sigma$  X, Sept. 20. 1 W. 28th st. Indianapolis, Ind.—Martha Rose Scott to Edgar H. Baum, July 24. 4814 E. 10th st. Born: To Mr and Mrs Dudley Hutcheson (Emma Lou Lutz) a daughter, Helen Emily, July 9.—To Mr and Mrs Stephen M. Badger (Mary Agnes Showalter) a son, David, April 19.

New addresses: Winifred Loudon Bailey (Mrs Allen Forest) 114 S. Illinois st. Delphi, Ind.—Marian Miller Byram (Mrs John) 110 West 55th st. New York, N.Y.—Lela Burton Kercheval (Mrs J. H.) 1806 Boulevard pl. Connersville, Ind.—Betty Lower Klepinger (Mrs Robert V. 305 Washington, Valparaiso, Ind.—George Anna Redman Lycan (Mrs Riley S.) 1043 Erie st. Oak Park, Ill.—Martha Adams Lydon (Mrs James P.) 34 Lawton rd. Riverside, Ill.—Bertha Corya Scott (Mrs Fred C.) 352 Leslie av. Indianapolis, Ind.

Harriet Badgley was a counsellor this summer at the Girl Reserve camp, Camp Delight, at Noblesville, Ind. Harriet developed her own major in kindergarten work with retarded children and was the first to graduate from Butler in such a course.

GAMMA DEUTERON—Ohio Wesleyan

The college year has begun and Gamma deuteron is already into the swing of things. Friday, September 24 we initiated into our group Marjorie Williams, Toledo, Betty Ander, Dayton, and Bonnie Price, Tiffin. Sunday, September 26, we pledged seven upper-classmen including two transfers. They are as follows: Mary Turner, Norwich, New York; Grace Roberts, Kenton; Evelyn Hunning, Cleveland; Anne Ringle, Tiffin; Jane Buckles, Milwaukee, Wisconsin; and Jean and June Shetler of Canton. We are now in the midst of freshman rushing and have an optimistic outlook.

We are quite proud to have again received the cup for the highest scholarship of any women's fraternity on campus and to have had selected three of our members, Ruth Logeman, Betty Scroggs, and Iva Fay Herman, as senior advisors in the freshman dormitory. Harriet Stauffer has been chosen as the lead in the university performance of First lady to be presented at Home-coming.

Last June a large number of our group spent an enjoyable week at a Theta house-party on Lake Erie and attended the Theta District convention at Catawba Cliffs, where Mary Dietz, our new president, was a representative. We have profited greatly by the suggestions offered at the convention and found them to be of great help during rushing.

We were finally able to finish the process of refurbishing our rooms this fall and believe them to be nicer than ever before.

JANE MCKINNEY
DOROTHY BEATTY

Waterville, Ohio.—Ruth Parker Thomson (Mrs Lawrence T.) 515 Hamilton av. W. Flint, Mich.—Ellen Cameron Wilson (Mrs William E. jr.) R.F.D. 1, East Greenwich, R.I.

Mary Jane Barrett and Nancy Badley entered the Frances Payne Bolton School of nursing at Western Reserve university in Cleveland this fall.

Janet Spiker is society editor of the Painesville Telegraph in Painesville, Ohio.

Sally Frampton is teaching in an elementary grade school in Sandusky.

Wilda Walker is teaching in a Junior High in Marion.

Joan Sullivan is going to Simmon's school in Boston.—Esther West has a position with the Ohio Bell Telephone company in Columbus.—Jane Griffith is teaching in Mt. Gilead.

DELTA—Illinois

It seems to be a Delta habit for the rushing chairman to become incapacitated: last year Jean Hoebel went to the hospital with an infected foot at the close of rush; this year Halle Galhuly was sent to the hospital because of an appendicitis attack. Fortunately Jean was here to take things over and Delta came out with a fine pledge list: Barbara Bartling (daughter of Grace Goodman Bartling, Tau) Highland Park; Jane Gullett (sister of Julia) Mary Jane Ives, Helen Wilson, Decatur; Barbara Truitt (daughter of Helen Jordan Truitt) Chillicothe; Jane Ward, Sterling; Doris Healy (daughter of Alice Riley Healy) Ardmore, Pennsylvania; Betty Jane Perry, Chicago; Catherine Castle, Constance Williams, Quincy; Phebe McAdams, Alton; Anne Hoskins (daughter of Alta Swigart Hoskins and sister of Jean) Champaign; Helen Provine (sister of Betty) Betty Rickards, Dorothy Smith, Betty Lohmann, Beverly Colbern, Urbana.

We are happy to welcome back to Illinois, Betty Jane Phillips, transfer from Beta Delta, who is an Urbana girl.

Beverlie Briggs, Maribelle Bryant, and Betty Loynachan were initiated April 28. We plan to initiate Mary Emily Burke, Paula Jean McNamara, and Jane Moeller October 3. Delta lost five members by graduation: Dorothy Blum, working as a dietitian in a St. Louis hospital; Carolyn Agnew, teaching in Pana high school; 'Gene Kircher, with the International business machines corporation in St. Louis; Betty Byers and Ruth Large. We miss also Beverly Brannin and Jeanne Smith, who are at Mosher business college; Mary Lee Call and Ruth Ladd, working in Chicago; and Betty Loynachan.

There is a general movement to improve chapter houses. Delta Gamma was the first, and is now well established in a new house finished last spring. Chi Omega and Alpha Phi both carried on rushing this fall in remodelled houses, rushees and workmen alternating in the attention of chapter members. Pi Beta Phi is enlarging its house with a new wing. Sigma Kappa has taken over the Phi Mu Delta house. Theta, not to be left behind, painted the exterior woodwork of the house white and did over the porch furniture. Vying with the Greek organizations is the Y.M.C.A., which is erecting a handsome building on the site occupied by their old headquarters.

ELLEN M. SCHNEBLY

Clara Peck and Helen Strand spent the summer traveling in Europe.

IOTA—Cornell

Although Iota's new house is not yet ready for occupancy, we all have our chins up and are working doubly hard for rushing. The 26 Thetas who will live in the house are now staying in the dormitories and with the generous families of town Thetas. We have been rushing in the recreation rooms of the dormitories under the excellent direction of Winifred Waring and her assisting committees. A word of thanks is due Freddy for managing so well in spite of the difficulties which arose from the lack of a chapter house.

After a week's interregnum for President Edmund Ezra Day's inauguration, formal rushing will end this Saturday, October 16.

Janet Dempster is active on campus as the president of the Women's self government association and as a member of Mortar board. Helen Reichert is a member of Mortar board; Frances Johnson is president of Risley Hall and the president of Sage dormitory is Sally Steinman. Leading in campus activities are Helen Brew as president of the Women's Glee club and Betty Ladd as president of the Women's athletic association. Presidents of the junior and sophomore classes respectively are Mary Dodds and Phyllis André.

Second term we shall be happy to welcome Nathalie Colvocoresses, who could not return this fall because of her mother's illness, and Alice Guttman, who will complete her credits for graduation.

KAPPA—Kansas

The girls pledged September 13 are: Billie Ball, Kansas City; Marianne Dillon, Genola Englehart, Jane Montgomery (daughter of Anna Stophlet Montgomery, Delta) Virginia Lee Williams (sister of Betty) and Josephine Stevens, Kansas City, Missouri; Betty Butcher, Milwaukee, Wisconsin; Jean Anne Cardwell, Wichita; Betty Lou Dailey (daughter of Margaret Keiper Dailey, Alpha) Chillicothe, Missouri; Jeanette Dean, Evelyn Meade, and Roberta Walker (sister of Ruth, Alpha Upsilon) Topeka; Sallie Harris (daughter of Helen Jones Harris) and Margaret Stookey, Ottawa; Ruth Hudson, Ft. Scott; Alice Ann Jones, Ilse Nesbitt (daughter of Irma Wilhelmi Nesbitt) Marion Springer, Jean Stauffer, Juliette and Marjorie Trembly, Lawrence; Nancy Kessler, Winfield; Betty Martin, Tulsa, Oklahoma; Peggy Morse (daughter of Helen Gleissner Morse) Abilene; Doris Simons (daughter of Myrtle Baldridge Simons) San Diego, California; Louise Taylor, Hutchinson; and Anita Warden, Parsons.

The pledges already are doing things! Betty Butcher, Dramatic club apprentice, is in the cast for the first university production. Jean Stauffer is a member of Women's glee club. Jane Montgomery was taken into Quack (swimming) club. Marion Springer is secretary of the Jayhawker, yearbook.

College members are not standing still. Patty Bishop, Dorothy Fritz, and Rosamond Barr were successful in Dramatic club try-outs, being chosen apprentices. Mary Ellen DeMotte and Jane Blaney are on the Jayhawker staff. Betty Cole is exchange editor, and Dorothy Fritz, secretary of Sour Owl, humor publication.

We have swung into a whirling social season, starting with the annual open-house, followed by the pledge walk-out with Phi Gamma Delta pledges, and then the first of a series of hour dances.

Most thrilling, a new chapter house is being erected, into which we will move, January 1, 1938!!

JANE FLOOD

Mary Ellen DeMotte and Betty Cole spent the summer in Europe.

LAMBDA—Vermont

Our first meeting was regarded with mixed emotions. Of course, it was grand getting together again, but the group was relatively so small with last year's seniors gone and some of our sisters transferred to other schools. However, we were happy to receive Norma Fletcher from Beta Psi, in the class of 1939.

Our president told us about her interesting, and, at times, hilarious week-end at the installation of Gamma Epsilon chapter at London, Ontario, which she attended as our official delegate.

When we walked into the house, we were thrilled by our newly decorated walls. We're also going to have new draperies soon. Won't you come visit us sometime?

Last April 24 we initiated Laura Barstow, Marjorie Bell, Phyllis McGovern, Helen Maeck and Margaret MacMartin.

Shortly after this, our Grand vice president, Mrs Sinclair, spent a week-end with us. We had a marvelous time getting Mrs Sinclair a date for our spring dance, and picnicking in the park. The picnic was not only well-attended by Thetas, but also by the children from the neighboring playground. Children are so friendly and self-possessed now-a-days! Oh well, a few of us hung our dignity on a hickory limb and shot the shutes, so it was a sort of tit-for-tat arrangement.

On June 18-20 District IV had its convention here. It was a riotous week-end, even though it rained as only Burlington can. On Friday night we had a stunt night out at the new Southwick Building in the gymnasium. Each chapter presented a stunt; really finished productions in spite of a lack of stage properties. Lambda's stunt was a shadow show indicating the various phases of a college year, and representing the collegians from the farmer to the medical student. The next night a banquet was given at a delightful summer inn on the lake shore. There was but one dark blot on the evening. Of course, we all know that bankers must have their relaxation, but there is a limit to even that—such as bankers four hundred strong singing "Old Mamie Reilly," when we all wanted to hear Mrs Sinclair speak to us. Nevertheless, we had a fine convention, and certainly enjoyed having the eighty delegates here. Our delegate was Barbara Sussdorff.

Last June Lambda had four Phi Beta Kappas; namely Jean Young, Katherine Babbitt, Jane Bullard and Florence Woodard (faculty). In other honorary fields, Bonita Matthews and Barbara Sussdorff were elected to Mortar board, and Jeannette McFarland was initiated into Omicron Nu. At commencement Kay Babbitt wore the Mabel Nelson Jacobs robe, presented by Professor Jacobs, in memory of his wife, to the senior having the highest scholastic standing in her chapter all four years. At this point we must also tell you that Betsy Taylor wears the Votey pin, presented by Miss Mary Noyes, one of Lambda's founders, for the girl who has best developed the qualities representing true

Thetahood, and Barbara Sussdorff is wearing the pin given by Mrs Mary Deyett of Shelburne for the senior having done most for the chapter. Bonita Matthews is now president of the Student union, and Betsy Taylor is first vice president. We are also active in several organizations, among them Blue Stockings, W.A.A., Winnowings, Cynic, and last, but by no means least, Priscilla Newton is president of the University Players.

Louise Bull, a sophomore last year, has transferred to Smith college. Janet Slocum, also a sophomore last year, is now in Brooklyn, New York, studying at Pratt Institute. Laura Barstow transferred to St. Lawrence, at Canton, New York, this fall.

Especially happy are we that our new Dean of women, Miss Mary Jean Simpson, is a Lambda Theta. Friday night, October 1, we gave a buffet supper for the Dean at the house. It was an important occasion for us, and we feel quite sure Miss Simpson enjoyed it.

MU—Allegheny

In spite of being hampered by sophomore rushing Mu is happy to announce the pledging of twelve girls October 1. They are Barbara Johnston (daughter of Dorothea Abrams Johnston) and Mary Brickman, Youngstown, Ohio; Jane Port (sister of Martha Port) Connellsville; Eleanor Harter, Indianapolis, Indiana; Vivian Johnson, Dormont; Dorothy Daniels, Madison, New Jersey; Carman Crandall, Meadville; Miriam Fay, Rochester; Adele Harver, Wilkensburg; Ruth Wetherbee, Cleveland Heights, Ohio; Dorothy Hannon and Mary Lou Gingenbach, Erie. All these pledges are outstanding girls in activities as well as scholastically.

We are proud that Velma Briggs, last year's May queen, was a Theta, and that two other Thetas were in her court, Mary Virginia Jones and Hazel Dixon. Jane Bernhard was one of her pages.

Mu cottage at Van Buren Point, New York, is recommended as the ideal spot for a vacation. We had the cottage for the last two weeks of August and every one of us had a marvelous time.

MARTHA PORT

1 October 1937

Married: Marjorie Kiebert to Dean H. Lightner, jr. 995 Grove st. Meadville, Pa.—Frances Boone to James F. Miller, K Σ, June 9. Cambridge st. Natrona, Heights, Pa.

New addresses: Elva L. Bascom, 2007 E. 115th st. Cleveland, Ohio.—Janet Fleming Kathe (Mrs Charles) 917 Chautauqua av. Norman, Okla.—Kathryne Miller, 135 Main st. Rochester, N.Y.—Mary Harmon Tupper (Mrs James) 5 East Campus, Easton, Pa.—Ruth Hunter Baldwin (Mrs J. Hicks) 3818 Yuma st. N.W. Washington, D.C.

OMICRON—Southern California

The "three R's" took on a new meaning for Omicron Thetas as Registration, Rushing, and Reminiscing became our main activities at the opening of the fall term.

"Ten little pledges all in a row" will form the line at our presentation tea this month. October 2 we pledged Peggy Wells (daughter of Margaret Johnson Wells Hees) Harriet Burd, Virginia Crabtree, Dorothy Ditto, Pat Francis, Nancy Newberry, Margaret Ann Price, Gene Lou Sullivan, Martha Tanner and Travis Wilkinson.

Hello and Smile Week on the Trojan campus found the Thetas active participants. "Reminiscing" especially went back to the close of last term and the W.S.G.A. recognition banquet where Mary Jane Sturgeon and Martha Baird were awarded senior honor scrolls, Kay Young was announced as new Y.W.C.A. secretary, and Eugenia Rowland was tapped for Mortar board and announced chief justice of the women's judicial court.

Mention of senior breakfast still brings forth a chuckle, due to Dorothy Dolde, who passed the candy to announce her engagement to Al Martin, Kappa Alpha. Future sister-in-laws Carolyn and Lucille Martin were there, of course, and their mother was wondering if she could claim some sort of record for having four Theta daughters—and now a Theta daughter-in-law! Seniors honored at the breakfast were Martha Baird, Dorothy Dolde, Mary Grigsby, Carolyn Martin, and Mary Jane Sturgeon.

Mary Jane Sturgeon was announced as a cum laude graduate in the college of commerce, and Martha Baird as a magna cum laude graduate and winner of the Beta Alpha Psi prize and Phi Chi Theta key in the college of commerce.

Betty Lawton and Francine Roome were married this summer, and Lesley Mason is still in Europe. Constance Baker has transferred to the University of California, and Elsie Jane Burkett to the University of Michigan. Need we say that we already miss each one of them?

Scholarship chairman Bobbie Gist had an unusually big smile for us at the first meeting, when she announced that our scholarship rating had greatly improved. Extra-curricular activities are still popular, though, and first on our list of "future fun" is the U.S.C.-Calif.

game on October 23, when many of us plan to board the "Trojan Special" for an enthusiastic visit to Omega.

RHO—Nebraska

Rho pledged Marie Anderson (daughter of Louise Barr Anderson and sister of Alice) Ruth Austin, Jessica Mutz, Gwenith Orr (sister of Josephine Orr Danielson, and Dorothy) Mildred Wekesser (sister of Vera) Lincoln; Mary Jane Bennett and Caroline Harrison (daughter of Katharine Middleton Harrison, Alpha Iota) Omaha; Priscilla Chain (sister of Virginia) Seward; Dorothy Cline, Bloomington; Edith Knight, Alliance; Mary McLaughlin, Grand Island; Louise Mackey, David City; Mary Ruth Marnell, Stockton, California, and Virginia Smith, Ralston. Adele Byers and Lorraine Grant were repledged.

According to a new rule issued by the Panhellenic Council summer rushing could not include large parties and we were limited to four actives for each of the small ones.

A number of spring honors were given to Thetas. Mary Yoder and Vera Wekesser were elected to Phi Beta Kappa. Virginia Anderson was chosen as one of four junior attendants and Vera Wekesser one of two senior attendants to the May Queen. Suanne Shock, Margaret McKay and Joan Spangler were elected to represent us in the May Day daisy chain. Marie Christensen won the inter-sorority riding contest. Margaret McKay and Cynthia Pedley were chosen as two of the six beauty queens in the Cornhusker. Pat Lahr was appointed managing editor of the Cornhusker. Isabel Krumm was made a member of Tassels, women's pep organization.

The members of Rho, directed by Jane Eldridge, placed first in the annual inter-sorority sing held on Ivy Day and later appeared on the University of Nebraska program sponsored by the Pontiac company.

Margaret McKay was elected president of Rho to fill the vacancy caused by Marjorie Crabill's marriage.

Betty Jane Dutch and Jane Eldridge were elected to the offices of freshman education adviser and social chairman respectively when Mary Walling and Joan Spangler did not return to school.

SIGMA—Toronto

Once again Sigma sends greetings after the usual summer vacation which has been prolonged a week this year due to the number of paralysis cases in Toronto. However if conditions are favorable registration will take place October 5, and by that time most of us will not be sorry to get down to work again.

The final get-together last spring was, as usual, the long anticipated and once more highly successful house party, which was held at Kahshe Lake, Muskoka. It was well attended by both alumnae and undergraduates, most of the latter being more than ready for a few days of relaxation after the strenuous ordeal of final examinations.

This year we were fortunate enough to have four girls in the chapter elected to positions on the executive board of the Women's undergraduate association; Margaret Taylor as social service director, Bunty Lang as athletic director, Peggy Faircloth and Lois Fleming as members of the senior-freshie house party committee. The latter two, however, suddenly found themselves without jobs, when this house party—enter that villain the paralysis epidemic again—was cancelled just when tremendous preparations were going forward at great strides.

Sigma was happy to have a fourfold representation at the district convention at Burlington, Vermont last June. Those who went, came home full of new enthusiasm, and much impressed by the friendly welcome given them by Lambda, and pronounced the week-end a very definite success in spite of a little rain.

Our first reunion this fall took the form of an informal party given by Mrs Sinclair at which we had the pleasure of pledging two of the Pi Sigmas from London—Marjorie Rean and Elizabeth Duff. The following week-end a group of Sigmas went up to London to take part in the installation of the brand new Gamma Epsilon chapter. Every Theta present, old or new, must have felt a thrill at the pledging and initiation of such a large and enthusiastic group of girls. As for the girls themselves we cannot say too much in their favor, and we certainly join with the other chapters in wishing Gamma Epsilon every success this coming year.

This past week we have been busy getting settled in our new chapter apartment. We are tremendously enthused over our new location—practically overlooking the campus. Moreover during the process of moving and settling a lot of fun has been had, to say nothing of the hidden talents for such things as waxing floors which have suddenly come to light.

All in all, enthusiasm is running high at Sigma this fall and we are looking forward to a very happy year.

LOIS FLEMING

28 September 1937

Married: Margaret Conboy to John Dennison.—Barbara Crowe to Dr H. M. Coleman.—Margaret Keith to Harry McIntyre. (They will live in Vancouver.)

Born: To Mr and Mrs F. Beverley Fox (Nora Doran) a daughter, Susan, in June. Swastika, Ont.—To Mr and Mrs Henry Attack (Mary Grant) a daughter.—To Mr and Mrs J. C. Massie (Helen Turner) a son.—To Mr and Mrs Rielle Thomson (Dorothy McEvoy) a son.—To Mr and Mrs Wifred Mills (Irene Morwick) a son.

Rosemary Martin received her M.A. degree in Biology.

Agnes Wrong Armstrong (Mrs) was reelected President of the Junior League.

TAU—Northwestern

On May day last year, Tau came through with colors flying for Theta. Nancy Porter was elected May Queen as a reward for outstanding activity in school organizations; and Mary Alsted and Jean Davidson were attendants to her in a court of six girls. All three were elected by the Women's athletic association for extra-curricular work. Nancy was also elected to Mortar board. Then, under the direction of Peg Loomis, singing a song written and arranged by her, Theta won the inter-sorority Sing for the third consecutive time. (See p. 18)

Jean Davidson was chosen from a group of seventeen girls, candidates from each women's fraternity, as one of eight Syllabus beauty queens.

Virginia Taylor won the badminton championship for Theta in a contest sponsored by the Athletic association.

October 3 Tau initiated Florence Brock and Marge Kenney and performed an affiliation ceremony for Lillian Williamson, Beta Tau.

UPSILON—Minnesota

Minnesota Thetas at their first fall meeting received news that our District president, Mrs Bremner, is ill, suffering from a severe eye injury. The chapter united in wishing her a splendid and rapid recovery. During her illness, we are happy to welcome back Mrs Bathke, of St Paul, our former president, who will carry on those duties.

To our rushing season has been added the pleasure of a three-day visit from Grand president, Mrs D. Bligh Grasset.

Classes convened without the presence of June graduates Wilma Sivertsen, Janet Baird, Barbara La Veque, Josephine Hitchings, Marjorie Diehl, Elizabeth Ann Fitch and Frances Forney. We lost Alice Van Wagenen to the University of Wisconsin but greeted Ruby Jo Swanstrom, Wisconsin Theta, on this campus.

Eight pledges were initiated May 1: Virginia Cayou, Bismarck, North Dakota; Louise Adams, Eleanor Franz, St Paul; Mary Ellen Murray, Jean Schmitt, Minneapolis; Joyce Vangsness, Sioux City, Iowa; Gwendolyn Smith, Bemidji; and Alyce Wilson, Duluth. Also in the spring, we lost Mrs Gleva Erskine, chairman of Upsilon's advisory board, when she went to East Orange, New Jersey.

At the Senior Prom on May 8, Elizabeth Ann Fitch, president of Y.W.C.A., marched second in line. The annual Senior Prom dinner was given at the Theta house. Our pride in Kathleen Watson when she was elected president of the Y.W.C.A., succeeding Elizabeth Ann, was heightened when she was honored with admission to Mortar board.

Yvonne Stoddard, chapter president, was elected to the university board of publications and also became president of Zeta Phi Eta, national speech society.

PHI—Stanford

May 9 Phi initiated Margaret Ray, Betty Johnson, Roberta Jean Rankin, Jean Thompson, Jane Barr, Stephanie Coughran, Jane Eaton, Mary Elizabeth La Rue, and Kathleen Thompson.

We gave our spring formal in the house on May 15. Everyone was especially enthusiastic over the lovely flower decorations. Outside in the garden indirect lighting and wicker furniture were arranged effectively, and provided a cool retreat between dances. A buffet supper was served to the guests at midnight, and everyone agreed that the dance was a grand success.

With a great deal of pride Phi announces the election of Ruth Neupert Henderson and Rebecca Stribling to Phi Beta Kappa, and the presentation of lower division honors to Jean Bell, Charlotte Speik, and Barbara Weeks.

The freshmen were in charge of senior breakfast, and the decorations were in keeping with Theta symbols. To everyone's disappointment no engagements were announced. Since that time, however, six girls have surprised us with betrothal announcements. The graduating seniors honored were: Mary Elizabeth Burke, Nancy Gray, Barbara Chadwick, Caryll Mudd, Marion Hinton, Betty Weber, Katherine Fuller, Janet Carey, and Caroline Noble.

When finals and graduation were over, a whole group of girls left for an exciting tour of Europe. Those who left early in July were Marion Hinton, Louise Parks, Nancy Gray, Marion Rankin, and Caryll Mudd. Jean Campbell and Willma Richardson stayed out of school spring quarter to visit England for the coronation, and then stayed through the summer for an extended trip over the continent. Another lovely trip was taken by Betty Weber, who went on the North Cape cruise.

Each year Panhellenic sponsors a fashion show in San Francisco, and acting as models are fraternity girls from both Stanford and California. This year the Hotel Mark Hopkins was the scene of the show, and Mignon Hamlin from Phi modeled.

We are very happy to have Perry Bradford and Harriet Witbeck from Beta Xi living in the house this year.

CHI—Syracuse

During the summer Betty Yeoman as official representative of the chapter attended District convention at Burlington, Vermont. She was accompanied by Hildegard Haight, Evelyn Cleaves and Katharine Sherwood.

At the present our attention is focused upon rushing which will begin in a few days. We surely do miss the assistance of our graduating class, Barbara Hammond, Mary Jackson, Dorothy James, Marjorie Frick, Elsbeth Corrigan, Mary Ingalls, Jane Noerling, Martha Nicklas, Katharine Sherwood, Eleanor Howes, Nancy Ward and Lemoyne Markham.

And now congratulations are in order. Martha Nicklas and Mary Jackson received election to Phi Beta Kappa; Eleanor Howes, to Phi Kappa Phi; Dorothy James, to Delta Sigma Rho, honorary debating society; Martha Nicklas, to Phi Gamma Phi, honorary German society and also to Lambda Tau Rho, language honorary; Barbara Follay and Hildegard Haight, to Pi Lambda Theta, education society.

In addition to these we are proud of Jean Templeton, who won an award for being the most outstanding girl in the sophomore class; Marion Morgan, who is assistant manager of swimming and also an R.O.T.C. sponsor; Joan Hensel, manager of rifle; and Jane Whitney, a cheerleader.

We are happy to have with us Fifi Jacqueline Dulin, a transfer from Beta Omega, Colorado college.

Betty Yeoman, Hildegard Haight and Alice Terry are city girls living in the house this year.

Chi regrets that Louise James Rockwell, Mary Colt Wilcox, Grace Eaton and Miriam Kinne did not return to college this fall.

We wish to extend a welcome to the new chapter in our district at London, Ontario. Jean Ayling represented us at the installation ceremony during the later part of the summer.

It was a very pleasant surprise to return and find beautiful new soft rugs in the second floor bedrooms.

PSI—Wisconsin

This year we have three grand transfers living in the house. Alice Van Wagenen, Upsilon, is a sophomore in the school of business. Maryly LaFollette, Alpha Sigma, is a talented pianist in the school of music. Anne McGuffey, Alpha Omega, is majoring in speech.

We pledged eleven girls on September 26: Mary Ellen Grady, Ann Fish, Carol Ann Reis, and Jeanne Mueller, Madison; Marmion Harwood, Oshkosh; Mary Margaret Adams, Virginia Oerding, and Eunice Kenney, Milwaukee; Elizabeth Symonds, Chicago; Jeanne Falk, Wauwatosa; and Barbara Judd, St Louis, Missouri.

Our vice president, Mary Rowse, did not return but is attending Miss Brown's School of business in Milwaukee. Nancy Altemeier is also at Miss Brown's.

Mary Alice O'Leary is librarian in the River Forest, Illinois, library. She received her B.A. degree, and graduated from the Library school last June.

Lorraine Leavitt, another of last year's graduates, has been working in Marshall Fields in Chicago this past summer. Presently she plans to get into personnel work.

Jean Gardner and Adele Clithero are traveling in the west with Jean's parents. They plan to leave Los Angeles and travel up the coast to Vancouver, through Canada, and then home after a month or six weeks.

Becky Taylor, Memphis, Tennessee, isn't returning to school until February. She is going to make her debut at Christmas time.

Margaret Pelton will return to Madison for her senior year around the middle of October. She has been studying the dance in Sweden this past summer.

Virginia Bohn was here this last week to help us with rushing and told us of her plans to start a school of creative dramatics for young children. As she is talented herself, we know she will make a success of this undertaking.

ALPHA GAMMA—Ohio State

At the conclusion of a hectic rush week, Alpha Gamma welcomed twenty-six pledges: Donna Lee Brown, Martha Brush, Alyce Chambers, Katharine Crabbe, Patricia Frost, Rosemary Glenn, Henry Hall, Elizabeth A. Higley, Kathryn Houston, Betty Hoyer, Betty Irwin, Elisabeth Kiplinger, Ann Lindsey, Mary Louise Matt, Ruth Niceswanger, Ann Millholland, Emily Overstreet, Helen Pfening, Janet Pressler, Marcella Randall, Anna M. Sims, Betty J. Sipher, Marjorie Smith, Betsy Snyder, Virginia Tatje, Grace Vaughn.

It was difficult for those of us who attended the District III convention at Catawba Cliffs beach club last June to come back to thoughts of college, for we had such a marvelous time and have been brimming over with enthusiasm which even studies cannot dampen.

Last April ten pledges became proud Thetas: Rachel Bosart, Dorothy Bramble, Eleanor Craft, Elizabeth Martin, Jean Waid, Marian Willis, Frances Hester, Dorothy Miller, Geraldine Burrell and Katherine Findley.

Katharine Faulder succeeded Anne Rutherford as president of Browning dramatic society and also took office as vice-president of Strollers dramatic society. Carol Coffin is the new vice-president of Chi Delta Phi, national literary society. Mary Jane Allread has been appointed election and constitutional revision chairman for W.S.G.A. and Jean Waid is a sophomore secretary in the same organization.

Mary Helen Clinger was appointed to the finance committee and Jean Waid to the personnel committee of Y.W.C.A.

Barbara Brown, Mary Louise Painter, and Betty Doron were pledged during spring quarter.

We concluded the college year with an exchange spread with Kappa Kappa Gamma, a picnic and play-day, and the long-awaited and highly enjoyable spring formal which took place the week-end before final examinations.

ALPHA ETA—Vanderbilt

Alpha Eta is bursting with pride over its pledges. Under the successful leadership of Polly Ann Billington and Virginia Sturdivant, rush chairmen, we pledged: Ellen Bowers, Shirley Caldwell, Susan Cheek, Jeanne Gibson, Virginia McClellan, Susan Scoggins, Catherine Simpson, Jane Vance and Damaris Witherspoon, all of Nashville; Florence Abernathy, Pulaski; Whit Ola Driskill, Franklin; Josephine Elliot, Clarksville; Mary Ruth Franklin, Birmingham, Alabama; Mary Helen Henry, Hickman, Kentucky; Elva Hollins, Mt. Pleasant; Claire Elaine Johnson, Elyria, Ohio; Harriet Short, Spring Hill; Jean Smith, Statesboro, Georgia; and Mildred Vaughn, Port Arthur, Texas.

We can scarcely believe that our house is really the same one since the ingenious interior decorating has completely changed the effect. We are indebted to Kathryn Swiggart, who saw to it that the Theta house has yellow walls with cream woodwork and gray draperies.

Alpha Eta is proud to announce that Mary Helen Simpson won the Founders' medal, the award which goes to the senior who has made the highest average in the academic school.

Last June we bid tearful farewells to Mary Brown, Mary Jane Carney, Louise Hardison, Emmarvne Hartnett, Charlotte Humphreys, Patti King, Janet McFadden, Gilbertine Moore, Marjorie O'Steen, Dorothy Pardue, Juanita Roberts, Ethel Sara Scoggins and Mary Helen Simpson.

Janet McFadden was chosen a favorite at the Senior Prom in June.

Alpha Eta won the scholarship cup for the highest average made among women's groups last year.

ALPHA IOTA—Washington (St. Louis)

We are extremely happy with the outcome of this rush season. Pledging was held Thursday evening September 23 at Jeanne Brigham's. Those pledged are: Barbara Bain (daughter of Kate Child Bain) Evelyn Bloodworth, Virginia Bowman, Marjorie Chapman (sister of Betty) Virginia Anne Cook (daughter of Virginia Rhodes Cook) Mary Ann Davie, Martha Gildehaus, Nell Gee, Agnes Jane Gilliam, Jane Henderson (daughter of Marie Gallenkamp Henderson and sister of Alice) Alice Lloyd, Eleanor Meier (sister of Carol Meier Ledbetter) Barbara Moore, Jane Piou, Maria Quillion, Virginia Riesmeyer, Edwine Schmid and Helen Schmid (sisters of Marion Schmid Ward) Mary Jane Seigle, Dolly Schuyler, Marion Thoms and Mary Wilson.

Our Theta room in the Women's building has been completely redecorated and has many new pieces of furniture. We wish to thank Louise Oram Gibson, chairman of the alumnae rooms committee, for her untiring efforts which brought about the wonderful results.

Nine of us went to the District II convention at Lake Okoboji, Iowa. June Pentland was delegate.

The Mother's club presented scholarship prizes to Alice Henderson, sophomore; Jane Faust, junior; and Lorraine Lemmon, senior for the most improvement in grades in their classes, and to Emily Turman for the highest grades in the chapter.

The following girls received their degrees last June: Casha Bull, Dorothy Dittmann, Jane Fisher, Sara Guth, Dorothea Johnson, Lorraine Lemmon, Helen Mardorf and Lauramae Pippin.

Lauramae Pippin presided as May Queen on May 7. Jane Chivvis, June Pentland, Helen Mardorf and Martha Ann Smith were among those who carried the daisy chain.

Theta received the W.A.A. swimming trophy last spring. At convention Alpha Iota received three awards: for placing second in scholarship in the district, for swimming—won by June Pentland, and for golf—won by Sara Guth.

Jane Chivvis, June Pentland and Martha Ann Smith were tapped for Mortar board. Martha Ann Smith, Mary Ramsay and Charlotte Fairbank are on the Y.W.C.A. cabinet. Charlotte Fairbank is associate editor for the 1939 Hatchet, and Mary Ramsay is a member of freshman commission. Frances Willert won sophomore honors. Mary Louis Conrades is president of Phi Sigma Iota, romance language honorary.

Anne Elizabeth McChesney is librarian at the Highlands high school, Ft. Thomas, Ky.

ALPHA KAPPA—Adelphi

This year is a most important one in the history of Adelphi college. It marks the beginning of a new administration under Dr Paul Dawson Eddy, who gave a most inspiring and enthusiastic talk in chapel last Thursday.

Our rushing plan has been changed this year: for the first six weeks of school, there is free association on campus, followed by two weeks of rushing. Informal parties will be held on campus.

The class of '37 is heard from! Ruth Schlo-bohm has passed her teacher's exam in English. She was graduated magna cum laude in June. Audrey Mugler has a position on a Long Island newspaper. Annette Riordan is studying for her Master's degree at Columbia university.

Our May Festival, a new venture for Adelphi, was very successful last year. The campus was converted into a medieval village. The gay booths, the jesters, clowns, monks and knights made a brilliant background for the most important feature: Honor Court. The members of the court were selected from the best-looking and most outstanding girls of the four classes. Betty Rae Alger was a member from the freshman class.

Relia Brady was a member of Daisy Chain last spring, and is vice president of the Student association. Gladys Montgomery is on the staff of Fortnightly, college newspaper.

On May 11 Alpha Kappa gave its annual mothers' tea. This is one event that we all look forward to every year.

Janet Weeks gave a very delightful tea at her home September 12. We had an enjoyable time discussing the past summer and planning for the coming season.

Helen McKeon gave a shower in honor of Adele Nyland on September 8 at her home in Brooklyn. Adele was married on Saturday, September 18 to Herbert Cottrell. We were delighted to see Isabelle Beinert who attended the shower. She is now teaching in Kansas.

ELEANOR STACK

30 September 1937

Born: To Mr and Mrs H. P. Howerton (Doris Purrington) a son, Herbert Payne II, June 10.

New addresses: Lillian Wait Wilson (Mrs H. B.) 430 Union st. Hackensack, N.J.—Helen Backus Rankin (Mrs) c/o Mr Charles U. Backus, 145 Henry st. Brooklyn, N.Y.

ALPHA LAMBDA—Washington (Seattle)

The end of spring quarter was marked by the loss of our seniors, fourteen: Katharine Duffy, Beth and Charlotte Fitton, Elizabeth Montgomery, Barbara Strodoft, Mary Milne, Jane Roberg, Virginia Aetzel, Jean Bishop, Jane Stolle, Dorothy Diehl, Mary Haas, Mary

Shannon and Maxine Hornbeck; and also the loss of our much-beloved District president, Mrs Cochran. We found it hard to part with so many Theta friends. However, Senior breakfast was also a time for congratulations to sophomores Mary Webb and Paula Barton, as they won the inspirational ring and scholarship ring, respectively. Outside honors were awarded Kate Robbins, pledged to Totem club and Mortar board and Paula Barton, the new Standard's chairman.

Now we look forward with a pledge class of twenty-one. After formal pledging on pledge night, we had open-house, and then went to Brownie Ann Black's for a party, a scrumptious midnight supper topped off with a huge cake, decorated with a Theta badge made of frosting and surrounded with twenty-one candles.

The pledges are: Elizabeth Ambrose, Marian Bloomquist (daughter of Gladys Lovewell Bloomquist, Delta) Jane Brokaw (daughter of Fay Wright Brokaw, Alpha Nu) Betty Des Camp, Ingrid Flakstad, Betty Gibbs, Jane Griffiths, Katherine Huick, Jane Mathews, Virginia Petrich, Polly Poe, Seattle; Mary Anne McLaren, Edmonds; Nan Challacomb, Henna Culmbach, Margaret Anne Sevenich, Gretchen Ann Smith, Everett; Jeanne Ward, Kitsap; Mary Elizabeth Adams, Spokane; Lois Johnson, Vancouver; Peggy Moren and Patricia Ann Riley, Yakima.

Mr and Mrs H. W. McCurdy (Catherine McManus) returned in April from a four months trip to Mexico, Panama, the South Seas and Honolulu.

Beatrice Mercer Guenther (Mrs Stuart H.) returned in September from a four months trip to China, the Dutch East Indies and the Philippines.

Jean Argue is a designer in charge of the Charette school of costume design, Textile tower, Seattle.

Mayme Miller Hemphill (Mrs Wylie) was president of the Women's University club, 1936-7.

Catherine McManus McCurdy (Mrs H. W.) is secretary of the Art study guild at the Seattle Art Museum. Alice Frein Johnson (Mrs Jesse Charles) Mary Erchenbrack Hennessey (Mrs A. E.) painter of attractive murals, and Elizabeth Weikel Cornue (Mrs Donald) are also prominent workers in this guild.

Marjorie Duryea will spend the coming year in Geneva, Switzerland, at the School of international languages.

ALPHA MU—Missouri

Kappa Alpha Theta this year, as last year, succeeded in acquiring the largest pledge class on the campus when rush week terminated September 11 with the pledging of 31 girls. They are: Jane Carr, Augusta, Kansas; Marjorie Cherry, Shawnee, Oklahoma; Margaret Jane Clothier and Gertrude Guinn, Tulsa, Oklahoma; Mary Davidson, Mary Graham, Jean Guernsey, Harriet Jones, Jean Martin and Orilla Ann Trippe, Kansas City; Sue Davis (sister of Julia) Macon; Jeanette de Wyl (sister of Mildred) and Catherine Oakerson, Jefferson City; Laura Louise Dille, Maplewood; Patricia Draper, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; Jane Edgerly, St. Petersburg, Florida; Marjorie Ellis, Betty Gray, Maxine Lehnen and Gloria Phillips (niece of Bess) Columbia; Marie Hansen, Memphis, Tennessee; Mary Hodson, Kirkwood; Nancy Holden, Albany; Jane Logan, Nevada; Louise Moser, Lee's Summit; Earlene O'Flaherty, Little Blue; Virginia Roberts, Denver, Colorado; Rebecca Rule, Louisiana; Stevia Slaught-ter (sister of Melba) Gashland; Jean Stokes, Malden; and Anna Louise Zimmerman, Law-son.

At a tea at the chapter house on October 3, we introduced our pledges to the men of the campus.

During the summer the entire house was redecorated. The re-upholstered furniture and new venetian blinds do much to add to the attractiveness of the first floor. The new radio and new victrola were also welcomed additions.

Before college closed last spring three Thetas received outstanding honors. Betty Bean was chosen one of the Savitar queens. Dorothea Jacobs achieved the highest scholastic average made in the history of the business and public administration college. Mary Clinch was appointed women's editor of the Missouri Student.

At the annual Farmers' Fair horse show, Mary Marshall Mahan, Lorene Mabry and Lisette Eschenheimer won the cup for Theta. As this was the third consecutive victory, the cup will be ours permanently.

We are happy to have Sally Chase, Alpha Iota, and Mary O'Connor, Alpha Upsilon, with us as transfers this year and Avis Green and Virginia Henwood as post graduates.

ALPHA NU—Montana

Alpha Nu feels proud of the pledging of seventeen girls under the newly established quota system installed for the first time on the Montana university campus. The pledges are: Eileen Hamilton, Vivian Olson, Missoula; Kathryn Hinkey, Virginia Lathom, Polly Ryan, Billings; Frances Whittinghill, Emily Lou Marlow, Helena; Dorothy Markus, Jurine Wermager, Whitefish; Margaret Love, Miles City; Drea O'Connell, Butte; Borg-hild Rigg, Havre; Maxine Roehl (sister of Judith) Lewiston; Bruce Ann Radigan, Shelby; Helen Lundeen (sister of Margaret) Poplar; Hazel Vial, Pasadena, California; Mary Williams, Pendleton, Oregon.

We are proud of members who hold important offices on campus. Virginia Flanagan is chairman of the Publications board; Phyllis Smith is on the Student union executive board; Dorothy Markus, pledge, is a member of Mortar board; and Pat Benson, Jean Ruenuver and Caryl Jones were tapped Tannan-of-Spur during Track meet week, last spring.

Returning we were pleasantly surprised to find that the entire inside of the house, including all the wood-work, had been given a fresh coat of paint. And with the diligent application of many paint brushes during the first week of college on dresser tops and lamps, the entire house is now bright and shining.

We are looking forward to the banquet for pledges October 2, as well as to the fire-side and fall formal to be held later on in the quarter.

ALPHA XI—Oregon

Through graduation Alpha Xi lost Josephine McGilchrist, Kay Coney, Jayne Bowerman, Dorothe Hagge, Harriet Kistner, Rachel Platt and Mary Fitch Wernham. Kay Coney and Mary Fitch Wernham graduated with honors and Jayne Bowerman was elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

We had a boom in activities this year. We are very proud of three members on A.W.S. council: Phyllis Gardner, A.W.S. secretary, Elisabeth Stetson, head of Frosh counselors, and Brandon Young, president of heads of houses. Brandon is also president of Mu Phi Epsilon, music honorary, and was elected to Mortar board. Theta has two members on the Y.W.C.A. cabinet, Barbara Espy, president of the sophomore commission and Laurie Sawyer, membership chairman. Among others honored were Elisabeth Stetson and Dorothy Magnuson, who were elected to Phi Theta Upsilon, junior women's service group. Thetas elected to Kwama, sophomore women's service organization, were Patsy Warren and Patsy Taylor, also secretary of Panhellenic. Laurie Sawyer and Elizabeth Robins (transfer from Beta Epsilon) were elected to Pi Delta Phi, French honorary.

Returning Thetas were surprised to find that during the summer the living room had been charmingly redecorated and the library had been refinished and expanded. We sincerely hope that many alumnae will return to enjoy them with us.

Enthusiasm for a fine year runs high with sixteen pledges as a result of a successful rush week captained by Dorothy Good, rushing chairman. They are Nancy Cooper (daughter of Susan Hayes Cooper) Geraldine Eastham, Margaret Addlesich, Jean Groves, Jean Broughton, Rosemary Geneste, Portland; Barbara Washburn (sister of Kay) Lois Onthank (daughter of Ruth MacLaren Onthank and sister of Betty) Mary Booth, Marjorie Ellen Titus, Eugene; Patsy Smith, Medford; Joan Hoke, Pendleton; Barbara Fulton (sister of Mary) Seaside; Pat Wethered, Great Falls, Montana; Pat Gore, Maryneal Gore, Highlands, California.

ALPHA OMICRON—Oklahoma

Twenty-one girls were pledged September 15: Bette Kilpatrick (daughter of Evaline Atwood Kilpatrick) Madeline Offutt, Ruth Rutherford and Mary Margaret Smith, Oklahoma City; Margaret Jones and Lavonne Rayburn, Tulsa; Dorothy Bennett and Frances Carson (sister of Mary Jane) Shawnee; Mary Jane Brooks, Mangum; Juliet Hardtner, Alexandria, Louisiana; Betty Coleman and Jane Healy, Wichita, Kansas; Biddie Johnston, Sallisaw; Bette Kearns, Amarillo, Texas; Babs Lawton, Bartlesville; Gloria Love (daughter of Gladys Williams Love) Purcell; Mary Elizabeth Champlin and Lois

Morell (sister of Helen) Enid; Margaret Morrison, Coffeyville, Kansas; Bettie Randall (sister of Billie) Blackwell; and Manon Bagg, Muskogee. Manon is the granddaughter of Mrs Tookah Butler Turner, Ep-silon.

The pledges were introduced at an open house given October 3.

Last spring Alpha Omicron won the intramural sports cup for the third consecutive year. The trophy is now the chapter's permanent possession. Ruth Darling was a year-book queen, and Pat Kennedy and Mary Locke were featured in the book's beauty section. Babs Lawton has the lead in The curtain rises, first playhouse production of the year. Mary Margaret Smith was elected secretary-treasurer of the freshman class. Betty Larimore is serving on the staffs of Sooner yearbook and Covered Wagon, student magazine, besides holding offices on the Y.W.C.A. and W.S.G.A. cabinets.

ALPHA PI—North Dakota

Theta's kite is sailing high here this fall with nine initiates and eleven pledges with which to begin the school year. Initiates are Florence Dicker, Eleanor Eide, Alice Forkner, Adelaide Hanson, Marion Lund, Rosalyn Nielsen, Jean Smith, Jean Stebbins, and Verone Wagness. After a week of rushing we were proud to pledge Lenora Baukol, Margaret Cashel, Ruth Chance, Ann Ertresvaag, Deloris Fruh, Jane Gilbertson, Martha Lou Johnson, Thorice Sveen, Elizabeth Taylor, Patricia Tisdale and Eleanor Wold.

Honors received by Thetas last spring were a source of great joy. Ellen Bek was elected to Mortar board and also elected vice-president of the Y.W.C.A. senior cabinet. Lucille Simpson was chosen to be one of the few Campus Sisters whose duty is to help freshman girls in every way possible to adjust themselves to university life. Ellen Bek and Eleanor Thompson were chosen Grey Gowns for last spring's commencement exercises. Patricia and Margaret Duffy were ushers at the summer school commencement. Thelma Nielsen was initiated into Nu Delta Pi, home economics society, of which Kathryn Kalbfleisch was elected secretary-treasurer. Betty Berg and Eleanor Thompson were initiated into National collegiate players.

Conventions seemed to be quite popular this last summer. Ellen Bek was one of the delegates sent to the Y.W.C.A. meeting in Geneva, Wisconsin. Eleanor Thompson, having been elected president of Zeta Phi Eta, women's national professional speech fraternity, was automatically selected to go to the national convention held in New York City. Of course we must not forget our own District convention which Kathryn Kalbfleisch and Eleanor Vold attended at Lake Okoboji, and from which they brought back many fine suggestions.

Thelma and Rosalyn Nielsen toured Europe during the summer and have told us many of their thrilling experiences.

We were sorry to lose Margaret Bensen and Mary Louise Nuessle who transferred to the Universities of Washington and Wisconsin respectively. One of our last year's pledges, Sabey Driggs, moved to Idaho this fall, and we were very happy to learn that she has again pledged Theta at Idaho.

ELEANOR THOMPSON

27 September 1937

Married: Elizabeth P. Chapple to Norman S. Sinness, Aug. 28. 410 Catherine st. Cincinnati, O.—Margaret Thompson to Carl Lehrkind, Sept. 8.—Bettie Hamlin to Ernest O. Nybakken, Apr. 30. 633 S. Governor st. Iowa City, Iowa.

Born: To Mr and Mrs Armin Rohde (Joy Suter) a daughter, Pamela Joy.—To Mr and Mrs S. L. Mason (Margaret Lovell) a son, Sept. 11.

New addresses: Helen Swansen Bolen (Mrs T. M.) Hamilton Field, San Rafael, Calif.—Mary Chapple and Eleanor Buckman, 2600 Pleasant av. Apt. 305, Minneapolis, Minn.—Irma Carstens, 413 N. Byrkit, Mishawaka, Ind.—Marion O'Connor Early (Mrs F. J.) 330 Columbia av. Pomona, Calif.—Florence Beachem Lange (Mrs Edward) 2700 Harrison st. Wilmington, Del.—Rachel Hahn Larson (Mrs Dick) 1030 Nicolett av. Minneapolis, Minn.

ALPHA RHO—South Dakota

Alpha Rho takes great pleasure in announcing 13 pledges: Carroll Willson, Aberdeen; Anita LeGrave, Mitchell; Ruth Rempler, Parkston; Marian Farmer, Maria Deere, Janice Brookman, Vermillion; Marian Mellow, Watertown; Ruth Hunter, Topeka, Kansas; Helen Gibbs, Highmore; Fern Phillips, Dell Rapids; Harriet Knox, Salem; Harriet Bakewell, Plankington; Jane Robertson, Huron.

Marjorie Norton was repledged. The chapter has nineteen active members. Helen Ferrier, who spent last year in Southern California, is with us again, as are Shirley Gillman and Shirley Reynolds.

Faith Bauman and Eleanore Morrison were initiated September 19.

We are grateful to our alumnae for their excellent support. Miriam Jordan, Mary Alice Cahalan Melham (Mrs M. A.) and Anne Riley were back for rush week. Alice Losleben, Ruth Johnson, Ruth Martens and Constance Deere were here for pledging and initiation. The town alumnae, who are ever helpful, gave a lovely tea for us at the home of Mrs Collins.

With the help of alumnae we added to the charm of the house with venetian blinds, new draperies and new maple dining room furniture.

ELEANORE MORRISON

28 September 1937

Married: Dr. Ruth A. Frary to Dr. Jerome A. Ludden, jr. June 12. Children's Hospital, 8700 California st. San Francisco, Calif.—Mary Alice Cahalan to Morton A. Melham, June 26. Temple apts. Watertown, S.D.—Dawn Herrick to Maris Dean Burgess, Oct. 16. 617 1st st. N.W. Watertown, S.D.

New addresses: Robena Jameson Fellows (Mrs Fred Y.) 1209 S. Main av. Sioux Falls, S.D.—Jennie Maule Gillette (Mrs Paul) 36 Chapel rd. Kenmore, N.Y.—Dorothy Hartman, Freeman, S.D.—Olive White Held (Mrs Milbert W.) 616 E. Lexington, Milwaukee, Wis.—Margaret Reid Noble (Mrs H. B.) 1501 Poppy Peak dr. Pasadena, Calif. Charlotte Simons, 401 4th av. S. Belle Fourche, S.D.—Alfreda Sleep, 214 N. 6th st. Spearfish, S.D.

ALPHA SIGMA—Washington State

Traditional Squeal Night on the Washington State campus heard gleeful shrieks coming from the Kappa Alpha Theta house for seventeen new pledges: Jane Burgunder (daughter of Ruth D'Pledge Burgunder) Seattle; Lenore Talley (daughter of Cecil Benjamin Talley and sister of Jean) Spokane; Katherine Prior (sister of Dorothy) Yakima; Harriet Fulton (sister of Helen) and Lucille Lindahl (sister of Laurette and Elvine) Everett; Mary Trowbridge (sister of Martha) Seattle; Sara Brown, Margaret Glendenning, Betty Porter, Jacqueline Nelson, Jean Miller and Jane Wilson, Spokane; Esther Ostrem and Patricia Winney, Tacoma; Maxine Thomas and Jean Paine, Wenatchee; and Joyce Johnson, Pullman.

This fall saw the opening of a large new women's dormitory and the near completion of a modern women's gymnasium. On November 1 we shall welcome new neighbors on the corner of A and California streets; Phi Kappa Tau has built a new house.

Back in its old place is the scholarship cup, won by Theta for the ninth consecutive semester. We owe its possession to the fine records of some of the 1937 graduates. Judith Schaefer graduated with highest honors, Rhoda Le Cocq with high honors and June Gay and Helen Taylor with honors.

The annual Dads' week-end was held early this year when W.S.C. and Idaho met on the gridiron. Despite a drizzling rain, dads returned to the house hilarious from seeing the Cougars win 13-0. Better singers than their daughters were the dads as they outdid themselves in old favorites.

We are happy to have Barbara Fairchild president of the Associated women students. She and Helen Wersen are members of Mortar board. Jane Wilson is junior woman on the Board of control. Bernadine Turner has a big job ahead of her as social chairman of A.W.S. Betty Cooper, vice-president of Y.W.C.A. was also elected regional chairman of Y.W.C.A. at the Seabeck conference this summer. Besides Betty on the local Y.W. cabinet are Margaret Nail, Esther Flagg and Barbara Fairchild. Helen Lewis begins her second year as a sponsor of the R.O.T.C. unit, while Barbara Fairchild and Bernadine Turner were chosen this fall. Jane Burgunder has a leading role in the first fall play, Moor born. Judy McWhorter has been named day editor and Mary Barratt, associate society editor of the Evergreen. In addition to being a member of the Evergreen staff, Judy McWhorter is women's fraternity editor of the Chinook. Helen Fulton and Lucille Lindahl are also on the Chinook staff. Mary Alene McCuaig is on the Booster committee and Helen Lewis is chairman of the Health committee.

It is nice to have Ruth Bantz back at college, but we miss Louise Turner and Maryly LaFollette. Alpha Sigma says "hello" to Louise, who has transferred to the University of Washington and to Maryly, who has transferred to the University of Wisconsin. Helen Neill, was fortunate in receiving a teaching position in a girls' school, Lycee de jeunes filles, Saint Quentin, Aisne, France.

HELEN WERSEN

1 October 1937

Married: Margaret Ida McMurray to Irving W. Swanson, Apr. 18. 1230 New Hampshire av. 801, Washington, D.C.—Virginia Berryman to Irving Philip Glen, December 1936. Caxia 687, c/o S. J. Christoph Co. Coupeville, Wash.—Kathryn Vandercook to Donald G. Ulrich, Sept. 20, 1936. 1227 W. 5th st. Spokane, Wash.

Born: To Mr and Mrs Lyle Downey (Dorothy MacLeod) a daughter, Britta Gay, Feb. 21 1840 Anderson st. Manhattan, Kan.—To Mr and Mrs J. Richard Hughes (Frances Smith) a son, Richard Smith, Mar. 17.—To Mr and Mrs Eldon N. Harvey (Marjorie MacLeod) a daughter, Donna Marie, July 10, 1936.—To Mr and Mrs Carville Sparks (Dorothy Frederick) a son, Rodger Carville, in December 1936.

New addresses: Margaret Adams Brennan (Mrs T. F.) Box 286, Rt. 1, Oswego, Ore.—Dorothy James Keane (Mrs Roger) 1431 N.E. 21st av. Portland, Ore.—Rosalie Alexander Kuhn (Mrs William) 1034 N.E. Grand av. Portland, Ore.—Aileen Maguire Leary (Mrs R. B.) Orofino, Ida.—Virginia Parr Nasmyth (Mrs J. H.) 937 Sheridan av. Cody, Wyo.—Hellen May Dunlap Pester (Mrs Benjamin) 4815 47th st. N.W. Washington, D.C.—Marian Neill Snow (Mrs A. G.) 19 Compton st. New Haven, Conn.—Margaret Wells Tompkins (Mrs Richard) 92 Davis st. Santa Cruz, Calif.—Edith Grobe Whitney (Mrs Howard) 120 N. Jackson av. Moscow, Ida.—Christine Crites Francker (Mrs Charles, 411 N. M st. Tacoma, Wash.

Martha Miller Griffith (Mrs A. V.) spent the past year in Peiping where her two sons attended school.

ALPHA TAU—Cincinnati

Alpha Tau has just completed one of the most successful rush seasons ever. The new house, of course, was the big attraction and we are happy to have such an excellent pledge class to share with us the advantages of our wonderful new home. On September 25 we pledged twenty girls: Sue Backman (daughter of Jeanette Stone Backman, charter member of Alpha Tau) Amy Alpaugh (sister of Ada) Muriel Beucus (sister of Hazel) Marian Brutton (sister of Jane) Betty Bengert, Virginia Ficks, Phyllis Galloway, Betty Griffith, Virginia Hahn, Frances Hezlep, Helen Hitchcock, Dorothy Johnson, Elaine Ledbetter, Betty Jane Menefee, Betty Oberhelman, Betty Renter, Ann Roberts, Helen Siekman, Dorothy Wilson and Ruth Wuerdeman.

We have so many new things right now that it's rather difficult to realize that they're all true and real—new house, new furniture, new pledges, and new house mother. The house mother, Mrs Estelle Holliday, is a charming woman who is fast becoming a good friend to everyone in the chapter.

Sunday, October 3, Alpha Tau had open house for other fraternities on campus. The following Sunday, our next door neighbors, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, are giving a tea dance in honor of our pledges. October 29 Alpha Tau will present its pledges formally to the public at the Formal pledge dance at the Hotel Sinton ballroom.

Of special interest on our campus recently has been the drive for the sale of season tickets to the Cincinnati symphony concerts. Jane Dillencourt, a member of the city Women's Committee, has reserved a block of seats for all Thetas attending the concerts. Before our first formal chapter meeting September 27, pledges and members went together to a symphony dinner at the University of Cincinnati's very new and modern Student union building.

Two of last year's seniors, Betty Gustetter and Jane Schrader, are engaged in interesting radio work over Cincinnati's stations. Betty has a position on the dramatic staff of WSAI; Jane conducts several programs for WCPO and recently interviewed over the air Adelaide Kern, our president and Virginia Ficks, one of our pledges.

We are very happy to welcome Betty Akin from Beta Rho and Mary Baxter from Gamma deutron.

3 October 1937

Married: Ada Alpaugh to Herbert I. Brown, jr. 3411 Clifton av. Cincinnati, Ohio.—Dorothy Chambers to Charles Dexter, July 14. 3441 Stettinius av. Cincinnati, Ohio.—Frances Jones to Joseph G. Poetker, Aug. 10. 2379 Park av. Cincinnati, Ohio.

Born: To Mr and Mrs R. G. Bower (Mary Carothers) a son, May 1.—To Mr and Mrs Allen E. Grimes (Sara Frances Newman) a son, Allen Evans III, Aug. 3.—To Mr and Mrs J. W. Melville (Jane Akin) a son, Charles Hartley, Jan. 18. Compton Hills dr. Wyoming, Ohio.

New addresses: Ruth Phelps Bilbe (Mrs C. W.) 2255 N. 62nd st. Wauwatosa, Wis.—Russell Coles Butts (Mrs Gordon) 231 Ridgewood av. Allandale, Fla.—Ruth Carothers Campbell (Mrs C. A.) 1372 Seward av. Detroit, Mich.—Peggie Darlington Crum (Mrs Louis V.) 3718 Broadview dr. Hyde Park, Cincinnati, Ohio.—Minerva Powell Gano (Mrs F. W.) 6650 Barnaby st. Washington, D.C.—Gertrude Kemp Reade (Mrs Ralph) 47 Crescent rd. Port Washington, L.I. N.Y.—Jane Kendall Seamans (Mrs S. D.) Rancho Rivino, Box 195, Rt. 2, Riverside, Calif.—Margaret Dunlop Weaver (Mrs R. G.) Cooper rd. Montgomery, Ohio.

ALPHA UPSILON—Washburn

We are happy to announce our pledges: Delores Holman, Atchison; Marion Hughes, Parsons; Edna Burlin, Eldorado; Dorothy Dunham and Martha Gammon, Chanute; Mary Campbell, Jean Staley, Marlys Hunt, Betty Down, Burdette Holm, Patsy Strawn, Helen Beard and Mary Louise Alexander, all of Topeka.

Betty Gillman, Helene Hawkins, Dorothy Joss and Kathleen Mansfield were graduated last year.

By winning first in golf doubles, shuffleboard, ping pong and tenniquois, we were able to win the all-year intramural championship plaque. Mary Hogeboom was our manager. Our W.A.A. officers this year are: Mary Hogeboom, president; Rowena May, vice president.

Betty Carswell tied Ruth Parry, who has had the scholarship ring for three years, by making all "A's," so the scholarship ring will be worn by Ruth first semester and by Betty second semester.

Barbara King, Valerie Whitcomb, Mary Hogeboom and Betty Carswell are on the Student council. Betty Carswell, Ruth Parry and Mary Wardin were taken into Quill club and Betty Lou Ufford was elected president of this group. Barbara King was elected president of Panhellenic. Mary Hogeboom was elected to the board of publications and Barbara Mansfield was elected vice president of the junior class.

Out of six girls elected to the women's honorary society, Nonoso, we had three; Valerie Whitcomb, Ruth Parry and Mary Hogeboom. Betty Eldon was elected president of Blue Peppers, girls' honorary pep organization. Mary Hogeboom, Betty Carswell, Betty Lou Ufford, Diane Beauchamp, Valerie Whitcomb and Ruth Parry are on the staff of Washburn Players. Helene Hawkins was elected queen of the Junior-Senior Prom last year.

We feel almost as though we have a new house, since we have new wallpaper, new drapes, tables, lamps and even a new cook.

ANNE LEE WYATT

29 September 1937

Married: Adair MacFarlane to Jack Caldwell, May 23. 810 W. 11th, Topeka, Kan.—Frances Hughes to John Stafford Bostwick, Sept. 14. Sabetha, Kan.

Des Moines, Iowa.—Elizabeth Manson Whitlow (Mrs D. W.) Box 403, Hutchinson, Kan.—Margaret Woods, 725 Washington st. Evanston, Ill.

ALPHA PHI—Newcomb

Rushing, which began September 20, has found all of us up and doing. We are giving two parties. The first was a Gingham party at the home of Elizabeth Harvey Dicks. It was an informal affair and a good time was had by all. On September 26 we will entertain again at a tea dance at the Orleans club.

Newcomb elections held last spring resulted in the appointment of Mary Walker to the presidency of the Art school and to Beta Delta (art society); of Katie Butt as member of the Student council and secretary of the dormitory; of Mary Shapard as treasurer of the junior class and member of the dormitory council; and of Elizabeth Baker as vice president of the Art club.

In the beauty section of the Jambalaya Alpha Phi was proud to have two out of the eight chosen. They were Nita Baker and Wilmanell Gladden. Honorable mention went to Florence Hendrick.

Mrs Grasett's visit last April was both a pleasure and a benefit to Alpha Phi. She was entertained at a luncheon and a supper, besides other informal gatherings.

Our spring dance on April 30 at the Yacht club and our annual luncheon held in May at the Country club claimed an important place in the chapter's social activities of the year.

Alpha Phi regrets the loss through graduation of Adrienne Gottschalk, May Hendrick, Dorothy Kelly and Martha Robertson. Alpha Phi was especially proud of Martha Robertson's election to Phi Beta Kappa and Adrienne Gottschalk's winning a poster prize.

At graduation Mary Walker was awarded prizes for the best collection in jewelry work and oil painting.

MARY UTLEY

25 September 1937

Married: Florence Ethel Singreen to Dr Charles Richard Walters, June 24. Holston Valley Community Hospital, Kingsport, Tenn.—Catherine Payne to Edgar M. Rea, jr. Sept. 21. 7030 Hickory st. New Orleans, La.—Elizabeth Egolf to Walter Hamilton Hill, Aug. 2. 1315 Main st. Peoria, Ill.

New addresses: Frances Hirn Baker (Mrs H. S.) Allen Academy, Bryan, Tex.—Helen Gladney Schnee (Mrs J. K.) 3038 Upperline st. New Orleans, La.—Irene Gayden Yancey (Mrs C. L.) 2105½ Highland av. Shreveport, La.

ALPHA CHI—Purdue

College opened September 17 after three hectic days of registration. With a record enrollment of over six thousand Purdue campus is crowded. The enrollment of girls was almost doubled, and as a result there are many more going through rush.

Rush starts Saturday, October 2, with an open house tea and continues through the next Thursday. During the two weeks previous to formal rushing we have become acquainted with the girls, and it all seems very promising.

There are two new women's groups on campus: Delta Epsilon and Pedallion, both local. Delta Epsilon hopes to obtain a Phi Mu charter. We are certainly glad these organizations are on campus as we need them.

The opening football game with Butler brought back many alumnæ whom we were glad to see once again. Many Butler Thetas also visited us, and everyone had a marvelous week-end.

The second semester of last year saw Theta fourth in scholarship among women's fraternities. We have begun this new year with the intention to be on top in the next report.

We will initiate six girls this fall, which means that every girl pledged last year has become a member. This is the first time that Alpha Chi has been able to boast of such an achievement.

One of Purdue's oldest traditions has been that the senior men wear gold corduroy trousers. This year the senior women, not to be outdone by the "eds," are donning cream colored corduroy skirts.

Evanston, Ill.—Beatrice Jamison Waterbury (Mrs Neil) 3115 College av. Alton, Ill.—Harriet Findley Wilson (Mrs Paul) N. 2nd st. Clarksville, Tenn.

Ruth Brandenburg, who finished at De Pauw in August, is now an assistant in the Child Welfare station, and also doing graduate work at Iowa.

Dorothy Reynolds is a social case worker for the Children's bureau of the Indianapolis Orphans home.

ALPHA PSI—Lawrence

Three Thetas were honored at the May day ceremony held last spring. Hester White was crowned May Queen and Helen Cloyd and Mildred Gaenge were chosen as two of her five attendants. At the class day exercises June 12 Marian Humleker received the junior spade as the most outstanding girl of her class. She was also elected to Mortar board.

Theta ranked first in scholarship with an average of 1.775 for the year. The inter-sorority athletic plaque was also won by Theta with first place in swimming, basketball and bowling, and second in volleyball.

Using some of the many new ideas and songs that Ruth Chapelle and Margaret Seip brought back from District X's convention at Lake Okoboji, Iowa, Alpha Psi rushed and pledged twenty-three girls. The new pledges are Betty Bosser, Elizabeth Catlin, Audrey Galpin (daughter of Anne Stroud Galpin) and Katherine Young (sister of Mary) Appleton; Margaret Banta (daughter of Margaret Killen Banta, past Grand president) and Kathryn Tuchsherer, Menasha; Janet Basche, Wauwatosa; Jean Bennie (sister of Doris) Jeanne Surplice and June Selvy, Green Bay; Allyn Joy Austin and Virginia Richardson, Evanston, Illinois; Helen Glenon, Dolores Lewis and Miriam Lee Porter, Chicago, Illinois; Catherine Helmer (sister of Ethel) Iron River; Helen O'Hara, Menominee, Michigan; Harriet Peters and Mary Agnes Sheldon, Milwaukee; Rosemary Tindall, Rockford, Illinois; Katharine Tyler, Stevens Point; Ann Blakeman, Ann Arbor, Michigan; and Martot Gilbert, Neenah.

Jean Meyer, rushing chairman and Mary Young, Barbara Rounds, Betty White and Florette Zuelke, her assistants, took charge of the parties which included a casino party where bingo, dice, a roulette wheel and black jack were played. Paper money was given to all and the winners could choose one of the prizes which were novelty animals and jewelry. Refreshments, served by Margaret Seip dressed as a typical fat host, were hot dogs, root beer and pretzels.

In the near future we plan to have a joint frolic with one of the other women's fraternities. In this way we hope to increase Panhellenic friendships.

ALPHA OMEGA—Pittsburgh

On April 14 Thyrsa Agnes Amos was elected president of W.S.G.A., and at the same election Marion Briney and Margaret Trussel became secretary and treasurer of the Women's athletic association, respectively; Jean Hipple was elected secretary of Women's choral; Betty Adams was chosen as junior class president and Betty Teal as sophomore class treasurer.

Then came Tap day May 1—part of our Spring festival celebration. These Thetas were tapped to honoraries: to Mortar board, Thyrsa Agnes Amos, Jean Barnes, June Greene and Janet Wilson; to Theta Alpha Phi (dramatic) Mary Annette Campbell; to Cwen, Marion Briney, Betty Shrom and Betty Teal; as alumnæ Cwen, Jean Hipple; and to Xylon (journalistic) June Greene. Now Janet Wilson is Mortar board's president and Jean Barnes its historian.

Janet Wilson is a justice on Senior Court. Beverly Childress is chairman of W.S.G.A.'s curriculum committee. Sally Digby is in charge of the Transfer committee, under W.S.G.A. Jean Barnes is chairman of Publications committee, which publishes the women's student handbook, and W.S.G.A. editor.

Grand as this year seems with all our activities, we take time to mourn the absence of Ann McGuffey, transferred to Wisconsin, and Barbara Clark, working in the Mellon national bank. Virginia Wray is back in college after a year's absence, and we're clapping hands over that.

BETA BETA—Randolph-Macon

Beta Beta is proud of Virginia Iglehart, president of the senior class.

Our house in "The Pines" was redecorated during the summer and looks very like home with its added comforts.

Three juniors did not return: Elizabeth Schiltz, taking her junior year in Tours, France; Barbara Belknap, attending the University of Texas; and Anne Catharine Young, attending a business college in Lexington, Kentucky.

Miss Susie Ames, instructor in history and Beta Beta's sympathetic adviser, is on sabbatical leave. She is working at her home in Pungotiaque on her Ph.D. dissertation.

Betty Overstreet will graduate in January, so it was necessary to elect someone to fill out her term as chapter president. The new president is Elizabeth Thomas.

Closed rushing began September 26, with teas at all the houses. A second group of teas was given September 28. Our guests were welcomed on the playdeck of the S.S. Kappa Alpha Theta. The clock had been turned back to morning, and the deck steward served bouillon and sandwiches to the passengers in their deck chairs. The last tea will be Friday, October 1, and will be a formal one. Rushees will be presented with corsages of yellow rosebuds tied with black and gold ribbon. The signing of preference slips is scheduled for the morning of October 2. Beta Beta plans to have its pledging services that night, followed by a banquet.

BETA GAMMA—Colorado State

Thrills, joy, romance, rushing, bring us back to school. Open house tea on September 13 started rush week. It was ended triumphantly for Kappa Alpha Theta with the pledging of twelve girls: Ruth Goeder, Eleanor Lee Deming, Fort Collins; Maxine Herron, Dorothy Jane Swanson, Denver; Nancy Jane Rundle, Maxine Hoge and Sally Hartman, Longmont; Mildred and Margaret Hamil, Sterling; Betty Gay Hamnett, Greeley; Jean DeVoe, Mason City, Iowa; and Charlotte vande Steeg, Orange City, Iowa. Pledges were presented to campusites who called at our open house the following Saturday.

We were fortunate in having Mrs Moore, District president, with us for a few days during rush week—she was indeed an inspiration to us all. Too, several Denver alumnae came to help us top off rush week. We are also happy to have a new house mother this year—a Theta from Kappa chapter—Mrs Myrtle Simons of San Diego, California, sister of Mrs Lebrecht, former Grand president.

This fall our colors are flying high. Betty Jane Nieder, Donna Bailey, Lois Mae Flanders and Mary Anne Inglefield represent us in Spur. In Hesperia are Georgia Lee Seyster and Julia Shellabarger. Tio, new Colorado State senior honorary, tapped Josephine Hoge and Maxine Herron last spring. Maxine is also president of Associated women students, and a member of Student council; Josephine is society editor of the Collegian.

Betty Gay Hamnett, freshman, and Julia Shellabarger, junior, were elected to Student council. Mary Brownell and Julia Shellabarger are new members of the A.W.S. council.

We are especially happy to welcome Betty Ruth Treece, transfer from Beta Omega.

October promises great fun—early this month we shall present Mrs Simons at a tea and pledges will be guests at our fall formal, October 16. Lois Mae Flanders, Charlotte Louthan, Tryphena and Tryphosa Purcell were initiated October 3.

TRYPHOSA PURCELL

1 October 1937

Married: Alice E. Auld to G. Aubrey Young, Sept. 12. R.D. 1, Quarryville, Pa.—Roberta Sylvester to Don R. Conner, April 15. Shady Side Academy, Box 7374, Pittsburgh (13) Pa.—Caroline Edwards to Orman Tucker, May 31.—Lucille Carlson to Charles Terrill, Aug. 30

New addresses: Elizabeth Burton Bard (Mrs Donald) 14 Ivy st. Suite 510, Boston, Mass.—Frances Schall Bryons (Mrs Clyde) 545 E. Willetta, Phoenix, Ariz.—Caroline Albers Hilton (Mrs Harry K.) 33 Brook terr. Leonia, N.J.—Margaret Graham Horsley (Mrs Wendell R.) College Station, Tex.—Margaret Stilson King (Mrs Richard) Langlois, Ore.—Virginia Curry Leinbach (Mrs Fred H.) 831 Whedbee, Ft. Collins, Colo.—Sylvia Horsley McCracken (Mrs R. R.) 1315 S. Sherman, Denver, Colo.—Margery Ardrey Sewell (Mrs Dan) 1025 N.E. 16th, Oklahoma City, Okla.

BETA DELTA—Arizona

From scattered corners of the country come Beta Delta's twenty-four pledges: Constance Foss, Melton, Massachusetts; Shirley Weirich (daughter of Carolyn McClarren Smalley, Alpha Omega) Ontario, California; Olivia Little, Evanston, Illinois; Marjorie and Katherine Kiddie, sisters, San Marino, California; Sally Jane Davis (daughter of Katherine Dolman Davis, Kappa) Harlingen, Texas; Janet Gould, Tacoma, Washington; Katherine Boswell, Corcoran, California; Dorothy Easton, Peoria, Illinois; Maude Graves, Hollywood, California; Jean Tillett, Peru, Indiana; Eleanor Loomis, Miami; Helen DeMund, Frankie Mae Luke, Teresa Stelzer, Patsy Penny, Phoenix; Mary Jane Boyle, Lois Kerby, Jeanne Richey, Chandler Darden, Janice Park, Virginia Sims, Jean Hamilton (sister of Suzanne) and Alice Tweed (sister of Patricia) of Tucson. Pledging was the result of a week of rush this year held during Freshman week. Beta Delta's was most successful under Rose Marie Sanguinetti's leadership.

New women's dormitories at Arizona will house all freshman women, relieving crowded chapter houses.

Beta Delta's alumnae made several delightful changes and additions to the house: new furnishings in the reception hall, living room, and dining room; and, best of all, a full lawn at the side of the house, with a hedge forming a patio, yard furniture, and a lovely ramada in keeping with the Mexican architecture of the house.

Graduation last spring took Anna Jane Hill, Virginia Sparr, Betsy Carson, and Muriel Kerby. Both Anna Jane and Muriel were elected to Phi Kappa Phi and earned high distinction in scholarship. Helene Wille and Alice Walker, who also received degrees, returned for graduate work. They, along with several non-graduating seniors, were entertained at a Sob Breakfast given by the alumnae. The chapter also misses Pauline Davis, attending Pasadena Playhouse; Jeanette Baskin and Beverley Gibson, in business college in Phoenix; Margaret Harvey, attending Kansas; and Helen Sheafe, at Stanford.

This year we welcome Dorothy Grabill, transfer from Denison; Florence McCutchan, from Pennsylvania State; and Louise Lebrecht, from Kansas.

Beta Delta is happy to announce the affiliation of Jane Chilcott from Delta; and the initiation of Josephine Scoville, Lesta Lou Welch, and Caroline Carson.

Theta won the cup for the interfraternity

Sing, a campus event sponsored by F.S.T.

Phoebe Peyton and Suzanne Hamilton were elected to Spurs; Laura Morgan, to Desert Riders; and Rose Marie Sanguinetti to F.S.T. and to Student administration board as junior council member.

We are happy to have as house mother this year Mrs K. O. Puckett.

Beta Delta is ready and anxious to share this year in the extraordinary growth of the University of Arizona. Significant symbols of the growth are a splendid new president, Dr Fred Atkinson, new and distinguished faculty members, many new campus buildings, and a football team that is gaining recognition.

BETA EPSILON—Oregon State

When Mrs Athearn visited our chapter last year she asked us to strive for higher scholarship. Although we have to admit our grade average isn't tops at this point, we have succeeded in raising it to a 2.73, and are still going strong. Most responsible for the improvement are those who made a 3.00 or above: Barbara Alexander, Kathleen Aston, Sue Adams, Helen Clarke, Enid Clifford, Eunice Cottrell, Roberta Cook, Ashby Rauch, Mona Sehl, Virginia Stevens, Jane Reynolds, and Alice Weisendanger.

Four strenuous days of fall rushing resulted in the pledging of twelve girls: Betty Bain (sister of Barbara) Mary Bleeg, Alma Hansen, Jean Horton, Jean Meyers, Virginia-lee Shaver, Ruth Stearns, and Dorothy Willis, Portland; Sally McLellen, Bobbe Shinn, Salem; Elspeth Petrie, Honolulu, Hawaii; Maureen Winterbottom, Pasadena, California. Spring term we pledged Helen Powell (sister of Dorla) from Piedmont, California. Just as exciting as a new pledge is Betty West, transfer from Beta Mu, Nevada.

We are happy to have Helen Fifer back with us after a successful term at Merrill-Palmer institute at Detroit, Michigan. She is studying to take her master's degree.

It was exceptionally pleasant to return to the renovated house which awaited us. The upstairs sitting room rated new furniture and venetian blinds. The girls, thinking the recreation room looked a bit drab by comparison, set to work covering the furniture and making new curtains. Their combined efforts produced a gay effect.

BETA ZETA—Oklahoma State

Beta Zeta's rush had a glorious beginning with a carnival, a dude ranch party, and two formal banquets, but it had an even more glorious finish with twenty-eight pledges. Our alumnae planned the parties and helped us a great deal in making them successful. Those formally pledged on September 24 were: Thelma Burnell, Yale; Modjeska Clark, Margaret Ledbetter (sister of Helen) Marilyn Olsen, Winifred Randall, Muriel Ronk (niece of Maude Bandel Kite) Elaine Witt (cousin of Frances Millard, Alpha Phi) Oklahoma City; Olive Meeker, Brittain; Patricia Gosselin, Altus; Roberta Henson (niece of Margaret Henson Green and Margaret Patton Henson, Alpha Omicron) Donna Ruth Jones, Shawnee; Margaret Casey Landers, Lawton; Alice Madden (sister of Mary Lilla) Ardmore; Jean Maggard, Perry; Beverle Martin, Ponca City; Annie Laura Moores, Vian; Rose Marie Price (sister of Mary Jane) Cushing; Jean Steitz, Tulsa; Peggy Tomlinson (sister of Nadine and Elaine) Frederick; Marjorie Wilson, Anadarko; Wanda Worrell, Billings; Hannah Worten, Pawhuska; Pauline Hoel, Cecyl Jones, Jane Thatcher (sister of Mary Katherine, Margaret, and Ruth) Elvira Wallin, Eleanor Young, Margaret Smith (daughter of Anne White Smith, Alpha Omicron) Stillwater.

After receiving the scholarship cup for both semesters last year and many major offices on campus for this year, Beta Zeta feels that its prospects for a successful year are good. Patricia Harrison was elected president of Terpsichorean club and Achofoa, senior women's honor organization, petitioning Mortar board. Lucille Atkins is president of Y.W.C.A.; Alice Margaret Hopkins is president of Choral club; Ruth McIntire is president of Tri Beta, musical organization, and a member of Achofoa. Last spring Lorraine Lierman was chosen the most outstanding sophomore in the school of commerce, and Mary Lenore Currell was elected the outstanding freshman in the school of home economics.

A CHALLENGE

Beta Zeta chapter believes that she has established a "back-to-school" record this fall. Every member who attended school last year, with the exception of the graduates and one other girl, returned this year. Furthermore, Betty Ann Harrison who spent last year at Northwestern, and Marguerite Vandervoort, who worked in Tulsa last year, are with us again. With thirty girls, we practically had a full house before rush started.

Beta Zeta challenges any chapter to beat this record!

At the end of rush week Theta pledged more girls than any other women's fraternity on the campus. After a week of much confusion, buying studio couches and chest of drawers, and after much planning on the part of our house manager, we finally got settled in our rooms. The studio couches are really very comfortable, and we are looking forward to a very successful year.

BETA ETA—Pennsylvania

There is a lot of last year's news to be taken out of mothballs for Beta Eta, so let's begin with spring elections. Florence Froborg will president over the senior class with Dorothy Higman as its treasurer. Betty Sleesman was elected sophomore president and Midge Meyer secretary. Shirley Brown will serve on the class council. Helen Cleaver was elected president of W.A.A. and Peggy Fox manager of hockey.

On top of all these honors came Phi Beta Kappa for Agnes Conant and Mortar board for Helen Cleaver. Betty Hardcastle was elected to Sphinx and key, of which she is now vice-president. Florence Froborg was invited to join the economics honorary society. We were proud to have Barbara Cox, Ingrid Nilen, and Helen Blechschmidt listed among those graduated with major honors.

Agnes Conant, who rated a leave of absence to spend the month of October in France and England, will return to serve as associate editor of Bennett News and as editor of the year book, of which your chapter editor is business manager.

Our last official meeting was at senior supper, when Ruth Hihn was initiated and the seniors received initialed compacts as a little token of appreciation and love from all of us who miss them so.

Now after summers abroad and at home we return to pitch into rushing with the problem of our small house. Plans for an extension have been drawn, so if we can raise the necessary funds we will be boasting of a new chapter room and kitchen. At this point general refinishing is progressing, so by November 8, when the fun begins, we should be looking quite presentable.

BETA THETA—Idaho

Beginning with the Panhellenic tea the night the student special arrived and ending with a formal dinner and pledging five days later, there was inaugurated a short and early rush week. Mrs Temple, new president of District IX, was with us during the first three days of rush week. We were proud to have this chance of getting acquainted with her. Rushing was concluded successfully by the pledging of Virginia Conn and Josephine McKissick, Lewiston; Lucille Marshall, Pierce; Betty Blake, Caldwell; Bette McFarland, Boise; Loeta Akers, and Bertie Barton, Weiser; Betty Hall, Pocatello; Helen Buttram, and Francis Board, Hailey; Sabey Driggs, Gooding; Eileen Adair, Spokane, Washington; and Eleanor Axtell (sister of Mary Axtell and Mildred Axtell Hensley) Moscow.

Before the close of college last spring Pat Churchill, Orofino; Betty Robb, Cascade; and Anna Claire Herman, Butte, Montana, were formally pledged.

our new house mother. The girls agree she is most charming and capable.

We are happy to have with us Helen Wright, transfer from the University of California at Los Angeles.

Mary Harvey was initiated September 22, 1937.

Mary and Maxine McFarland were initiated into Spur, sophomore women's service society, which the night following serenaded campus. Patricia Churchill was elected to Idaho Vandaleers, a select group of 24 singers. We are proud that she is the fifth Theta member of this group. We are still beaming with pride over Louise Paulsen, new Mortar board, and Doris Dawson, Cardinal Key initiate.

During Home-coming game, September 25, H. C. Dale, recently appointed president of the university, dedicated the new stadium. As a fitting climax we won the game from Oregon State.

Thetas who graduated in June are Anna Brende, Ann Curtis, Eldene Gove, Jean Graham, Cecilia Hurley, Dorothy Lenfest, Beth Loomis, Erma Lewis, Marguerite Manion, Carol Jean Samm, Kathleen Samm, and Ellamae Walters.

MARY E. HARVEY

BETA IOTA—Colorado

Thrilled with new furniture for the entire second floor, Beta Iota resumes its fall activities. In addition to the new suites for each upstairs room, we may boast of a newly decorated sun-room. The love-seats are covered with yellow and blue slip-covers to match the yellow lining of our trophy case.

Those honored at the senior breakfast on May 23 were: Constance Venable, Betty Lou Bemis, Alice Anderson, Lorraine Lund, Beatrice Riede, Betty Jane Smith, Helen Swearingen, and Elizabeth Voorhees. The senior breakfast was the scene of a delightful surprise, as Maxie Park and Annabelle Turner announced their engagements.

Beta Iota is exceedingly pleased to announce the pledging of the following girls: Mary Jean Colvin, Eva Moore, Denver; Margaret Ann Stryker, Boulder; Vina Merrifield, Rocky Ford; Alma Mae Graves, Grand Junction; Emmy Jane Fritch, Colorado Springs; Gretchen Etter, Loveland; Faye Cryslar (cousin of Ruth Stephenson) Englewood; Margaret Beard, Jean Gillette, Kansas City, Missouri; Marian Boyle, Los Angeles; Dorothy Jean Claus (sister of Margaret, Alpha Rho) Sioux Falls, South Dakota; Verlaine Hinley, Ogden, Utah; Mae Kephart (former pledge at Beta Kappa) Mitchellville, Iowa; Barbara Kinsley, Evanston, Illinois; Betty Jane Richards, Salina, Kansas; Edna Richmond (sister of Irene, Tau) Thermopolis, Wyoming; Betty Stabler, Long Beach, California; and Marjorie Summers, Omaha, Nebraska.

Spring honors awarded to Thetas on the campus included the pledging of Patty Barnard and Reges Clark to Spur, national sophomore honorary; the election of Ruth Macmillan as the best dressed girl on the campus; and the selection of Rosemary Orsborn as track Queen. At the annual Colorado U. day, May 26, we were awarded second place in the song fest with our interpretation of Dream of Love, and third place for our float. The float, entitled "Coronation Waltz," consisted of a large golden crown studded with cellophane gems.

Betty Lou Bemis is studying this year at the University of Paris, to which she was awarded a scholarship last spring.

Beta Iota is very happy to welcome Marjorie Stockwell, transfer from Beta Xi, and Lorene Baker, transfer from Beta Beta.

BETA KAPPA—Drake

Theta's black and gold again waves over the Drake scholarship cup. Elected to Phi Beta Kappa were Lois Harris, Elizabeth Fields, and Sue Simpson Brock. Lois Harris also has these honors: elected to Who's Who on campus, Drake beauty, hostess to the Drake Relays Queen, Frances Rather of the University of Texas. Topaz Riles is Miss Drake of 1937, topping the campus beauties.

The dramatic society, Theta Alpha Phi, elected Betty Cubbage, Topaz Riles, and Lois Bumgardner. The two professional dramatic clubs have Thetas as their presiding officers: Erna Warren of Zeta Phi Eta, and Lois Bumgardner of Phi Mu Gamma. Membership in Sieve and Shears, achievement organization, was given Alice Yost, Lois Bumgardner, and Eloise Marsh, elected president of the group. Ethyl Chorpenning won the highest score in the intramural archery tournament. Margaret Woodrow won third place. Theta won the deck-tennis tournament and had the champion baseball team.

We lost through graduation Florence Laffer, Charlotte Parker, Juliette Pitts, Lois Harris, Frances Wragg, Margaret Clemmens, Elizabeth Fields, and Sue Simpson Brock. We are glad to have added to our chapter Beulah Moore, transfer from Beta Theta.

We are happy to welcome our new house mother, Mrs B. C. Stocking from Omaha, Nebraska.

We are thrilled to announce our pledge list: Vera Jacobs (sister of Hazel) Hot Springs, Arkansas; Madeline Flint, Bethany, Missouri; Julia Jean Rowe, Indianapolis, Indiana; Helen Smitley, Logansport, Indiana; Jane Mills, Park Ridge, Illinois; Katherine Rose, Story City; Mary Sybil Forbes, Poca-hontas; Kathryn Fisher, Eagle Grove; Betty Posten, Corydon; Jane Pitts (sister of Juliette) Betty Williams (sister of Mary) Mitzi Gould, Nancy Fifield, Marjorie Rock, Lucille Schoen, Nancy Gill, Martha Jane Backman, Polly Frost, Eleanor Miller, Margaret Beck-told, Margerite Sternberg, and Ruth Jones, Des Moines.

BETA LAMBDA—William and Mary

Since October 22 we have been in a mad whirl of rushing. We had our usual tea for the rushees October 3. Preferential is to be October 8, a Theta camp, complete with pine trees, a pup tent, toasted marshmallows, and Barbara Bundy as head councilor with long black stockings.

Of course we miss the nine girls who graduated in June; Mary Parker, Doris Campbell, Anne Seely, Connie Land, Nelia Beverly, Bertie Fox Courtney, Ellen Latané, and Marguerite Blackwood. Jane, Mary, Connie and Mary Hoffman have returned for short visits and brought news of the others. Three are teaching; Bertie Fox Courtney in Warsaw, Connie Land in Gloucester Point, and Marguerite Blackwood in Norfolk. Nelia Beverly is attending the University of Chicago. Anne Seely has just returned from Bermuda and recently joined the Junior League of Newark. Ellen Latané and Nannie Smoot are at the School for medical secretaries in Richmond. We also miss several undergraduates who did not return—Elizabeth Herman, Janet McKinley, Janet Amundsen and Millie Page.

Last spring we won a plaque for first place in intramural athletics.

Carol McCoy is secretary-treasurer of the International relations club, president of Scarab society, and a member of Senior Tribunal. Sally Hall is junior member of the Honor council and a freshman sponsor. Elizabeth Jane Cooke is vice-president of Boot and Spur club. Gertrude McCallum is secretary of the Clayton-Grimes Biological club and a member of Phi Sigma (honorary biological society). Ada Stuart is treasurer of the German club. Gwen Evans is a member of the cast of the first play of the season, The night of January 16.

Three Thetas are on the Dean's list: Carol McCoy, Roberta Rosendale and Jean Clarahhan.

Virginia Martin, who was pledged in 1935 and did not return to William and Mary last year, returned this fall and has been repledged.

JEAN CLARAHAN

1 October 1937

Married: Sarah Virginia Dobbs to Louis Alec Blank.—Helen Vivian Singer to Lieut. Robert F. Moore, July 17. Ft. Monroe, Va.—Ellen Ticer to Stanley King.—Mary M. Etheredge to Richard M. Cooke, Apr. 17. 342 W. Freemason st. Apt. 6, Norfolk, Va.

New addresses: Elizabeth Scott Hamlin (Mrs P. G.) Crownsville State Hospital, Crownsville, Md.

Elizabeth Herman is at Katharine Gibbs school in Boston; Nancy Mason at Edgewood Park school in Briarcliff Manor, N.Y.; Janet McKinley at Penn Hall junior college in Chambersburg, Pa.

BETA MU—Nevada

After a thrilling rush season we held our preferential dinner at the chapter house for twenty-two lovely girls. They are: Mary Arentz (sister of Cornelia) Caroline Best (sister of Elizabeth) Annie Laurie Ballom, Helen Cameron (sister of Jean) Jean Cook, Thelma Crosby, Katherine Dalzell, Katherine Devlin, Merian Ducker, Georgia Ereno, Isabel Fairhurst, Betty Fodrin, Margery Gusewelle, Betty Hardy, Jean Henderson, Lois Holcomb (sister of Janet) Lucille Hewes, Inabelle Jarvis (sister of Laurada) Shirley Marshall, Sally Robinson, Eileen Smith, Kathleen Starratt.

Beta Mu is proud of her scholastic average which has led the campus for the fourth consecutive semester.

Peggy Gill holds the office of president of the Fine Arts group. Helen Brown and Frances Cafferata were bid to Campus Players. Elizabeth Best received membership into Cap and Scroll honorary society. Aldene Branch was elected vice president of the home economics club.

We are happy to have Doris Bath, who attended Oregon State last year, with us again.

The intramural swimming meet was again won by Theta and the cup remains on our mantel. Emily Tholl and Betty Anderson held high honors.

BETA NU—Florida

We started the year with a flourish, pledging 31 girls: Ruth Mesker, Mary Elizabeth Baker, Frances Kirkland, Eleanor Beckstrom, Eleanor Knowles, Betty Gamble, Mary Connell, Meredith Rentz, Rosemary Bash, Miami; Christine Russ, Leesburg; Christine Bryan, Ft. Lauderdale; Betty Estes, Haines City; Geraldine Williams, Martha Broyles, Umatilla; Elizabeth Miller, Sara Frances Blackwell, West Palm Beach; Jarret Parker, Dea Neal, Nelle Loyless, Arcadia; Ilma LaBarr, Asheville, North Carolina; Katherine Summers, High Springs; Mary Elizabeth Revero, Tampa; Nancy Knots, Yankeetown; Marie Crouch, Foley; Virginia Hastings, Perry; Allison Harrison, Palmetto; Virginia Balkum, Mary Beth O'Steen, Mary Ann Mc-

Calla, Jacksonville; Maxine Wycoff, and Peggy Sewell, Winter Park. September 23 we entertained them with a delightful banquet at the Floridan hotel.

Our successful rushing season was prefaced with a most satisfying summer. Beta Nu had a grand house party at Miami Beach early in the summer. Several functions for rushees were given there, followed up during the summer by teas, treasure hunts, and breakfasts in their honor.

We have with us Katherine Skehan from Iota as a co-organizer. She is meeting with a great deal of success.

Last spring we were delighted to have Mrs Grasett visit us. We gave a reception and garden party for her. Her visit inspired us with new zeal and we expect to go places this year. At Mrs Grasett's suggestion, we have given several parties for other groups on campus, for the purpose of strengthening friendships among fraternities. This year we have entertained Alpha Delta Pi and Alpha Xi Delta.

Thetas who took part in May Day were: Dorothy Barr, Patricia Barringer, and Patricia Hamilton, and Marie Taylor as a maid to the Queen.

Kitty Craney was tapped by the honorary educational society.

Ten Thetas graduated: Mary Enneis, Clarice Sanchez, Mary Lee Hopkins, Banks Wood, Marie Taylor, Margaret Reedy, Barbara Bandy, Mary Ann Hills, Virginia Hamilton, and Madge Williams.

Dorothy Barr was elected chairman of Junior minstrels. Pat Campbell and Martha Hague are freshman councilors.

New York, N.Y.—Christine Armbruster Sellers (Mrs Preston) 221 Judson hall, Southern Baptist Theological seminary, Louisville, Ky.

BETA XI—California at Los Angeles

Although mid-terms raised Beta Xi from eighteenth to fifth position scholastically, the lure of the cool Pacific and the anticipation of graduation and vacation brought us down to twelfth place. That gives us much more room for improvement!

In June, Eleanor Dietrich, Ruth Heineman, Margaret Klipstein, Janet Knox, Sydney Stalder, Kate Vosburg, Leone Wakefield, Barbara Wilson, and Helen Wright donned Cap and gown and received diplomas.

The corporation board had the inside of our house painted during the summer. We are very grateful, for it helped to impress our "guests." In fact, twenty-three were so impressed that we pledged them. Pledges are: Meri Arms, Mary Helen Barber, Jocelyn Ball, Barbara Butler, Antonia Churchill, Mary Delaney, Julia Dorn, Alice Freese, Margery Hall, Nancy Folks, Helene Hodge, Margherite Gale, Betty Lord, Virginia Maultman, Jean McGregor, Ann Mossgrrove, Ruth Nelson, Lucille Otis, Marjorie Stimmel, Lois Welch, Barbara Williams, Willis Wright, and Aleen Zacher.

Beth Welsh has transferred to U.C.L.A. from Beta Rho, Nancy and Jean Cleveland have come from Alpha Xi.

Virginia Black is a member of Guidon, the junior council and is on the organization control board. Minta Bonner is a member of Tic Toc and Alpha Delta Chi. Mary Cobb is on the senior council and is a member of Tic Toc. Hazel Kelley was elected to Upsilon Phi Sigma. Martha Klipstein was appointed chairman of the election committee. Martha Otis was elected treasurer of the Associated women students, and Alpha Chi Delta, and was appointed sales manager of the southern campus and official advisor of Spurs. Emily Sedgwick was elected to Phi

BETA OMICRON—Iowa

A happy vacation over, the eighteen girls returning to Beta Omicron were proud to find a new built-in bookcase and a new wine rug for the parlor.

Last spring our house mother entertained our mothers and her friends at a lovely tea. It was a very successful way of having mothers of Beta Omicron meet.

On May 21 Kathleen Waters of Sebring, Florida, was pledged.

This summer nine girls from this chapter attended the District convention at Lake Okoboji. We have profited much by their attendance and plan to put into action many of their suggestions.

On September 23 after a most successful four days of rushing we pledged twenty-four girls: Eleanor Bjorklund (sister of Elaine) Oelwein; Martha Teeters (sister of Frances) St. Louis, Missouri; Helen Banger (daughter of Irene Cox Banger) Chicago, Illinois; Marjorie Alberti and Eleanor Deitchler, Council Bluffs; Miriam Barnes, Clinton; Phyllis Cain and Maxine Fuchs, Mason City; Marion Capwell and Jeanne Gilchrist, Iowa Falls; Ruth Christianson, Bismarck, North Dakota; Marion Jacob, Park Ridge, Illinois; Janice James, Macomb, Illinois; Winifred Johnson, Blue Island, Illinois; Mary Irene McLaughlin, Cedar Rapids, Marjorie Meerdink, Davenport; Dorothy Pardon, Iowa City; Caroline Reifel, Red Oak; Virginia Synder and Cleo Wales, Centerville; Muriel Walzem, Rock Island, Illinois; Marianne Woodhouse, Port Arthur, Texas; Dorothy Price, Cheyenne, Wyoming, last spring a pledge of Beta Kappa, was repledged by Beta Omicron.

We were exceedingly lucky during rushing to have with us Virginia Grimm, District president, and Mary Sanderson, Mary Lou Dunkel, and Margaret Leeming of South Side Chicago alumnae.

Transfers who are with us this year are Margaret Clary of Rho and Betty Miller of Beta Kappa.

The first social event of the year will be open house October 2.

RACHAEL MATTHEWS

Louise Stedman, 327 E. 1st, Moscow, Idaho, is teaching textiles and clothing at the University of Idaho.

BETA PI—Michigan State

Thirty girls returned September 13 to fill the house, all eager with the anticipation of fall rushing. Marjorie Gilray, Dorothy Haselbring, Marian Radcliff, Jean Bradley, Vivian Knepp and Geraldine Paul have all been a great help in carrying out ideas for rushing parties which were suggested to them at District convention at Catawba Cliffs in June. Our parties have been varied; a hill-billy party, S.S. Theta sailor party, Star Dust, and the Black and Gold club. Being in our new home has made rushing easier and much more pleasant for us and for the rushees than in former years. Our formal preference dinner is Friday, October 1, and formal pledging takes place the following Monday.

Two last year's seniors, June Svoboda, of Grand Rapids, and Catharine Wallace, of Saginaw, have been married within the last two weeks. This, of course, added to the general excitement in the house of getting back to school and rushing. We regret that Mary Milward, who would have been a senior this year, did not come back, as she is being married on October 16. Our fall term party is to be held October 9 in honor of the pledges.

MARIAN RICHARDSON

28 September 1937

Married: Catharine Wallace to Dr Eugene Albert Hand, in September. 716 S. Warren av. Saginaw, Mich.

Born: To Mr and Mrs Walter Neller (Frances Harvey) a son, Richard W. July 15.—To Mr and Mrs L. B. Whelan (Helen Richey) a son, Howard, June 16.

New addresses: Adelia Beeuwkes, University Hospital, Ann Arbor, Mich.—Jean Blocksma Boelkins (Mrs R. C.) 739 S. Prospect av. Grand Rapids, Mich.—Alice Newman Bradley (Mrs Mark) Scott Field, Belleville, Ill.—Evelyn Hardy Lawford (Mrs H. L.) 137 Whitmore st. Pontiac, Mich.

BETA RHO—Duke

Rushing begins September 30, and it is with confidence that we enter into the new period with Mary Louise Idema as rush captain.

Campus offices for the year 1937-38 are many and varied. Mary Brent Holland is president of the Women's student government association.

The Y.W.C.A. has as vice-president, Mary Elizabeth Carter; as co-chairman of the social committee, Carolyn Breedlove and Mary Biddle; and as chairman of the worship committee, Carol Strauss. The sophomore commission of the organization has Ann Rauchenberg as vice-president, Sue Dalton as secretary and treasurer, and Janet Haas.

The Women's athletic association is headed by Joan Bliss and has for treasurer Frances Briggs.

Jean McDonald has been elected business manager of the Duke Players; Jane Fite, chairman of the student forum committee; Mary Bell, treasurer of the music study club; and Rosana Brewer, president of Sandals, honorary sophomore organization.

Our representatives to the social standards committee are: Mary Biddle, Jane Fite, and Margaret White, the latter serving in the capacity of secretary.

Beta Rho will miss Beth Welsh, Sally Robertson, Betty Aiken, Jean Kauwenhoven, and Alice Roper, who failed to return this year.

Charlotte Marshall led Beta Rho to second place in the annual sing, sponsored by Kappa Gamma late in the spring.

We are looking forward with a great deal of pleasure to Home-coming, October 9, which is the Duke-Tennessee game. A number of the old girls are making plans to return for that occasion.

Josephine Glass was a welcome visitor last week.

LOULA SOUTHGATE

28 September 1937

Married: Charlotte Amelia Marshall to William E. Woodruff,  $\Phi \Delta \Theta$ , Aug. 21. 1021 Markham av. Durham, N.C.—Pauline McFadyen to Jesse Lee Finch, in June. 100 School st. Thomasville, N.C.

—Frances Byrd Winston to Alfred John Harding, Sept. 18. Dolly Madison apts. Greensboro, N.C.—Sue Hardy to George Brownell.—Edna Hayes Love to Wilson Adams.

Born: To Lieutenant and Mrs C. E. Kasperek (Catherine Fleming) a daughter, Sept. 6.—To Mr and Mrs Edward K. Graham (Elizabeth McFadyen) a daughter, Susan Elizabeth, Aug. 1. 318 Elmwood, Ithaca, N.Y.—To Mr and Mrs Thomas T. Jones (Mary Cuyler Scanlon) a son, Carter Randolph Jones, July 14.

New addresses: Audrey Speicher Byrne (Mrs W. D.) 11 Sheldon av. New Rochelle, N.Y.—Mary Carolyn Seed Cox (Mrs R. C.) Box 245, Canyon, Tex.—Julia Leggett Grant (Mrs Thomas A.) care Belk-Leggett Co. Henderson, N.C.—Ethel Williams, 63 Washington av. Cambridge, Mass.

BETA SIGMA—Southern Methodist

Rushing activities were brought to a close with the introduction of fifteen "prize" pledges to the fraternity men at open house at the home of Louise Corrigan on September 25. The pledges: Anna Claire Heard (sister of Claudia) Corpus Christi; Anne Frazier Crowley, Kitty Edwards, Jean Griffin, Jane Plowman, Sybil Roan, Martha Stahl, and Gloria van Slyck, Dallas; Janet Aiken, San Angelo; Norma Bates, Jefferson City, Missouri; Ella Marie Cain, Sulphur Springs; Carolyn Senter, Forney; Elizabeth Perkins, Wichita Falls; Frances Sybert, Hallville; and Gwen Voelcker of Wichita Falls.

Beta Sigma lost Robena Ashburn, Mary Boren, Merene Gladden, Maybeth Smyth, and Dorothy Wathen by graduation. We miss Blanche Riddle, transferred to the University of Texas, and Mary Zanes, pledge, transferred to Chevy Chase in Washington, D.C., but for consolation we welcome Jerry Bogges and Josephine Marchman from Beta Beta, Wilmanell Gladden (returning from Newcomb) Mary Louise Griesenbeck, transfer pledge from Alpha Phi, and Jean Crawford from Alpha Theta.

We are delighted to announce that Geline Young was elected after a hot political campaign last spring to the office of secretary of the student body. Another of our accomplishments was moving up our scholastic standing from seventh to fourth place among women's fraternities on campus.

The girls who attended District convention at Galveston this summer have been so enthusiastic about it that they are already talking about national convention next summer.

JERRY HUFFINGTON

29 September 1937

BETA TAU—Denison

May day attendants to the Queen were Gertrude Lozier, Eleanor Potter, and Grace Montgomery.

Our freshmen climaxed a profitable year when Betty Cowman, Betty Klemm, Marjorie Merchant, and Betty Taylor were initiated into Phi society, freshman scholastic honorary.

We were all bursting with pride when in the spring elections, Thetas won elections for many important offices. Janet Shepard was elected president of the Women's athletic association; Betty Shoemaker was chosen president of Panhellenic council; Helen Jones was selected as president of Mortar board as well as vice-president of Y.W.C.A., Evelyn Murton and Betty Shoemaker were also tapped into Mortar board, and the former chosen treasurer of Y.W.C.A.; Helen Clements was selected as senior class representative on Judiciary, and Libby Way as junior class representative of Student council and treasurer of Crossed Keys, junior honorary.

We were all proud when our own Dot Williams (Mrs Russel) was elected president of District III at District convention in June.

We wish to announce the pledging of Dorothy Prichard, Columbus, Ohio, September 26.

BETA UPSILON—British Columbia

May 8 we opened camp at Crescent Beach. Most of the members of the college chapter were there for at least part of the two weeks, and the alumnae paid us visits on the weekends. Every one seemed to enjoy lazing around, knitting, playing cards, or golfing on the sands.

Our six graduating members, Kathleen Armstrong, Josephine Dickie, Catharine Mackintosh, Marguerite Manson, Betty Street, and Helen Westby, were given silver spoons stamped with the Kappa Alpha Theta crest at the breakfast we gave in their honor on May 6. Kathleen Armstrong is back on the campus taking social service, and Kathleen Taylor is back completing her public health course.

Beta Upsilon is proud of Lillian Boyd, who reached the quarter finals this summer in the Canadian Women's open golf tournament.

For some time during the summer the members in town met every week or so at a beach party, to which each person brought home-made salad, rolls, pie, or cake. We were pleased to have Jean MacDonald of Alpha Lambda at one of these.

Packed into one week of this month were the three lovely weddings of Audrey Robarts, Minerva Robson, and Molly Eakins, who arranged to meet in San Francisco during their honeymoons in the South.

JOANNE BROWN

BETA PHI—Penn State

First, we want to tell all of you the good news that is inspiring us. Penn State was recognized by Phi Beta Kappa after the secret ballot taken Thursday, September 9. This has been a long unfulfilled wish of the college and now to be voted second highest among the eight selected institutions makes everything else in the nature of an anticlimax. And while we are speaking of scholarship, we must mention that Beta Phi was second in scholarship among women's fraternities last semester with a 1.89 average. Highest honors went to Phi Mu with her 1.98 average.

Naturally, with the new year beginning, we turn our minds to rushing and new faces—of which there are many, and nice ones too. At present, because it is early in the season and the freshmen are just becoming settled, only the members of the sophomore honorary fraternity, the big sisters, and the senior sponsors are allowed to contact the girls. But after Thanksgiving we'll all go to work, or play. If you remember, our rushing code is different from many others. We don't do our intense rusing or pledge until February.

Virginia White is attending New York University. Florence McCutchen has left for the University of Arizona. Betty Evans is taking an art course in Philadelphia.

Great was our surprise and joy to return to a renovated house. Much papering and painting has gone on during our absence. A concrete porch has been constructed, and new electrical equipment has been installed. No more unsightly cords stretched from one end of the room to the other.

A girls' dormitory which, it is rumored, will have a telephone in every room, is being built directly behind our house. Every morning blasting and drilling begins at 7 A.M. They tell us that this will continue all during the winter.

The graduates of last spring have turned to teaching practically en masse. Among the new teachers are Mary Lou Freer and Betty McFarland at State College, Mary Frances Pomeroy at Troy, Jean Kriebel at North Wales, Jean Hoover at Glenn Mills, Jane Woolridge at Clearfield, Mary Swope at Hanover, and Harriet Lamb at Natalie. It's not often that one graduating class can boast so many educators.

BETA CHI—Alberta

After a five months' vacation, we are happy to be back at classes again and filled with enthusiasm for rushing which has just begun. New rushing rules set by Panhellenic are proving successful. During the two weeks of formal rushing each of the four women's fraternities on the campus have three full days, and one day also is set aside for preference teas to which a girl may accept only two invitations. May our kite come through with flying colors!

For varsity opening, the chapter entertained alumnae and mothers at a house-warming tea; Mrs Flint, our new house mother, received. Informal rushing during the summer included dinner parties and a large tea for graduating high school girls.

We are proud to announce the pledging of Mary Trusdale on September 25, and the initiation on October 3 of Marion Carlyle, Esme Malloch and Peggy Murray.

MARION WILLIAMS

6 October 1937

Recent visitors have been Zelma Thompson Goldsworthy, Mary Smith Healy, St. Paul, and Jessie Baxter, B Ψ, from Montreal. We are looking forward to visits from Kathleen Beach, Helen Aikenhead, Mary MacMillan, Helen Hollands Geisinger, and Mary Slattery who are expected for rushing.

BETA PSI—McGill

We are missing our sister Thetas who have passed this year into the realms of the alumnae. The majority of them are in the teaching profession. Barbara Millar has a school in Lachute, Quebec; Marguerite DuBois is a French specialist in a New Brunswick private school; Ruth Edmison and Margaret Lockhart are teaching in Montreal.

In June, fifteen members of Beta Psi motored down to Burlington to the convention of District IV, and were treated royally by the Thetas of Lambda. We were represented at the installation of Gamma Epsilon by Aileen Jackson, who brings us enthusiastic reports of the forty-three new initiates.

AUDREY MARTIN

BETA OMEGA—Colorado College

We were extremely happy to have Mrs Moore, new District president, with us during rushing.

Beta Omega is proud and happy to announce the pledging of twenty-three splendid girls: Betty Abbott, Wynette Benedict, Peggy Keyes, Arline Lewis, Jane Priest, Betty Teats, and Shirley Wright, Colorado Springs; Ann Barteldes (daughter of Josephine Martin Barteldes, Kappa) Ida Louise Monzingo, Littleton; Betty Anrud, Virginia Gray, Priscilla Ryder, Winifred Kennedy, Edith Milne, and Jane Walters, Denver; Charlotte Cook, Las Animas; Beth Ann Leeper, Fort Warren, Wyoming; Barbara Bayard, Winnetka, Illinois; Eleanor Chapman, Pueblo; June Gooch, Estes Park; Beth Gleason, Burlington; Harriet Sorrelle (sister of Viola, Alpha Eta) Brownsville, Tennessee; Kay Sparrow, Parsons, Kansas.

We feel greatly the loss of Lucile Hampton, Maidle Rothgerber, and Ruth Ann Johnson, who graduated last June. We also miss Mary Ann MacBride, Sue Williams, Felicia Mongone, and Charlotte Pendergrast, but we are looking forward to their return second semester.

Our spring formal was held high a-top Cheyenne mountain; decorations were superfluous, for the natural beauty of the surroundings was superb. A buffet supper was served at midnight.

The college has just opened a new student union building, which will doubtless be the source of many large social gatherings this year.

The girls in the chapter were given a happy surprise on their return to school, to find a grand new frigidaire and new curtains gracing their kitchen. Not to stop at that in the living-room was a lovely new davenport and a chair to match. Many thanks to our alumnæ.

GAMMA GAMMA—Rollins College

Gamma Gamma had a successful spring term. Thetas were outstanding in sports. Priscilla Smith and Anne Whyte were awarded Blazers, signifying they had been members of six varsity teams. Carl Good was on the varsity fencing team, and Catherine Burgher on the riding team. Betty Mower was tennis champion, and Betty Myers was golf champion. Theta won the volleyball tournament. Ar Brennan, Priscilla Smith, Sarah Smith and Mary Acher put forth their all to win the coveted swimming meet. Priscilla was high-point girl of the entire meet. At Honors day, Thetas were awarded various cups, and the Landers trophy, the athletic championship award for the whole year.

Mary Acher and Betsy Skinner are members of the social science society, Pi Gamma Mu. Betty Mower was tapped for the Order of Libra, and was awarded the Phi Mu trophy given "in recognition of the highest ideals in women's athletics: versatility, leadership and good-sportsmanship." Jane Russell was voted a member of the Order of the cat and the fox.

In the literary field, Louise Macpherson Deming (Mrs Olcott) and Frances Perpende were awarded Flamingo keys for outstanding work on the college magazine, of which Frances was editor. Frances also was awarded the Howard Fox literary prize for the best piece of literature produced by a Rollins student.

Betty Myers is president of the Women's "R" club, which supervises women's intramural athletics.

This summer, Dorothy Hildreth entertained the chapter at a house party at Rex Terrace, Michigan. Needless to say, we enjoyed ourselves to the utmost.

GAMMA DELTA—Georgia

"Did you ever think as the days went by that pledging day was drawing nigh?" We did, and in about two seconds you're going to realize it too. Honestly, our pledges are beautiful—physically, mentally and socially. (Just that old Theta pride, you know.)

Pledges: Daphne Parks, Dorothy Philpot, Anne Thrasher, Josephine Huddleson, Athens; Mary Hodgson, Atlanta; Sadie Hodgson, Meridian, Mississippi; Ann Price, Miami, Florida; Betty Jones, Decatur; Sylvia Edwards, St. Louis, Missouri; Ann Minter, Greenville, South Carolina; Grace McClatchey (sister of Adolyn McClatchey Jones, Alpha Phi) Helen Redding, Frances Marchmont, Atlanta; Emma Bowen, Chickamauga; Julia Anne Mohley, Stone Mountain; Eleanor Maddox, Savannah; Margie Shmisser, Belford, Illinois; Charleston Helms, Brunswick.

While you're taking time out to breathe, after all the excitement, let us take time to thank Vanderbilt for Juanita Roberts and Kathryn Swiggart, who gave us vim, vigor, vitality and pledges.

The most attractive party we had was a Hollywood party. We took real movie screen tests of the rushees and showed them three days later. We gave them pictures of movie stars and screen contracts to the Theta studio.

Honest "injun," next time we'll talk about something besides our pledges but this time we just couldn't help it. Please don't fuss at us, we're so thrilled.

GAMMA EPSILON—Western Ontario

The charter members of Gamma Epsilon are still overcome with the honour and responsibility which has been given them. The week-end of September 18, when the charter was presented, was a memorable one, too exciting to be thoroughly appreciated, but a source of wonderful memories.

May I present some of Gamma Epsilon's charter members? Margaret Homuth is subprefect of the university, highest position a woman can hold in student government. She is also the only woman on the students' athletic directorate. Verta Kenerson is secretary of the university students' commission, the only position on that body open for a woman. She is president of the Women's athletic association as well. Members of the Students' administrative assembly and year executives are Jean Ferguson and Creena Wallace. Jean Lemon, our vice-president, is a member of the women's council.

The Gazette, university paper, has on its staff Bethea McGill as book reviewer, Verta Kenerson as women's sports editor and Jean Ferguson as feature editor. The senior basketball team, champions of the intercollegiate league, includes Mary Cardiff, Margaret Homuth and Creena Wallace.

We are proud of our scholastic standing, highest among women's fraternities on the campus. We are proud, too, of the two French scholarships in oral French won by Alice Lethbridge, the prize in spoken French won by Patricia Duff, the English and French scholarship captured by Jean Ferguson, and the French and German scholarship given to Jean Lemon.

September 27 was the date of Gamma Epsilon's first pledging. The pledges are: Frances Smythe, Marian Luney, Barbara Govan, Shirley Messer, London; Frances Powell, Erieau; Doris Eagles, Meaford; Rhett Barss, Owen Sound; Lois Croft, Maidstone; Lila Steer, Mount Bridges; Margaret Castle, Milton; Florence Elliott, Ingersoll; and Marian Anderson, Regina, Sask. Pledged later was Margaret Craig.

Last year's graduates include Lydia Trimble, gold medalist in English, Margaret Tape, Ruth Davis, Evelyn Steer, Jean McKenzie, Dorothy Geoghegan, Dorothy Timpany, and Jean Marshall.

Kappa Alpha Theta, we bring you our best.

The fraternity house today which does not have a library is derelict of its opportunities. The chapter library should be a room apart from the game room, the music room or the card room, although each has its place. In the library should not only be a few good reference books and selected subjects in various fields of thought and learning but, almost more important than the books in the fraternity house library are the magazines and newspapers. The college man who fails to develop an interest in current news and literature will find himself lost in a practical world after college. The man who has not developed a taste for the knowledge of the past is in no sense an educated man, and does not deserve the oft misused title of "a college man." The man who does not know the joy of relaxation in the dim seclusion of a room surrounded by good books will miss one of life's greatest recreations.

Indianapolis .....	Publicity
Spokane .....	Ways and Means
Nashville .....	Ways and Means
Los Angeles .....	Undergraduate Loans Chairman

Los Angeles Committee:

Chairman: Grace W. Lavayea, 836 South Irolo st. Los Angeles, Calif.

Secretary: Helen Pratt, 1257 4th av. Los Angeles, Calif.

Financial Secretary: Ray Hanna, 216 S. Manhattan pl. Los Angeles, Calif.

Procedure for application. For information and application blanks, for undergraduate loans, write the corresponding secretary, Miss Helen Pratt, 1257 4th av. Los Angeles, Calif. A clear statement concerning needs, activities, health, scholarship, amount desired, and prospects for repayment will aid the committee in consideration of an application. Letters of recommendation from the chapter president and from an alumna adviser are requested. Loans are made for $50 and larger amounts. Interest is 4 per cent payable annually. Endorsement of note of beneficiary by two financially responsible parties, preferably Thetas, is required. Each applicant is considered as a special case. Money is available for loans. Applications will be accepted from graduate students as well as undergraduates.

All checks for gifts to the Fund should be made payable to Los Angeles alumnae of Kappa Alpha Theta and sent to the financial secretary, Miss Ray Hanna, 216 S. Manhattan pl. Los Angeles, Calif.

A contribution to this Fund is a gift in perpetuity. The Fund is constantly revolving; it is never spent. Fellowships are maintained only by accrued interest on principal. The Loan and fellowship committee endeavors to meet the pressing financial needs of undergraduate Thetas. Without assistance, many Thetas could not obtain their degrees which will increase their earning capacity. Resources within ourselves, developed by education, are of supreme importance in this present reorganization of society. Donors to this Fund are meeting the national challenge for the maintenance of educational standards. They are participating in a creative program, so vital to our fraternity, community, and nation.
